Virginia Kingsbury

In the very beginning of this project we met Ginny (aka Virginia) Kingsbury online and casually mentioned that it would be nice to publish an update to the Kingsbury genealogy. Ginny encouraged us to pursue this idea and over the course of the next eighteen years she was always there to provide whatever encouragement was needed. She was also very helpful in providing information on her family line. This book is the product of good friends like Ginny.

Carole Haines

Carole is one of the co-founders of the Kingsbury History Society in the village of Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England and at this time serves as the chairwoman of the Society. She has done a wonderful job of preserving the history of Kingsbury and much of the early history of the Bracebridge family is the direct result of her research. We have also included an article later in this book written by Carole on the history of Kingsbury Hall. The photo at the right was taken when this author visited Carole and her husband, Rob in 2003.

A work of this size could never have been accomplished without the efforts of a multitude of people. And we must begin by recognizing the great work of the early researchers of the twentieth century. The first major work on the Kingsbury family was A Pendulous Edition of Kingsbury Genealogy compiled by Joseph Addison Kingsbury from the extensive research notes of his father, Rev. Addison Kingsbury, D.D. and published by Murdock-Kerr Press in Pittsburgh 1901. Rev. Kingsbury served as the pastor of the Putnam Presbyterian Church in Zanesville, Ohio for forty years and had an avid interest in the Kingsbury family history. The next major work was The Genealogy of the Descendants of Henry Kingsbury of Ipswich and Haverhill, Massachusetts compiled by Mary Kingsbury Talcott based upon the research of Frederick John Kingsbury and published by Hartford Press in 1905. This work is a very scholarly book on the family history and serves as the backbone to much of what we have been able to accomplish in this twenty-first century update on the family. Mary was the first to really do some extensive research on our English roots and directed us to Kingsbury Hall in Warwickshire, England. And finally we come to Kingsbury Genealogy, the Genealogy of the Descendants of Joseph Kingsbury of Dedham, Massachusetts compiled by Arthur Murray Kingsbury and published by Burgess-Beckwith, Incorporated of Minneapolis, Minnesota in 1962. This book by Arthur Kingsbury was the result, in part, of an enormous letter writing program to researchers from all over the United States adding a whole new dimension to the previous works. He also introduced us to our Canadian Kingsbury cousins.

There have been several smaller works on specific branches of the family. Notable are those written and published by Frank Burnside Kingsbury, and we have incorporated all these into the compilation of the work. Credit needs to also be given to the many unpublished genealogies on the specific branches of the Kingsbury family that so many of you have been gracious enough to share with me and are now part of this whole project. I would like to specifically mention the unpublished works of Arthur French Kingsbury, Carole Haines, Erwin Smith Kingsbury, Richard Lee Kingsbury, and William Andrew Kingsbury. There were many others and I do sincerely appreciate all those that shared this information with me, but these stand out and deserve to be mentioned here.

Finally we must give credit to the massive amount of information that has been shared with this researcher over the internet. There are so many that we could not possibly mention them all here, but without the sharing from each and every one this book could never have been produced. We would estimate that over the course of our eighteen year project we have shared information with approximately 1,000 individuals and are still in communication with 350 regularly. A few need to be mentioned here because of their exceptional efforts and willingness to share. First I would mention Peter Washburn, the newspaper photographer and historian from Bracebridge, Lincolnshire, England who sent huge packets of information to this perfect stranger in America. Alan Worrall living in Australia did the same and added so much on our information of the Bracebridge side of the family. Bill Crider of Texas deserves credit for introducing us to the possibilities of the DNA genealogical research program. Harriet Rockwell and Doyle Smith are credited with helping this researcher break a 12 year stumbling block in my own personal ancestral line. Bob White and Ed Bracebridge contributed greatly to our current information on the Bracebridge line. Warren Kingsbury, Bob Fortier, and Doug Kingsbury all added immeasurably to our knowledge of the Canadian branch of the family. Mary Gaspar and Desiree Roberts filled in a wealth of information on my Michigan roots while Ruth Thoden and James Andrew Kingsbury served as major sources of our New York branches of the family. D. Charles Kingsbury not only shared a wealth of information on our Indiana Kingsburys, but some of his wonderful art graces the walls of our home. We could go on and I know that I am missing a multitude of names, but just know that many have shared with us and made this project possible. We do thank each and every one of you.

The eighteen participants in the DNA study group have added so very much to the knowledge of our common heritage that we can not possible thank them enough. This new tool for our 21st century genealogical research will continue to help all of us and guide us in new directions.

Finally I want to give a special thanks to those individuals that gave their financial support to this project by becoming investors in the publication. This financial support was vital to the final publication of this work and I do appreciate each and every one of you.

Editorial Comments

In order for the reader to fully comprehend the genealogical portion of this work, a few technical comments are in order. The idea is to present the history of our family in a format compatible with that produced with contemporary genealogy software programs. Little or no effort has been made to alter the text to fit any prose style of the author. Instead we have entered the information into our software program over the course of the past eighteen years and then used the tools available with that software to generate the family narrative. Very early in our research we used the program known as Family Origins as our computer tool in the gathering and organizing of the family history. Family Origins used Formalsoft as the program that converted the information into narrative reports and when Family Origins was bought out and no longer supported, the makers of Formalsoft produced the current program of Roots Magic. It is this program by Roots Magic that we have used to produce the entire genealogical section of this book complete with the numbering system and index.

As you go through the genealogy section of this book you will notice that several of the dates are preceded with abt (about). We have made every effort to place every individual with a certain historical context and thus, when the exact date was unknown to us we made an educated guess of the approximate date in question with this designation. On the place names we have used another tool provided by our genealogy software to give both the city and county names which we hope will prove helpful for future researchers. However, in doing this we must be cognizant of the fact that county boundaries have altered over the course of time and the software program is for the current county lines. Whenever we knew of this distinction we have made every effort to point it out, but obviously we were not able to catch every situation. Also it has been painfully brought to our attention that several states have multiple cities with the same name and this can create some confusion. Therefore we would caution any use of the county names in your ongoing research.

During our research we encountered several unlinked branches of the family and we wanted to make sure that they were recorded here for the benefit of future researchers. As we entered these names into our computer program we needed a tool to make sure they were all attached to the family in some way and kept within the context of their appropriate generational group. To do this we developed an arbitrary family line that runs concurrent with the rest of the Kingsbury and Bracebridge family. We have given the name of Ancestor for the surname of this family group and the given name is simply the approximate date for that generation.

Since this work is the direct result of our modern computer age it has all the advantages and drawbacks of the age as well. Using the email and message boards a vast amount of new information has been added to this work that was not previously available. We trust that this has made our work inclusive and informative, but it also opens the door for the possibility of error. We recognize that there will be some errors due to this effort to be inclusive, but it is our hope that we can provide at the very least a starting point for future researchers. As we made an effort to list the contributors in our source comments you will note that the email address given is the one we had at the time of the contribution. Over time these addresses have changed and we have not attempted to go back in and check the validity of each address.

Finally, we would like to make a comment on our treatment of the female lines in our history. We recognized rather early on that this project had the potential of becoming huge and needed to make some arbitrary limitations. Therefore we made the decision to limit the female lines generally to the immediate family only unless there was some special circumstance for pursuing it further. A good example of what we mean here would be the following of the female line for the first Kingsbury descendant to be married to a seated president of the United States.

We trust that these simple comments will assist you in the reading of this work.

ANALYSIS OF DNA PROGRAM

One of the greatest tools at the disposal of the early 21st century genealogist and historian is that of DNA testing and comparison. We are often faced with the dilemma of trying to ascertain our specific ancestral history with only a few sparse written records. And many times even these records are suspect. A good case in point is the difficulty with the date of birth for my paternal grandmother. According to the written records at our disposal today, we now have at least four very different dates for her birth to choose from. And as we push further back in time we often have the dilemma of attempting to piece together family relationships from ever more sparse records. And it is at this point that the relatively new modern science of DNA analysis can serve as an excellent tool for the historian.

What we have learned from this new science, among other things, is that the so-called sex chromosomes (the Y chromosome for the male and the X chromosome for the female) will pass on for several generations before a change or mutation occurs in one of the strands. Therefore when we conduct a laboratory analysis of the DNA for the Y chromosome of a living member of the Kingsbury family today, we can be assured that the various marker designations should be the same as that of his Great-Great Grandfather. In fact it could even trace the common DNA results for 8 or more generations. The significance of this knowledge comes into focus when we now run the test on a distant cousin with the same distant ancestor. The DNA test results for these two cousins should be identical, or at the very least extremely close. The best example of how this works would be if you look at the preceding chart and compare the results for #13480 and #13524. These two individual participants are 5th cousins with the common ancestors of Benjamin and Sarah (Smith) Kingsbury. Notice that all 25 markers in these two results are identical which confirms that they if fact have this common ancestor. Benjamin Kingsbury was born in 1765, is part of what we call the Vermont branch of the Kingsbury family, and is a direct descendant of Joseph Kingsbury who settled in Dedham, Massachusetts about 1638.

In order for you to fully understand how this DNA analysis can assist in our family research I need to divulge the fact that the test results for #13480 are my personal test results. As I began to research my particular ancestral heritage I very early on hit a major stumbling block with the parentage of my Great-Great grandfather, Stanford A. Kingsbury. Stanford lived most of his adult life in Adrian, Michigan and died there 28 November 1890. We could calculate from his death certificate that he was born 31 December 1832, but we have never been able to find any written record naming his parents. Stanford never owned any real property so we did not have any estate records to help us. We did find one reference to the fact that he may have been born in the state of New York. We also noted that he had one son and another descendant with the middle name of Aden and Arden, so we made the assumption that this was Stanford's middle name as well. Armed with this information we searched the records of the Kingsbury family in New York State for possible family connections and discovered the family of Ardon and Sarah (Howell) Kingsbury in Elmira, New York. We had information that Ardon and Sarah had a mysterious sixth son sometime between 1831 and 1833. Using all this information we proceeded to look for written documentation of this family connection every way we could. Nothing was found to either confirm or deny our theory, but we continued with this assumption for the next 15 years. A good friend of mine and fellow Kingsbury researcher, Harriet Rockwell, has been communicating with me for several years now because we both have a Stanford in our family lines, but we were not able to find any connection. My Stanford apparently was a descendant of the Henry Kingsbury line of Ipswich, Massachusetts and her Stanford was a descendant of the Joseph Kingsbury line of Dedham, Massachusetts. One day Harriet shared some very exciting news with me that she had made contact with a Doyle Smith living in Michigan who was a distant cousin of hers and also part of the Joseph Kingsbury line from the Vermont branch. Doyle had information about a Stanford A. Kingsbury born in 1832 and the son of Aden and Lydia (Olmstead) Kingsbury. Aden Kingsbury was born in Vermont, lived a very brief time in New York State, and finally settled in Michigan. Everything seemed to fit, but this was completely contrary to my assumptions from 15 years of research. Now we look at the DNA test results and know that we were wrong for that 15 year period. The fact that I am an exact match with #13524, a Kingsbury cousin who can document his line through the Vermont branch to Joseph, confirms that this is my personal ancestral line.

We have the current results back on 16 participants in our DNA study group and two additional individuals joined the group too late to be included here. We also have one participant that expanded his test to the mtDNA test for the maternal line, but since we do not have any other members in our Kingsbury group to compare the results with at this time we have not shared the test results here. We anticipate that this special DNA group will continue to grow and serve as a great assistance to all current and future Kingsbury and Bracebridge family researchers. As you look at the DNA chart you will note that we have not given the name of the individual participant. This information should be kept private unless the individual himself wishes to share his information, but all 18 participants are included in the genealogy section of this book.

Already this test group has made some amazing breakthroughs in the confirmation or denial of significant theories we share in our ongoing Kingsbury research. One of the most important breakthroughs is with the theory that our Kingsbury family was originally named de Bracebridge and they were the lords of Kingsbury Hall in the village of Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Until now we knew very little about the ancestry of our original Kingsbury ancestor, Sir William de Kyngesbury who appears as the lord of Waldycroft Manor in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England in 1368. There were some very interesting theories that he may have had some ties to Kingsbury Hall, but to this day we do not have any written documentation of a connection. What we do have is documentation that several members of the Bracebridge family would change their surname to de Kingsbury when they moved from Kingsbury Hall which indicated to others that they were from Kingsbury. Now we have DNA evidence that our Sir William apparently was born in the village of Kingsbury as William Bracebridge. We still search for some written document that will tell us precisely who his father was, but a look at the test #13518 demonstrates the validity of our theory. The basic 12 marker portion of this test is an exact match to the two Vermont Joseph line participants 13480 & 13524, plus the Canadian participant 17127. And there are only minor mutations from the remaining Kingsbury participants. When we expand into the full 25 marker test results we do have some questions raised here as we note that there are mutations in six of the markers. With this number of mutations it does bring our theory back into question again, but the evidence is still solid enough to make the assumption of a common ancestry. After all we are looking for a common ancestor that goes back about 30 generations and spans at least 11 centuries.

The results for the other two participants of the Bracebridge family are completely separate, even from one another. Based upon these results we would make the observation that there are three very distinct families all with the surname of Bracebridge, but that most likely all trace their ancestry to three distinct noble families from the village of Bracebridge, Lincolnshire, England. We can easily understand how this could occur when we realize that during the 8th through the 12th century the area of Bracebridge was a prominent area for the political leadership of England.

Another major theory regarding the Kingsbury family has to do with the sizable branch that immigrated to both Canada and the United States from Ireland. We know that the name was spelled somewhat differently in the Emerald Isle, but many of us still held the theory that the branch of the family known as Kingsborough originally immigrated to Ireland from the base family group in Suffolk County, England during a period of economic and political hardship. Once again we did not have any hard documentation to prove this theory, but now with this DNA group we can say with assurance that the theory is correct. Participants 13688 and 23575 are fourth cousins with the common ancestors being George and Elizabeth (Smith) Kingsborough of Ireland. We first note that the basic 12 marker tests are identical with one another and that there is only one mutation that distinguishes them from the remainder of the Kingsbury participants. With this information we can now be assured that we are all part of the same Kingsbury family. It only remains to be proven that members of the family in other parts of the world also belong to this common Kingsbury family, but we anticipate that one day this theory will also be proven with the use of DNA.

Our Canadian neighbours also have a large branch of the Kingsbury family and we have not been able to document the connection for now. However, when we examine the 12 marker results of 17127 we note that this 12 marker test is identical with the two participants of the Vermont Joseph line (13480 & 13524). This comparison does two things for our ongoing research of the Canadian Kingsbury line. First it tells us that we are most certainly related by a common ancestor, but even more significantly it begins to tell us where we must look to discover the connection. We now know that we are looking for a link to the Joseph line rather than the Henry line, and more specifically we are looking at the Vermont branch of the Joseph line. In our shared efforts with others that are working on the Canadian branch of the family we now feel that we know who this missing link is, but we are not sure enough yet to make the announcement. However, as you go through the genealogy section of this book you will notice that we have shared our current thoughts on the matter in the footnotes for your benefit.

It is not our purpose here to give an exhausting analysis of the other Kingsbury participants. The information in the chart is there for you to use and analyse for yourself. We would say that we now have sufficient test results to begin to see patterns that distinguish the two major branches of the family in America today, the Henry line and the Joseph line. And you will notice that this pattern has definitely assisted in solving other research questions for #23042 and for 13946. We have two additional new members of our group that do not have any test results back at this time and they are eagerly anticipating their results so they can use the group patterns to refine their search.

Finally we would like to draw attention to the results of participant 16881. We have very strong written documentation to show that this individual is the fifth cousin once removed with the common ancestors of Ephraim and Phebe (French) Kingsbury II to participant 17855, yet their test results obviously do not match at all. Since the test results for the majority of the remaining Kingsbury participants match that of 17855 we can be assured that this member is biologically part of the Kingsbury family. However, this means that we can be equally assured that 16881 is not biologically part of the family. When this test result came back it was a complete shock to both the participant and to me as the group administrator. What makes this situation even more difficult is that each successive generation only had one male child which leaves 16881 as the sole carrier of the Y chromosome. Now we are faced with the task of attempting to understand this amazing scientific truth.

As we look at the case we realize that there can only be three possible explanations. The first explanation would be that one of his maternal ancestors had an affair and gave birth to a son by an unknown father. The second possibility would be that the lady was pregnant at the time of her marriage to our Kingsbury ancestor and the husband chose to simply raise the child as his own giving him the Kingsbury surname. The third possibility is that one of 16881's ancestors adopted a child and we simply do not have any written record of the adoption. In our particular case with 16881 we had jointly decided on the second theory and are actively pursuing it. We feel that we know when this may have occurred and the researcher is examining all the records possible to see if we can piece all this together. The interesting side note here is that, in our phone conversations on the subject, participant 16881 affirms that this in no way affects his sense of belonging to the Kingsbury family and this is as it should be. What it does give us is a whole new area to research.

KINGSBURY HALL: The historical development of the site

Kingsbury Hall is a Grade II* listed building which, indicates the importance of the site and is described as a mediaeval enclosure castle with a post-mediaeval house. To understand why an enclosure castle was sited in Kingsbury, if that is indeed what it is, we need to understand how the fortification developed and the problem is that we don't really know and can only theorise from the evidence.

The site of Kingsbury Hall is of historical and geographical importance with a possible development of the area as early as the 6th/7th centuries BC when a Romano-British settlement may have existed there. During the 8th/9th centuries AD, nearby Tamworth became the principal capital of the mighty Anglo-Saxon Kingdom of Mercia and was both politically and administratively important during that time. Tamworth's development as a 'burh' and Kingsbury's similar position overlooking a river and fording point suggests that one of the early Mercian kings fortified the site as a chines burie' or royal burh' for defensive/offensive purposes. Kingsbury became an early warning frontier post, designed to stop any would be attackers approaching the capital by river as well as being a retreat during times of insecurity. What it looked like is not known but probably there was some form of banking surmounted by a wooden palisade and a ditch such as has been discovered at Tamworth. Inside was the accommodation for the garrison, which would have been supplied by the local community. We also believe that there may well have been staging at the base of the bluff where small boats were moored.

Until about 857, Tamworth was the favoured residence of the royal household and king Offa built a palace there that was said to be 'the wonder of the age'. He enjoyed hawking and hunting and it is possible that any fortified site at Kingsbury may have also been a royal hunting lodge although strictly speaking, it is not situated in the ancient deer park as it should be. In 841 King Bertwulf was in residence at Tamworth and possibly spent much of that time living at Kingsbury, which for a while became the seat of government because in 851 he held a 'great council' there. In 874 the Danes advanced on Tamworth, razed it to the ground and probably laid Kingsbury to waste as well.

The indomitable Queen Ethelfleda, the daughter of King Alfred took control of Mercia and rebuilt the defences at Tamworth in 913 and Kingsbury may have similarly been refortified. If Kingsbury was a small frontier garrison belonging to Mercia and dictated to by Tamworth, it survived as a settlement and possibly remained a defended site. In time, when the threat of invasion had passed and more peaceful times prevailed, a timber manor house probably replaced the old garrison/lodge.

An enclosure castle?

Prior to 1066, the manor of Kingsbury belonged to the Countess Godiva and her husband, Earl Leofric but it was taken by William I in 1070 and eventually passed to Turchill de Arden, the very rich and powerful grandson of Earl Leofric's sister Ermenhilda, who inherited the manor from his second wife, Leverunia, the granddaughter of Leofric and Godiva. The Ardens made Kingsbury their home and it is possible that one of them constructed an early 'enclosure castle'. If so, then nothing of that fortification survives above ground. By definition, an enclosure castle is a strongly defended residence or stronghold of the king or lord, built mainly of stone, in which the principal or sole defence comprises the walls and towers bounding the site. Some form of keep usually stood within the enclosure and served mainly to provide accommodation. Enclosure castles were sited for offensive or defensive operations and often formed an administrative centre. Outside the walls was either a water-filled or dry ditch, which was crossed by a bridge. The gully leading down to the present river crossing is artificial, there be no original, natural way down and the spoil from the moat could have been used to reinforce the weak southern slope and create a more stable platform for the buildings. Most enclosure castles date from the 12th and 13th centuries although a few were still constructed in the 14th. Some were developments of earlier fortifications and made strongly defended residences for the nobility. The structural remains at Kingsbury date from the late 13th or early 14th centuries and suggest three possibilities; a late enclosure castle; an upgraded earlier enclosure castle or something less significant such as a fortified homestead.

A Fortified manor house?

The manor of Kingsbury passed to the Bracebridges towards the end of the 12th century and remained in their possession until the late 16th century. A fortified homestead would have reflected the status of the family as middling gentry rather than as high-ranking nobility. During the late 13th or early 14th centuries, the curtain walling was upgraded or rebuilt and came at the end of a period of unrest when the manor had been lost to the Bracebridges because of allegiance by John Bracebridge II to the barons against King John. His son, John Bracebridge III, who won back the manor, may have had to repair the walling if had been damaged or neglected.

The present house dates from the late 15th or early 16th centuries and may well incorporate part of the earlier mediaeval building but the plan is irregular and the original layout is very difficult to reconstruct. The house consists of two adjoined, parallel ranges running east/west and a small, cross wing to the north. The builder could have been Richard Bracebridge who died in 1501 or perhaps John de Bracebridge VI who was a reasonably wealthy man at his death in 1516. During his funeral the manor house was lit with candles and all his male servants were dressed in black for the period of mourning.

The last two Bracebridges to be involved with the Hall were Thomas Bracebridge the Elder who actually lived at Twyford in Derbyshire during his later years and his son Thomas the Younger who lived at The Holt, Kingsbury. Both men lived beyond their means, as was the style of nobility of the 1500s and found themselves in debt. Thomas the Elder made a series of transactions to obtain money by leasing out the Hall, Park and demesne lands. The first was in 1550 to Sir George Griffiths at an annual 'rent' of £29.10.8d then nine years later he leased the same property to Sir Ambrose Cave, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster. Sir Ambrose died in 1568 and his only daughter Margaret Knollys, the wife of Sir Henry Knollys, a very cultivated and religious man, inherited her father's property.

Sir Francis Willoughby:

Sir Henry Knollys' father, Sir Francis Knollys was the guardian of Sir Francis Willoughby, whose family seat was at Wollaton Hall in Nottinghamshire but who was living at nearby Middleton Hall. In 1564 at the age of seventeen Sir Francis Willoughby bought his wardship from Sir Francis Knollys and soon after was leasing and maintaining a considerable household at Kingsbury Hall. He was certainly leasing it from Margaret Knollys in 1578. He was a headstrong, somewhat gullible man who refused to marry Sir Francis' daughter, choosing instead Elizabeth Littleton but theirs was not to be a settled, happy marriage.

Francis became a very rich man who bought much land and many manors from the money he amassed from coal mining. He liked to live lavishly and spent a fortune on entertainment and property development, which finally ruined the family. A fascinating account of the state of his marriage relates to Kingsbury Hall. In 1574 his estranged wife, Elizabeth was causing her husband much trouble and embarrassment. There is an account of a blazing row in the long gallery in front of friends after an attempt on Sir Francis' part for reconciliation. Elizabeth ended up running to the Vicarage for protection from one of his servants whom she thought was trying to kill her with a sword while her maids raised the alarm in the village!

With rising debts, Thomas Bracebridge the Younger eventually 'sold' part of the manor of Kingsbury to Sir Francis Willoughby in 1585 in what started as a money borrowing scheme but which turned out to be a bitter lawsuit and trial which resulted in Thomas' imprisonment and death in 1607 in 'great poverty'. During this time many of the fireplaces were either restyled or added; the east end of the hall was remodelled and the middle wall of the west end rebuilt, possibly with a Dutch gable. The house comprised three floors. On the ground floor was the kitchen with its two huge ranges; adjoined was a scullery and beyond were three storerooms one of which would have been a buttery where the wine and ale was kept. The first floor held the great manorial reception area with its rich panelling and stained glass coats of arms. Here the steward would have presided over the manorial courts where all manners of petty problems and tenures were sorted out. Beyond the courtroom were several smaller chambers where the family lived. The second floor comprised two attics one of which was almost certainly the 'long gallery'.

Later history

During the early 17th century, the Hall, Park and demesne passed down through the Knollys family to Richard Beardsley and then to the Astons and by the late 18th century the house was suffering structurally. The western wall of the south range was rebuilt with red brick while the eastern end was made functional in order to access storage space in the old courtroom. Smaller windows replaced the massive, Elizabethan openings and internal walls divided the old rooms into smaller units. The main living quarters were focused in the north-western half of the building with the addition of a small, two-storey wing. These alterations were mainly because the hall was now leased to a succession of tenant farmers paying rent to absentee lords who were only prepared to spend out money on its maintenance and who were not interested in preserving its ancient fabric.

Soon after 1800 the Astons sold some of the land including the Hall to Mr Adderley from Hams Hall and his widow sold it to Sir Robert Peel of Drayton Manor. The Colemans, Handburys and Whitehouses were the main farming families during the 19th century. The Peel family held Kingsbury Hall until about 1928 after which, the Kitchen family worked it until the 1970s. Since then it has been uninhabited but kept in rudimentary repair by the owner who was a coal merchant.

The hall was sold in 2004 and there are plans to restore the house to its Elizabethan splendour and convert some of the rooms and outhouses into private apartments providing the funds can be made available for the project and the elements don't take their toll on the ancient structure before it is too late.

Kingsbury Trivia

General Information

The name "Kingsbury" is very old and is of early Saxon origin. The Saxons, Angels, and Jutes who occupied what is now Northern Germany and Denmark carried on raids against Britain in the 4th century, Britain then under the rule of the Romans who annexed it to the Roman Empire in 43 AD. The Romans withdrew from Britain in the early part of the 5th century and the Saxons and allied tribes invaded the country and conquered it in 449. The Saxons spread out over the country and they were ruled by petty kings who established themselves at various locations building forts or strongholds for protection. Their followers settled around the walls of the fort. These strongholds were called "Cyngesburks". Over the years this name went through various changes until it finally emerged as "Kingsbury". Four of the locations where the name Kingsbury became the formal name are known to this day. One was in the County of Middlesex about eight miles from London, one in Herefordshire, one in Warwickshire, and Kingsbury East in Kingsbury Hundred in Somersetshire on the River Parrott. Middlesex had a very prominent history in England as it was on the Northern edge of the Thames River near London. The city of London continued to grow and by 1965 the county of Middlesex had been absorbed into the Greater London area and no longer appears on any current maps of the United Kingdom.

Surnames did not come into use in England until about the 13th century and even then they were primarily for the nobility. The first major use of a surname was the use of the fathers name (e.g. James son of John or James Johnson). One early example of this surname comes from the family of Ragnar Lodbrock. His eldest son had the name of Sigurd Ragnarsson (or Ragnar's son). Sigurd Ragnarsson in turn had a daughter that was named Tora Sigurdsdottir (or Signurd's Daughter). Another prominent example of how this system worked comes from the 9th century with Alpin of Kintyre, King of Scotland. His son and heir to the throne was Kenneth MacAlpin, King of Scotland. This is referred to as Patronymics. In 1413 it became mandatory that surnames be used on all official documents, but this still pertained to the nobility. The surname was still not a standard form as a man might use his fathers name on one document and his location on another. Thus we might discover that James of John is also James de Kingesburye in another document. The location surnames were the most common and normally took two different forms. On the one hand we see Alpin of Kintyre which meant that he resided in Kintyre. For the Kingsbury family we see the use of de Bracebridge and de Kingsbury referring to one from Bracebridge Heath in Lincolnshire and one from Kingsbury in Warwickshire. Once the surnames became common they no longer would change as the people moved about and the use of the de was dropped to become just plain Kingsbury. The common people did not use surnames until the period of the Reformation about 1530. By 1538 the Church established the practice of using parish registers to curtail the intermarriage of close relatives and this did more to standardize surnames than any other fact.

One assumption we can safely make based upon this information is that the Kingsbury family must have been part of the landed nobility and well educated. In the Domesday Book (a survey of England made by William the Conqueror in 1086) reference is made to "Chinesburie", land held by the Countess Godiva of Coventry. This land was in Warwickshire, approximately 100 miles West-Northwest of the area in Suffolk County where our actual forbears settled, and is the home of Kingsbury Hall, the stately old castle of the Bracebridge family. Hanging on the walls of this great fortress and in the stained glass windows of Saint Peter and Saint Paul Church of Kingsbury, which is adjacent to Kingsbury Hall, was displayed the various Coats of Arms of the lords of Kingsbury. It is interesting to note that one shield in particular (Bracebridge impaling Francois) demonstrates an obvious connection between the Francois (or Francis) family and that of the later Kingsbury family since the Arms of the Francois family is the one often accepted today as the representation of the Kingsbury family Arms. Out of this great family seat we most likely find the progenitors of the Kingsbury family who settled in Suffolk County centuries later. Leofric of Mercia, the politically powerful husband of the Lady Godiva, was directly descended from the Saxon Kings of Mercia and inherited their ancient seat. In the England of the 1030s the country was ruled by the King and three very powerful families; Siward, Earl of Northumbria, Godwin, Earl of Wessex, and Leofric, Earl of Mercia. It would seem that the Kingsbury family is related to many of the Kings and Lords from Warwickshire, all tied together through the Bracebridge family.

Leofric's granddaughter married Turchill de Arden, one of the Conqueror's Norman Knights and their granddaughter married Peter de Bracebridge in whose family this ancient seat remained until the time of Queen Elizabeth. A daughter of this line married Sir John Arden who was either the grandfather or Great Uncle of Mary Arden, the mother of William Shakespeare. It is this name Arden which has special significance in this author's personal ancestry through Stanford A.(probably Arden) Kingsbury of Adrian, Michigan and his father Aden (or Arden) Kingsbury of Vermont and Michigan.

The name "Kingsbury" and its variations were initially used as a place name and could have been applied as one "from Kingsbury" (de Kingsbury). Soon the notation "from" was dropped and the name became a formal surname. One of the early historical uses of the surname Kingsbury is that of Gilbert de Kingsbury. He was the incumbent of St. Peter and St. Paul Church, Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England in about the year 1300. Gilbert is buried in the cemetery of Church Kingsbury, Somersetshire on the Parrott River. Henry Kingsbury who settled in Haverhill and Ipswich, MA and his uncles John and Joseph Kingsbury who settled in Dedham, MA around 1634 were most likely direct descendents of this line through William de Kyngesbury who settled in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England in the 14th century. The majority of all Kingsburys living in America today can trace their lineage through either Henry Kingsbury or Joseph Kingsbury (John Kingsbury had no children). Other Kingsbury family members who later emigrated through Canada, Ireland, Russia and England probably also come originally from the common ancestors in Suffolk.

During the 14th to 16th century it is a curious fact that the name Kingsbury appears to be a prominent name, especially in ecclesiastical circles. In 1300 we find the name Gilbert de Kingsbury who was the Incumbent of St. Peters Church, Kingsbury, Warwickshire. Then in 1368 the name William de Kingsbury appears in the will of Gervase de Wyllesford, Rector of Barnak, Northamptonshire. David Kynnesbury was appointed Vicar of Cheshunt, Herts on April 12, 1480 and died in 1503. There was a Thomas Kingsbury who served as Archdeacon of St. Albans Monastery in 1517 and apparently there was a second Thomas Kingsbury also serving in the same capacity in 1531.

ENGLISH HISTORY OF OUR ANCESTORS:

At the Battle of Hastings, William II, Duke of Normandy ultimately defeated the English forces of King Harold in October of 1066. The remaining forces fell easily to the Norman advance and on Christmas Day, 1066 William was crowned King William I (William the Conqueror) in Westminster Abbey. Thus began the first Norman dynasty in England and with it came order and a strong monarchy. Henry II (1154-1189) was the first ruler of the Plantagenet Dynasty and he reorganized the courts bringing the monarchy to new levels of power.

Richard I (The Lion Hearted) became king from 1189 to 1199 and everything began to change. He was a leader in the Crusades which were supported with great religious zeal at first, but after years of foreign campaigns and heavy taxes to support the armies, many began to oppose him. The Barons were especially against his battle with King Philip Augustus of France. To make matters worse, Richard was defeated and on his retreat home he was captured by Henry

VI, the Holy Roman Emperor. To secure his release a large tribute had to be paid which placed an even heavier tax burden on the land. In addition the land of Normandy was forever lost, the very land originally controlled by William the Conqueror.

The Crusades may have been over, but John continued the practice of heavy taxation to support his government and lavish court. Many of the barons who collected the taxes saw to it that they kept a large portion for themselves. Greed became the rule of the land and as a result there was great unrest. Thus when John opposed the election of Stephen Langdon as archbishop of Canterbury, he quickly found himself embroiled in a political turmoil. Pope Innocent III excommunicated John and suspended worship services and the sacraments throughout the land. John retaliated by confiscating church property and the pope responded by threatening to release all Englishmen from their allegiance to the crown. John finally had to give in and Langdon became Archbishop of Canterbury. This was the beginning of the end for the strong monarchy in England.

In 1212 John wanted to mount an expedition against Wales, but the barons opposed it and decided against that idea. Next many of the barons opposed his desire to go to war with France in 1213, but he made the expedition anyway. By 1214 his forces were totally defeated and he returned home to an angry nobility. The barons demanded that the king address their grievances, but John refused. At Bury St. Edmunds on Easter Week of 1215 the barons refused to pay the crown their scutage (payment made in lieu of personal military service) and demanded a guarantee of their liberties by charter. John was furious and solicited the aid of the church and the city of London. London however sided with the barons and once again John was defeated. Finally on June 15, 1215 John met with the barons at Runnymede, a meadow of about 100 acres between Windsor and Staines in Berkshire County and signed the charter. This later became known as the MAGNA CARTA and changed the politics of Englishmen forever. From that day forward, English government became a rule of law rather than of people.

KINGSBURY TRIVIA:

It is to be noted that there are 8 states in the United States with a Kingsbury City; Kingsbury, Indiana, Kingsbury, Massachusetts, Kingsbury Beach, Massachusetts, Kingsbury Colony, New York, Kingsbury, Texas, Kingsbury Pass, Nevada, and Kingsbury Manor, Virginia. Then we have Kingsburg, California, Kingsburg, South Carolina, Kingsburg and Kingsbury County, South Dakota, Kingsboro, Georiga, Kingsboro, North Carolina, and Kingsborough, Colorado. In addition to this it is noted that almost every major city in America has at least one Kingsbury Street or Drive and in Saint Louis, MO a very prestigious neighborhood of the city is called Kingsbury Park. On the north side of the city of Chicago, Illinois at the corner of Erie and Kingsbury Streets stands the beautiful Kingsbury On The Park skyscraper. It is a 24 story residential building constructed in the year 2001.

The Kingsbury family has had a very impressive influence on the formation of our country. A large majority of the family were carpenters and farmers, including most of my personal family who settled in Southern Michigan. It is perhaps from these roots that we learned to work with our hands, become self sufficient, and creative. There are many entrepreneurs within the family heritage including several small business ventures from the making and repairing of wagons to the manufacturing of quality pocket knives and razors. We also have a Kingsbury who started the repair of bicycles in his garage, which led to the manufacturing of toy cars, which eventually led to the development of special tools and equipment for industry, and finally became a major manufacturing giant with headquarters in Keene, New Hampshire known as Kingsbury Manufacturing Company. The Kingsbury Piano manufactured by the Chicago Piano Company had a major impact on the music world and the Kingsbury Brewery produced fine quality beer under the Kingsbury label in Sheboygan, WI for over 130 years until it was finally purchased by Heilman Brewery. About 1962 they ceased bottling under the Kingsbury name with the exception of Kingsbury Near Beer. Gorham China and Gorham crystal both had a popular pattern of Kingsbury Fine China and Kingsbury Crystal. RCA Victor produced a famous Kingsbury radio, the great fountain in front of the Santa Anita Race Track is the Kingsbury Fountain, and a vital road through the mountains separating Nevada and California is now the Kingsbury Grade. The Kingsbury family has always been involved in the development of our schools through the donation of land, serving on the school boards, and even having a high school in Memphis, TN named Kingsbury High School. Kingsburys have always been ready to serve their country in the military and have brought honor to the name. Many have made a career in the military and achieved ranks which include that of Major General. There are educators, doctors, ministers, lawyers, judges, and politicians representing the Kingsbury name at every level of our society and government. We even have the grand daughter of a Kingsbury as the first woman to marry a sitting president of the United States. An interesting side note here is that one Kingsbury military hero was awarded a sizeable portion of land on the southwestern shores of Lake Michigan. Unfortunately the family sold off the majority of this land long before people started calling it Chicago. Check the library and you will find a wide array of books written by a Kingsbury, and there is even one who received the Nobel Prize for Journalism. It was a Kingsbury who was the first white settler to be killed by Indians in Massachusetts and it was a Kingsbury who was the first white settler of Ohio. A Kingsbury was one of the founding Patriarchs of the Mormon Church in Salt Lake City and another Kingsbury served as president of Standard Oil of California. It was a Kingsbury who was vice president to the Bell Telephone conglomerate that established the "Kingsbury Commitment" which is still followed today and model railroad engineers pride themselves on building scale models of the Kingsbury Branch.

In the city of Cleveland, Ohio the famous lawman, Elliot Ness has stumped by the famous "Kingsbury Run Murders" and ended up committing suicide before he could solve the case. There have been several Kingsbury buildings, Kingsbury Hotels, Kingsbury lakes and ponds, and even a line of kitchen cabinets known as the Kingsbury cabinets. We even have a very nice Victorian style of home known as the Kingsbury home.

In 1940 the US Navy brought a new Haskell Class Attack Transport ship out of the Oregon Shipbuilding Corporation. in Portland, Oregon called the USS Kingsbury. The ship was 436 ' 6" in length and was capable of carrying equipment and 1,562 troops. The USS Kingsbury served her country valiantly during World War II.

What we hope to show in this book is the rich heritage of our family. One of our ancestors was a noble Knight of King Arthur's Round Table and we married into the noble and royal lines of England and France. And today thousands of Kingsburys from our farms, our industries, and our political institutions have been the hard working backbone of our nation. It is indeed a proud name involved at every level of our society.

5. Ralf of Bracebridge[1] (, Ancient-1) was born in 975 in Bracebridge, Lincolnshire, England. Sir Ralf of Bracebridge apparently was a prominent political leader of the area and it would seem the family had something to do with the proper maintenance of the significant bridge over the River Witham. This would be the same bridge that gives the village its name. Apparently from very ancient times, this bridge over the River Witham was very important to the area as a major crossing of the river and the proper maintenance of the bridge was a serious responsibility. And by its association with the bridge, the manor of Bracebridge would also have a significance in the economic life of the area.

We should note here that the manor was not just the major home of the lord, but was considered all the land and tenants on the land. The manor was a vast self-supporting geographic area usually with one major dwelling

(the Hall) where the lord or the administrator of the manor lived. In the case of Sir Ralf, we can safely make the assumption that he was a knight because of the use of the title of Sir, and apparently was the lord of the manor of Bracebridge. There is even some reference to the fact that their dwelling was also known as Bracebridge Hall and would have been located very near the bridge itself. There is even a reference in the current history of Lincoln, City by the Pool that prior to 1086 there may have been two manors in Bracebridge known as North Hall and South Hall. We should note here that the Hall was much more than simply a residence for the lord of the manor, it was also the center of the business and administration of the manor. It was the accepted practice to house animals in the lower portions of the Hall and for several craftsmen to work their crafts in the building. All Saints Church of Bracebridge was located next to this major crossing of the River Witham.

Whether the manor derived it name from the bridge or not is something that we may never know. But it would seem that the early bridge structure must have been made of wood as the name seems to be derived from a bridge made of sticks or small branches (brash). By the early 17th century the bridge apparently consisted of five arches and different groups were assigned the responsibility for each arch. By this time it was the third arch that apparently was built by the lord of the manor of Bracebridge and the maintenance was to continue as the responsibility of the manor. Along with this responsibility also came certain rights which included fishing rights for the river and possibly even the right to collect a toll at the bridge.

+10 i. 1070 Bracebridge.

6. Leofric of Mercia Earl of Mercia (, Ancient-1) was born about 1005 in Mercia, England. He died on 31 Aug 1057 in Bromely, Greater London, England. Mercia historically has been a vast area known as the Midlands and West Midlands. This includes Warwickshire, Hereford, Worcester, Gloucestershire, Staffordshire, Derbyshire, Nottinghamshire, and much of the lands, north and west of the Thames River. The borders ran East up to Suffolk, the natural homeland of our particular Kingsbury ancestors. One of the earliest Kings of Mercia was Penda who died in 654. He became the dominant ruler of all southern England. Finally under Aethelbald (ruling from 716 to 757) and his cousin Offa (ruled from 757 to 796) the kingdom of Mercia reached the pinnacle of it power. King Offa had strong political ties with the continental rulers, notable Charlemagne, and under his wise direction England approached political unification. Later the power of the rulers of Mercia began to give way to the Kings of Wessex and by the 10th century it was customary for the Wessex Kings to become the rulers of the entire land, but the earl of Mercia remained one of the few strong territorial rulers.

Leofric, Anglo-Saxon earl of Mercia, was "one of the three great earls of 11th century England, who took a leading part in public affairs. On the death of King Canute in 1035 Leofric supported the claim of Canute's son Harold to the throne against that of Hardecanute; and during the quarrel between Edward the Confessor and Earl Godwine in 1051 he played the part of a mediator. Through his efforts civil war was averted, and in accordance with his advice the settlement of the dispute was referred to the Witan."

"Because Chester was his principal residence and the seat of his government, he is sometimes called earl of Chester. His wife was Godgifu, famous in legend as Lady Godiva. Both husband and wife were noted as liberal benefactors to the church, among their foundations being the famous Benedictine monastery at Coventry."

Leofric of Mercia Earl of Mercia and The Lady Godiva Countess of Coventry were married about 1025 in England. The Lady Godiva Countess of Coventry[2] (daughter of Father of Turold) was born about 1007 in Coventry, Warwickshire, England. She died about 1080 in Coventry, Warwickshire, England. The Countess Godiva was known in the Old English as Godgifu. "Lady Godiva .... Anglo-Saxon gentlewoman famous for her legendary ride while nude through Coventry, Warwickshire." She was the sister of Turold, the sheriff of Lincolnshire and held a great deal of property, including the manor of Kingsbury. We should mention here that the term Manor most often referred to much more than simply the major dwelling (usually called the Hall).

According to the Domesday Book this Kingsbury manor consisted of 6 hides; Land for 7 ploughs; In lordship 2 ploughs; 1 slave; 33 villagers and 3 smallholders with 2 priests who have 16 ploughs; A Mill, a meadow of 12 acres and a woodland of 1 league. In addition to Kingsbury manor, we are told of her personal property in Alspath of Coleshill Hundred, Atherstone, Hartshill and Ansley, in Brinklow Hundred Ansty and Foleshill, and finally Coventry in Stoneleigh Hundred.

"Godiva was the wife of Leofric, earl of Mercia, with whom she founded and endowed a monastery at Coventry. The chronicler Florence of Worcester (d. 1118) mentions Leofric and Godiva with respect, but does not refer to the ride. There is no evidence connecting the rider with the historical Godiva."

The earliest extant source for the story is the CHRONICA (under the year 1057) of Roger of Wendover (d. 1236). He recounts that her husband, in exasperation over her ceaseless imploring that he reduce Coventry's heavy taxes, declared he would do so if she rode naked through the crowded marketplace. She did so, her hair covering all her body except her legs. Ranulf Higden (d. 1364) in his POLYCHRONICON says that as a result Leofric freed the town from all tolls save those on horses. An inquiry made in the reign of Edward I shows that at that time no tolls were paid in Coventry except on horses. A later chronicle asserts that Godiva required the townsmen to remain indoors at the time fixed for her ride. Peeping Tom, a citizen who looked out his window, apparently became a part of the legend in the 17th century. In most accounts he was struck blind or dead."

In Coventry, West Midlands, there is a monument to Lady Godiva in front of Holy Trinity Church and St. Michaels Cathedral. Coventry is a metropolitan county of West Midlands, England with an area of 37 square miles.

"Coventry probably dates from Saxon times. The sacking of the Saxon nunnery of St. Osburga by the Danes in 1016 led to the founding of a monastery by earl Leofric of Mercia and his wife Godiva (Godgifu) in 1043. Godiva is best known for her legendary ride unclothed on a white horse through the town. The monastery brought trade and prosperity to the town, and by the mid-15th century Coventry was an important centre of the woolen textile industry, especially noted for thread but having a variety of other crafts."

Leofric of Mercia Earl of Mercia and The Lady Godiva Countess of Coventry had the following children:

+11 i. Aelfgar Earl of East Anglia and Mercia (born about 1030).
12 ii. Hereward was born about 1035.

7. Renebault Tankerville (1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1096.

Renebault Tankerville and Agnes Stigand were married. Agnes Stigand was born about 1100. Renebault Tankerville and Agnes Stigand had the following children:

+13 i. Osbert de Clinton (born about 1122).

8. Alwyne Horne[3] (Guy de-2, Ancient-1) was born date unknown.

Alwyne Horne had the following children:

+14 i. Turchil de Arden Earl of Warwick (born about 1050).

+15 i. 1100 Ancestor.

10. 1070 Bracebridge[4] (Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born date unknown. In the book on HENRY KINGSBURY OF IPSWICH AND HAVERHILL, MA by Mary Kingsbury Talcott she mentions Kingsbury Hall in Warwickshire where she saw the Kingsbury Coat of Arms hanging on the wall. She also mentioned that the estate of Kingsbury was in the Bracebridge family for centuries. In my first trip to England in May 2001 I wanted to find this Kingsbury Hall and see the family Coat of Arms for myself. However, in my mind I made the assumption that the Kingsbury Hall must have been part of a castle and the only castle that I could find in Warwickshire was Warwick Castle. This is a beautiful castle and well worth the trip, but no Kingsbury Coat of Arms was present. Since I was so close I just had to visit the small village of Kingsbury, which is about 20 miles north of Coventry, and Coventry was just north of Warwick. It was the best side trip I could have made. It was here that I found the magnificent Kingsbury Hall or Manor in the town of Kingsbury. Today the manor is in a state of ruins, but one can still feel the majesty of the place. And indeed Kingsbury Hall was the possession of the Bracebridge family for many centuries. Carole Haines, a retired teacher from Kingsbury and the president of the Kingsbury Historical Society at the time of this writing (2002) sent me copies of an original drawing she created of the manor when it was still a place to live.

Early England was divided into essentially seven kingdoms; Northumbria, Strathclyde, East Anglica, Wales, Essex, Wessex, and Mercia which was the large kingdom in the center. By around 757, Offa of Mercia was generally accepted as the most important king of the largest territory and he chose as his residence the Town of Tamworth on the northern borders of what is now Warwickshire. We are told that the king and his nobles loved to hunt in the lush Forest of Arden just to the south of Tamworth and that in particular, the favorite place of the king was this beautiful hill overlooking the Tame River. It was not only beautiful and near the hunting area, but it was also a naturally strategic position. The king built a hunting lodge on the site where eventually Kingsbury Hall would be built. At the time it was most likely a wooden structure and none of the original structure survives to this day. Since this was the hunting lodge of the king, a stone wall was built around the lodge for fortifications and it is believed that much of the present wall is from that defensive structure. The early Saxon name for this site was CHINESBURIE (Kingsbury) which referred to the fortified site (bury) of the king. Kingsbury grew rapidly and soon became a very powerful center for the Mercian kings. When the Danes fought against the English, Bertulphus, King of Mercia called his nobles together in a Great Council of 851 at Kingsbury. Whatever was decided at that time was to no avail because by 874 the Danes sacked Tamworth and most likely Kingsbury as well. By the time of Leofric (about 1012) the royal power had shifted to Wessex and Leofric served as the Earl of Mercia under King Edward the Confessor. The wife of Leofric was the Countess Godiva who apparently came from her own noble line. At first the Lady Godiva held the lands of Kingsbury as part of her domain, but King William I gave the manor of Kingsbury to one of his nobles for services rendered. Leofric died on August 31, 1057 and by 1086 the manor of Kingsbury was still in the possession of others as recorded in the Domesday Book. At this time it was an estate of about 700 acres and 560 acres were cultivated by 36 men, all but 3 of whom were villeins or small farmers that worked the land in service to the Lord of the Manor.

Sometime about the end of the 11th century, Turchill of Warwick or Turchill de Arden settled on Kingsbury Manor as his principle abode. Turchill was married to Leverunia, the granddaughter of the Countess Godiva thus bringing the Manor of Kingsbury back into the family. Amicia Arden, the granddaughter of Turchill and Leverunia, met a dashing young man from Lincolnshire named Peter de Bracebridge. They were married and made Kingsbury Manor their home. Kingsbury Hall would remain in the Bracebridge family from this date until Thomas Bracebridge, a man who apparently had a knack of getting in debt, sold the estate to Sir Francis Willoughby in 1585.

The village of Bracebridge, or Bracebridge Heath lies just to the south west of Lincoln and by the twenty-first century was absorbed into Lincoln. Bracebridge received its name from the two bridges (a brace of bridges) over the River Witham. The twentieth century author, Washington Irving made the name famous with his stories of "Old Christmas" and "Bracebridge Hall" which apparently was a branch of the Bracebridge family in Yorkshire. We do not know at this time of the exact home of Sir Peter, but we do know that Francis Jonathan Clarke did purchase a modest home in Bracebridge in 1874 and completed his massive renovations of the property in 1883.

[4] Mrs. Carole Haines, editor, The Story of Kingsbury (Kingsbury History Society: Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England: September 2001). The basics of the Bracebridge Family line are summarized from this text.

This fine residence on the banks of the River Witham became Bracebridge Hall. At the time of this writing the family name of Sir Peter is not known and all we do know is that he was of noble birth and from (or de) Bracebridge.

History tells us that in 1206 there was a dispute between Thomas de Arden who apparently was a descendant of Turchill de Arden and John de Kingsbury, otherwise known as John Bracebridge over the manor of Kingsbury. Thomas was unable to succeed in his claim and by 1208 he signed a quitclaim giving any knight's fee he may have held in Kingsbury Manor over to John. This John Bracebridge seems to be the earliest on record of someone using the surname of Kingsbury. It is this researcher's thesis that our ancestors are in fact this Bracebridge family. In 1300 we find the name of Gilbert de Kingsbury recorded as the priest of Saint Peter and Saint Paul Church in Kingsbury. It should be noted that the church grounds are just over the south wall of Kingsbury Manor and there is every reason to believe that Gilbert was a member of the Bracebridge family. Since they were of the educated nobility, it was often expected of one of the younger sons of the family that they study theology and become ordained in the local parish. The next date of significance to our purposes here is 1369 when the name of William de Kyngesbery appears on the rolls of Caxton Manor in Little Cornard, Suffolk which is part of East Anglica about 120 miles east-southeast of Kingsbury in Warwickshire. It would appear that William may have been the owner of another manor and owed his allegiance to the Lord of Caxton Manor. With the surname de Kingsbury (from Kingsbury) and noting that he was of noble birth, it can be easy to assume that he was part of the Bracebridge family. It would be interesting to know why he made this journey at this time and why he settled in Suffolk, but it seems that this will be a project for another researcher to ferret out. For me, I am content to have made the connection to the great parish of Kingsbury.

+16 i. Sir Peter de Bracebridge (born about 1099).

11. Aelfgar Earl of East Anglia and Mercia (Leofric of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1030 in Warwickshire, England.

Aelfgar Earl of East Anglia and Mercia had the following children:

17 i. Edwin Earl of Mercia was born about 1048 in England. He died in 1071. Sources indicate that Aelfgar may have been killed.
18 ii. Morcar Earl of Northumbria was born about 1052 in England. He died about 1074 in England.
+19 iii. Leverunia Granddaughter of Leofric & Godiva (born about 1056).

13. Osbert de Clinton (Renebault-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1122 in Kenilworth Castle, Warwickshire, England. The surname of de Clinton is derived from the village of Clinton which was in the Valley of Oxfordshire and is presently known as Glympton.

Osbert de Clinton had the following children:

+20 i. Osbert de Clinton (born in 1154).

14. Turchil de Arden Earl of Warwick (Alwyne-3, Guy de-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1050 in Arden, Warwick, England. Turchil was born and raised in the country of Arden and was one of the first to use the surname of de Arden. Most of the land north of the Avon River was known as Arden and as lord of the land Turchill assumed the surname of de Arden. He was a direct descendant of Guy of Warwick and seems to have resided at Kingsbury Hall. The original structure was built sometime around the time of King Offa of Mercia who became King in 757 AD.

Turchil de Arden Earl of Warwick and Leverunia Granddaughter of Leofric & Godiva were married about 1075 in England. Leverunia Granddaughter of Leofric & Godiva (daughter of Aelfgar Earl of East Anglia and Mercia) was born about 1056 in Coventry, Warwickshire, England. At this time the lands of Kingsbury were once again part of the estate of her grandmother, the Lady Godiva of Coventry. Turchil de Arden Earl of Warwick and Leverunia Granddaughter of Leofric & Godiva had the following children:

+21 i. Osbert de Arden (born about 1085).
22 ii. Roger de Arden was born about 1090 in Honiley, Warwickshire, England.
23 iii. Suvardus de Arden was born about 1095 in Redbourne Cheney, Wiltshire, England.

Fifth Generation

15. 1100 Ancestor (1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) .

+24 i. 1135 Ancestor.

16. Sir Peter de Bracebridge[5,6] (1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1099 in Bracebridge, Lincolnshire, England. He died about 1180 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. The estate of Kingsbury, which included Kingsbury Hall, was under the lordship of both the Arden and the Marmion families who also held land in Lincolnshire. Thus the marriage between Sir Peter and Amecia de Arden was most likely more of a political arrangement rather than a love match. It is not known if the couple resided at Kingsbury Manor or not, but they certainly were involved in the management of the estate. Kingsbury Hall would remain as the residence of the Bracebridge family for approximately 460 years until it was lost in financial disputes and questionable sales by Sir Thomas Bracebridge in 1590. However, even after the manor itself was lost to the family, the parish of Kingsbury would remain a source of income to the Bracebridge family for centuries in Atherstone.

Sir Peter was a knight under the Earl of Chester. As a knight he was expected to provide forty days a year to military training or castle guard duty. In wartime, he would be expected to enter the fight for his king. This was all a very expensive responsibility and he would be expected to furnish his own horses, equipment, and attendants.

Toward the end of the century it appears that Peter and his wife created a chanty in the north aisle of the church next to Kingsbury Hall where the priest could pray for the souls of him and his wife's souls.

There are records of two halls with the name of Bracebridge in the early 15th century with a South Bracebridge Hall in 1400 and a North Bracebridge Hall in 1433. We can only imagine that there must have been an earlier family residence of substance prior to this time, but as yet we have not found any records. The current Bracebridge Hall was built by Francis J. Clarke, the mayor of Lincoln, in 1874 very near to the River Witham and he lived there for fourteen years before his death at age 46. Francis Clarke is buried in the All Saints Church Cemetery in Bracebridge. Bracebridge Hall later changed its name to Grosvenor Hall and is a private nursing facility. This particular residence obviously is not the ancestral home of the Bracebridge family, but the lands may quite possibly be part of their domain. The now famous Bracebridge Hall noted in the writings of Washington Irving was most certainly that of Aston Manor in Birmingham, the beautiful residence of the Holt family. This magnificent manor became part of the estate of Sir Charles Bracebridge through his marriage to Mary Holt, but it was soon lost to the family due to debt.

Sir Peter de Bracebridge and Amicia Arden were married about 1135 in England.[7] This marriage links the

[7] Kenneth J. Kingsbury, Notes - Editorial. The writings of Washington Irving seem to deal with a branch of the Bracebridge

Bracebridge family to that of Leofric of Mercia and the Lady Godiva, the Arden family of Warwick, and the rulers of Tamworth Castle. Amecia was in fact the Great Great Granddaughter of Leofric, Earl of Mercia and the Lady Godiva. Amicia Arden (daughter of Osbert de Arden) was born about 1115 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Sir Peter de Bracebridge and Amicia Arden had the following children:

25 i. Sir John de Bracebridge I[8] was born about 1145 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1218 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. When Peter Bracebridge married Amicia Arden and they settled in Kingsbury Manor, the Arden family ended up settling in Curdworth at Park Hall just southwest of Kingsbury. When Thomas Arden and John de Kingsbury-Bracebridge had their dispute in 1206, Thomas actually challenged John to a duel to settle the matter. John however, wisely took it to the law and won his case. Both men claimed title to the land because of their descendants from Earl Leofwine, but in the end the Knights court recognized that John de Bracebridge held the stronger claim because he had the direct line from the Lady Godiva through his mother. Thomas de Arden tried once more using another legal tactic, but the Knights court again ruled in John's favor and that was the end of the dispute. However, the animosity simmered for years between the two families much like that between the ancient Montagues and Capulets.

The manor that John fought so hard to keep was a substantial prize indeed. It stretched north to include Cliff and Whatley; east to include Hurley, Kimberley, and Plumpton; south to what are now Brook End and Foul End; west to Bodymoor Heath and the borders of Staffordshire. With this estate the Bracebridge family was not considered wealthy, but they were very comfortable and considered part of the "middling gentry" with an annual income of about 250 BSP per year.

It was during this legal skirmish that we discover one of the early records of a member of the Bracebridge family using the surname "de Kingsbury" to refer to himself in a legal document. The custom seems consistent enough to merit our assumption that the Kingsbury family of today descends from the Bracebridge family.

+26 ii. William de Bracebridge (born about 1155).

27 iii. Robert Bracebridge was born about 1160 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

19. Leverunia Granddaughter of Leofric & Godiva (-4, Leofric of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1056 in Coventry, Warwickshire, England. At this time the lands of Kingsbury were once again part of the estate of her grandmother, the Lady Godiva of Coventry.

Leverunia Granddaughter of Leofric & Godiva and Turchil de Arden Earl of Warwick were married about 1075 in England. Turchil de Arden Earl of Warwick (son of Alwyne Horne) was born about 1050 in Arden, Warwick, England. Turchil was born and raised in the country of Arden and was one of the first to use the surname of de Arden. Most of the land north of the Avon River was known as Arden and as lord of the land Turchill assumed the surname of de Arden. He was a direct descendant of Guy of Warwick and seems to have resided at Kingsbury Hall. The original structure was built sometime around the time of King Offa of Mercia who became King in 757 AD. Osbert de Clinton and Margaret de Hatton were married about 1174 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. Margaret de Hatton (daughter of William de Hatton and Matilda) was born about 1158 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. Osbert de Clinton and Margaret de Hatton had the following children:

+28	i.	Baron Osbert de Clinton (born about 1180).

21. Osbert de Arden (Turchil de-4, Alwyne-3, Guy de-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1085 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Osbert lived at Kingsbury Manor during the reign of King Stephen (1135-1154). This was a difficult period in English history and in order for Osbert to secure a stronger position for himself he built a church next to his home. It was built about 1150 and named the Church of Saint Peter and Saint Paul. The walls of the chancel area are most likely part of this original structure. Osbert gave the church to the nuns of Mergate, in Bedfordshire.

Osbert de Arden had the following children:

26. William de Bracebridge[9] (Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1155 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1241 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Since his older brother, John Bracebridge, did not have any heirs at his death in 1218, William Bracebridge became lord of the manor at that time. About 1220 William Bracebridge was given 30 acres of land at Drakenage, which was most likely a reward for his military assistance to the lords of Whitacre. Part of William's estate included the manors of Hurley and Whatley and in 1231 he exchanged about 100 acres of his land in Hurley with William de Hertiwell for a like amount of land at Noseley in Leicestershire. The Bracebridge family would later have a strong presence in Leicestershire.

William de Bracebridge was a knight whose work took him away from home frequently. In 1235 he was a Justice of the Assize at Warwick. In this capacity he was required to travel about the country presiding at different courts. As such it was his responsibility to audit the royal revenues, hear crown pleas, and make sure that everything was being administered properly. He seems to have traveled in this capacity for about two years.

When his father died in 1241, Anketil Bracebridge became the actual lord of the manor, but he only survived his father by a short seven years. William seems to be the one that arranged for his mother's comfort after the death of his father and she received the manor at Hurley as her dower and apparently moved there to live out her life.

William Bracebridge was also generous with the church in Kingsbury and was responsible for widening the aisles and installing new windows in the heavy stone walls to allow more light into the dim interior.

William de Bracebridge and Amice were married about 1180. Amice was born about 1158. William de Bracebridge and Amice had the following children:

Baron Osbert de Clinton and Elysont were married about 1205 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. Elysont was born in 1184 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. Baron Osbert de Clinton and Elysont had the following children:

29. Amicia Arden (Osbert de-5, Turchil de-4, Alwyne-3, Guy de-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1115 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

Amicia Arden and Sir Peter de Bracebridge were married about 1135 in England.[10] This marriage links the Bracebridge family to that of Leofric of Mercia and the Lady Godiva, the Arden family of Warwick, and the rulers of Tamworth Castle. Amecia was in fact the Great Great Granddaughter of Leofric, Earl of Mercia and the Lady Godiva. Sir Peter de Bracebridge[11,12] (son of 1070 Bracebridge) was born about 1099 in Bracebridge, Lincolnshire, England. He died about 1180 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. 33. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge I (William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1190 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1252 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. When Sir Ralph de Bracebridge became lord of Kingsbury Manor he began to immediately establish the proper alliances of various groups and collected as many of the funds obligated to him as he could. However, he died about 3 years later. There are very strong indications that the badly damaged effigy in the church of Saint Peter and Saint Paul of Kingsbury is from the 13th century and as such may be that of Sir Ralph.

Sir Ralph de Bracebridge I had the following children:

+36 i. Sir John de Bracebridge II (born about 1230).
+37 ii. Maud (Matilda) Bracebridge (born about 1234).
+38 iii. Unknown Bracebridge.

34. Baron Thomas de Clinton (Osbert de-6, Osbert de-5, Osbert de-4, Renebault-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1206 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. He died before 12 Jan 1277 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. Sir Thomas also served as one of the Justices of Austrey for the county of Warwick.

Baron Thomas de Clinton and Mazera de Bisege were married about 1228 in England. Mazera de Bisege (daughter of Baron James de Bisege) was born about 1210 in Baddesley, Warwickshire, England. Mazera inherited the property of her father, James de Bisege. On May 6, 1236 James de Bisege married the sister of the Queen and added the land of Ullesthorpe, Leicestershie, England to his land in Baddesley just a few miles northeast of Kingsbury. Through this marriage these lands passed to the Clinton family. Baron Thomas de Clinton and Mazera de Bisege had the following children:

+39 i. Lord of Amington Thomas de Clinton (born about 1231).
40 ii. Baron John Clinton was born about 1234 in Baddesley, Warwickshire, England. Sir john was one of the barons who fought against the king with Simon Montfort.
41 iii. Lord Osbert Clinton was born about 1236 in Baddesley, Warwickshire, England. Sir Osbert was the Lord of Austrey Manor in Warwickshire. When he died without a child, his land and title passed to Thomas II.

42 iv. Rector William Clinton was born about 1238 in Baddesley, Warwickshire, England. William served as the Rector of the Church in Austrey.

36. Sir John de Bracebridge II[13] (Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1230 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1294 in England. Sir John de Bracebridge II continued the economic inquiries that his father had initiated and gathered additional rents for the estate of Kingsbury. He was also a Knight and in 1256 paid the two gold marks "scutage" to King Henry III as the required fee to renew his knighthood. However, there was some error and the courts in Lincolnshire wanted him to pay a type of fee for tardiness, but Sir John fought the fee in court and won.

When civil unrest began to surface because several Barons felt that King Henry III and his son, Prince Edward was weak, irresponsible, and driving the country into bankruptcy, Sir John sided with the barons and joined the rebellion led by Simon de Montfort. Civil war broke out in 1264 and Sir John was with the younger Simon de Montfort in Northampton when they were attacked and Sir John was taken prisoner on 5 April, 1264. King Henry III was captured in the Battle of Lewes. On 9 January, 1265 Sir John was moved to Shrewsbury where he was held by Hugh de Turberville.

As a Knight, Sir John lost everything because of his ties to the rebels and his estates were given to Roger de Clifford. This had to have been very frustrating to him as he was still a prisoner when Prince Edward killed Simon de Montfort Sr. at Evesham. Young Simon and his brother, Henry de Montfort fled abroad and Sir John was freed, but not allowed to return to Kingsbury Hall. He went into hiding in the Isle of Axholme with some of the Barons until Prince Edward finally broke the rebels and they all submitted to the Dictum of Kenilworth.

As a Knight, Sir John was given the right to buy back his estates and in 1269 he leased his entire lordship out to Robert and Eva de Typitot who gave him #500 in the effort to regain his estates. It is not known where Sir John de Bracebridge lived during the remainder of his life, but it is possible that he lived on one of their estates in Bracebridge near Lincoln.

Sir John de Bracebridge II and Elisenta were married about 1255. Elisenta[14] was born about 1235 in England. She died after 1301 in England. Sir John de Bracebridge II and Elisenta had the following children:

+46 i. Sir John de Bracebridge III (born about 1258).
+47 ii. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge II (born about 1260).
+48 iii. Unknown Bracebridge (born about 1263).

She died after 1276 in Amington, Warwickshire, England. The Clinton family has a strong history as the Earls of Lincoln and may thus have had a long history of with the Bracebridge family. This was a very good marriage and certainly gave some prestige to the Bracebridge family. We see the Arms both in Kingsbury and Amington.

45. Earl of Warwick (9th) William de Beauchamp[16] (1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1237 in Beauchamp Roding, Hertfordshire, England. He was elected as Earl of Warwick in 1268 in Warwick, Warwickshire, England. He died on 5 Jun 1298 in Elmley, Worchester, England. William de Beauchamp was the nephew of William Mauduit, Earl of Warwick during the period 1263-1268. William Muaduit did little to fortify the Warwick Castle during his reign, even though the country was in the midst of the Baron's War between Henry III and a group of nobles who resented his rule. In 1264, John Giffard, Governor of Kenilworth Castle, attacked Warwick and took William Mauduit and his wife captive and held them for ransom. He died in 1268.

William de Beauchamp made a name for himself as a strong military commander under King Edward I, and was appointed the Earl of Warwick in 1268.

Earl of Warwick (9th) William de Beauchamp and Maud FitzJohn were married about 1261. Maud FitzJohn was born in 1244. She died in 1301. Earl of Warwick (9th) William de Beauchamp and Maud FitzJohn had the following children:

+57 i. Earl of Warwick (10th) Guy de Beauchamp (born about 1262).
+58 ii. Isabel Beauchamp (born about 1264).

46. Sir John de Bracebridge III[17] (John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1258 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1316 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Sir John de Bracebridge III continued the efforts of his father to regain their estates and in 1301 he was successful. He gave his widowed mother her dower in money rather than the land she preferred, but the family estate was restored. Sir John was given "Free Warren" to his estate in Kingsbury of Warwickshire, and the estates of Bracebridge and Wrawby in Lincolnshire. This was a special right given by the King which allowed the lord of the estate to hunt on the lands without paying the King for the privilege as everyone else was required to do. In fact others that would hunt on the Bracebridge lands were required to pay them.

Unlike his father before him, we can assume that Sir John de Bracebridge III was loyal to the King because Edward I appointed him as Commissioner of Array. Every county had a special Muster Roll of all those available for military service and, as the Commissioner, Sir John was responsible for the list in Warwickshire. However, by 1310 Sir John requested an exemption for the important offices of Juror, Sheriff, or Coroner. We are not told why he made this request of the new King Edward II, but it would seem that he may not have been in the best health. In 1311 Sir John set up a tiny chantry in the chapel near Baxterley about 4 miles east of Kingsbury and appointed Ralph de Redale as the first chantry priest. Although this was often very expensive, it was a natural occurrence because of the superstitious nature of the nobility.

Sir John de Bracebridge III had the following children:

59 i. Sir John de Bracebridge IV was born in 1306 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died about 1357 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.[18] Sir John IV was only age 10 when his father died and left him as lord of Kingsbury. As a minor he became the ward of Sir Robert de Mohaut who was the overlord of Kingsbury. However, Sir Mohaut was too busy to administer the estate so he gave the responsibility to the boy's uncle, Sir Ralph de Bracebridge II for the next 11 years.

[18] Carole Haines, The Bracebridges of Kingsbury; 12th - 16th Centuries. All records of Sir John seem to cease after this year. What follows is a twenty year period where the status of Kingsbury Hall is unknown.

His uncle seems to have died about 1350 for we see that Sir John de Bracebridge IV is acting as the lord of the manor in 1351. He made a settlement with John de Grendon for a total of 110 acres of Kingsbury land primarily for pasture and meadow land. The devastation of the Black Death had depleted the manpower needed to cultivate the land and now the emphasis was placed upon pasture lands. Sir John seems to have ventured into sheep farming and this could have been part of the introduction of the Bracebridge family into the textile industry. Sir John may have also increased his reliance on cattle.

An interesting side note here is that it seems Sir John went to Plumpton and for some unknown reason totally destroyed the manor house of William de Plumpton. William de Plumpton fled to Hartskill and carried with him the ancient Danish battle axe that hung on the manor wall. This battle axe apparently was the charter by which the family held the manor.

47. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge II[19] (John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1260 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died about 1350 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.[20] Sir Ralph Bracebridge seems to have taken it as his responsibility to make substantial improvements to the church. "The isles were widened, the chancel was doubled in length to give the clergy more space and a beautiful new east window was inserted that would have lit up the area." It was at this time that the grand north chapel was built with an arched entrance. It is supposed that this was for the private worship arrangement of the Bracebridge family. Sir Ralph may also be the person responsible for the stained glass windows depicting the various Coats of Arms of the family and the associated noble families.

Early in the 13th century a new tax was imposed that affected the nobility and the wealthy freeman. From this tax roll we see that the Kingsbury Manor, which included all the lands and people associated with the village of Kingsbury, we not what one would call a wealthy manor for the time. In 1327 there were about 475 people living in the entire manor.

Prior to the 14th century, Kingsbury Hall was only protected by a ditch and perhaps a wooden stockade, but it seems that it was Sir Ralph that built a stone wall around the buildings and provided a dry moat.

In 1346 Sir Ralph was summoned by King Edward III to join him in a campaign against France. We are not sure if he personally made this campaign as he would have been very elderly, but if he did they set sail from Portsmouth with 4,000 men at arms, 6,000 Welsh Infantry, and 12,000 archers. King Edward III and the Black Prince ravaged through Normandy and met the French Army as they crossed the river near Crecy. The French forces were soundly defeated and lost thousands of men in the battle. The English are said to have only lost two knights and 100 soldiers.

By 1348 the Black Death that had already devastated Europe, hit England and approximately a third of the population were killed by the dreaded disease. The village of Kingsbury was included in this devastation.

The assumption is made here that he must be a son or brother of Sir Ralph.

Unknown Bracebridge had the following children:

64 i. Gilbert de Kingsbury[24] was born about 1270 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He was ordained about 1300 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. It is very possible that Gilbert was a member of the Bracebridge family. Gilbert served as the Rector of the Kingsbury Church and his name appears on the rolls for the year 1300. We do not know where he came from, but it was common for the third male child to serve the church. Another possibility is that Gilbert came from Kingsbury Episcopi.

49. William Bracebridge (John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1265 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

Ailonore Clinton and Nicholas Stafford were married. Nicholas Stafford (son of Robert de Stafford and Alice Cobert) was born about 1250.

He died in 1310 in England. The surname of de Clinton is derived from the village of Clinton which was in the Valley of Oxfordshire and is presently known as Glympton.

Lord of Maxstoke John de Clinton and Ida Odingsells were married about 1290 in Pirton, Herfordshire, England. Ida Odingsells (daughter of Sir William de Odingsells and Countess of Warwick Ella Longespee FitzWalter) was born about 1270 in Maxstoke, Warwickshire, England. She died after 1 Mar 1320 in England. Ida's father was the lord of Maxstoke Castle in Warwickshire and Ida inherited the property which then passed to her husband. Lord of Maxstoke John de Clinton and Ida Odingsells had the following children:

He was elected as Earl of Warwick in 1298 in Warwick, Warwickshire, England. He died on 12 Aug 1315 in Warwick, Warwickshire, England.

Earl of Warwick (10th) Guy de Beauchamp and Alice de Toeni were married about 1310. Alice de Toeni was born in 1283. She died in 1324 in Warwick, Warwickshire, England. Earl of Warwick (10th) Guy de Beauchamp and Alice de Toeni had the following children:

+69 i. Thomas de Beauchamp (born in 1313).

58. Isabel Beauchamp (William de-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1264 in Beauchamp Roding, Hertfordshire, England. She died in 1306 in England. Not sure at this point of the actual ties to the le Blount family. Another credible source gives the information that Isabel was married to 1) Sir Patrick Chadworth and 2) Sir Hugh le Despenser, Earl of Winchester. Sir Hugh died 10/27/1326.

Isabel Beauchamp and Henry Lovet were married about 1284. Henry Lovet was born about 1260. Isabel Beauchamp and Henry Lovet had the following children:

70 i. Elmley Lovet was born about 1288 in England.

60. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge III[25] (Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1310 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1395 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. When Richard II became King of England, there is a reference to Sir Ralph Bracebridge. Sir Ralph and Lady Joan owned at least four manors in Kingsbury, Plumpton, Hurley, and Wilnecote. They also held land at Wragby, Deslingthorpe, Bracebridge, and Newton in Lincolnshire. Sir Ralph apparently collected 120 PS in rents from his Kingsbury tenants and the entire parish was valued at 166 PS. They seem to have had twenty servants working for them in Kingsbury Hall and Sir Ralph seems to have purchased his wine from Litchfield and Birmingham, his iron for horseshoes and paper from Coleshill, and his cloth, ale, and food supplies from Tamworth.

Sir Ralph seems to have made the majority of his income from the raising of cattle and there is no longer any mention of sheep raising at this time. He held pasture land at Allesley where he kept his cattle enroute to the market in Coventry.

Sir Ralph de Bracebridge III and Lady Beauchamp Joan were married about 1350. Lady Beauchamp Joan was born about 1330. She died in 1400 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. When her husband died, Lady Joan was left to manage the estate until her eldest son reached maturity. Later in her life there seems to be an indication that she was an invalid. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge III and Lady Beauchamp Joan had the following children:

+71 i. Edith Bracebridge (born in 1370).
72 ii. John Bracebridge was born in 1376 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1396 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. John died before he reached the age where he could become the lord of the estate.
+73 iii. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge IV (born in 1380).

John de Clinton II and Margery Corbert were married in Feb 1328 in Chaddesley Corbert, West Midlands, England. Margery Corbert was born about 1304 in Chaddesley Corbert, West Midlands, England. John de Clinton II and Margery Corbert had the following children:

Eleventh Generation

67. 1330 Ancestor (1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born date unknown. The Black Death or Bubonic Plague started in China in the late 1330s and did not really begin its spread to Europe until about 1347. It hit England in 1348 and lasted for two long years. The results were devastating. During a five year period while the plague struck Europe and England, it is said that 25 million people died. Roughly a third of the entire population of England was destroyed by this Black Death. In many cases entire villages were wiped out. In the tiny village of Cornard Parva (Great Cornard) in Suffolk there were 29 entire families that were totally destroyed. This phenomenal toll on human life also had a drastic effect on the economy. Since the plague often had it greatest impact on the commoners, the labor force was severely diminished. Those that survived could and did demand a much higher wage for their labor.

The economy of Suffolk was firmly based upon the textile industry and the Bracebridge family was a powerful presence in this industry. With the radical loss of skilled laborers in Great Cornard and Little Cornard, we can assume that this may have been one of the factors that brought Sir William to the Waldycroft Manor in Little Cornard. We are relatively certain that this William was from the Bracebridge family of Warwickshire and thus his name became Sir William de Kyngesbury.

During this period England was ruler from 1327 to 1377 by King Edward III, a great warrior king.

prominent noble family of Leicester and later generations would make this their home. It should also be noted that the grandchildren of Henry Brooksby's brother would settle in Suffolk and establish a branch of the family there. Could this have been the foundation of the development of the Kingsbury branch as well.

Edith Bracebridge and Henry Brokesby were married about 1400 in England. Henry Brokesby (son of William Brokesby and Joan) was born in 1370 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England. He died in 1457 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England. Edith Bracebridge and Henry Brokesby had the following children:

77	i.	Thomas Brokesby was born about 1410 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.
+78	ii.	William Brokesby (born about 1415).

Edith Bracebridge and Thomas Entwysill were married. Thomas Entwysill was born about 1420 in Dalby on the Wolds, Leicestershire, England.

73. Sir Ralph de Bracebridge IV (Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1380 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died about 1420.[27] After the Black Death, the land of Plumpton Manor had been given to Robert Waterson and Robert Fleming during their lifetimes and was to revert back to the Bracebridge family upon their death. Apparently these men were villeins that bought their freedom and leased the vacant land. Their families tried to challenge the reversion in court, but it did not hold up and the lands reverted to Sir Ralph.

Negotiating a good marriage was often a good source for additional family income and Sir Ralph seems to have negotiated a good deal with Sir William Newport for one of his daughters, Joan Newport. The couple were married when they were about 8 years of age.

Sir Ralph was knighted in 1403 at about the age of 21 and apparently a very highly respected knight of King Henry V. In 1419 the manor of Kingsbury was under the overlordship of the Earls of Warwick, and Sir Richard Beauchamp was called upon to supply weapons and men to the king for the protection of Calais. Sir Richard asked Sir Ralph to supply nine lances and seventeen archers. In return for this service Sir Richard leased Sir Ralph the manor, pools and park at Sutton for life. To this day one of the pools at Sutton Park is called Bracebridge Pool. It is very possible that Sir Ralph accompanied his archers to Calais and was highly enough thought of by King Henry V that he was one of the guardians of his infant son, the future King Henry VI.

Sir Ralph de Bracebridge IV had the following children:

+79	i.	Ralph Bracebridge V (born about 1402).
80	ii.	Simon Bracebridge was born about 1415 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

74. William de Kyngesburye Lord of Waldycroft[28,29] (Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1345 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He moved before 1369 to Little Cornard, Suffolk, England He died about 1414 in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England. William was a contemporary of Edward III to Henry IV. The name of William de Kyngesbury appears on the Court Rolls of Little Cornard Manor, Suffolk County as early as 1368 and continues until at least 1412. William may have been the father of John, but he may also have been an older brother. And in the early 1400s this William de Kyngesbury served as Lord of Wattyscroft, a manor in Little Cornard under the lordship of Thomas de Gray. A researcher in Little Cornard in 2003 mentioned that she had never seen anything about a Wattyscroft Manor as part of Caustons Hall, nor as a sub manor for Caxton Manor. However, these early Kingsburys were obviously part of the landed gentry, most likely involved in the politics of the time, and probably well educated. The records thus far do not clarify the origin of this family group, but there is every reason to believe that William came from Kingsbury Hall in Warwickshire and may have been part of the Bracebridge family. We can be sure that somewhere from these noble roots, the family of Kingsbury was established.

Dragons of Little Cornard:

Over the centuries there have been many myths about the famous Dragon Slayers of old England, the most famous of which was Beowulf in the early 6th century. Most of these myths are discounted as fictional, but historians have learned of late that there often is an element of truth in every myth. According to contemporary archeology we have discovered over 200 locations in Great Britain in which dinosaur activity has been discovered, and now historians are taking another look at the old legends of the dragons. Many of the old myths speak of a large lizard like animal that was "vast in body, with a crested head, teeth like a saw, and a tail extending to an enormous length". Today we might read this description and think of the Dilophosaurus Dinosaur. Many of the myths would also speak of the dragon breathing fire or spitting a lethal venom on its victims. Again we have learned that the Dilophosaurus would kill its prey with a toxic venom.

Which brings us to the situation near our ancestor's land in Little Cornard. There is a chronicle from 1405 that states "close to the town of Bures, near Sudbury, there has lately appeared, to the great hurt of the countryside, a dragon, vast in body, with a crested head, teeth like a saw, and a tail extending to an enormous length. Having slaughtered the shepherd of a flock, it devoured many sheep." Another chronicle preserved in the Canterbury Cathedral it is reported that on "the afternoon of Friday, September 26, 1449, two giant reptiles were seen fighting on the banks of the River Stour (near the village of Little Cornard) which marked the English county borders of Suffolk and Essex. One was black and the other reddish and spotted. After an hour long struggle that took place to the admiration of many beholding them, the black monster yielded and returned to its lair, the scene of the conflict being known ever since as Sharpfight Meadow." Current archeology states that all the dinosaurs became extinct about 180 million years ago, but we are still mystified regarding the possible historicity behind these old myths and legends of dragons in England.

It is of interest to note that in 2003 there is still a Kingsbury Meadow as part of Little Cornard and there is a Kingsbury House in the village.

Kingsburys of Suffolk:

The reasons why our family first appeared in Suffolk which is about 125 miles east/southeast of Kingsbury, Warwickshire, UK are not known at this time by this researcher. However, I would love to be able to have the time and resources to check into this one day. What we do know is that William de Kynesburye was living at Waldycroft Hall and on the rolls of Craxton Manor, Little Cornard, Suffolk, UK in 1368. We are not sure at this time regarding his status but he obviously owed his allegiance to the lord of Craxton Manor. Although we have no records at this time to show the heritage of William we have every reason to believe that he was of the Bracebridge family from Kingsbury Hall in Warwickshire and it is from this family move that the Kingsbury family of Suffolk had its beginnings. For now we will make this assumption. One of the first things that one learns from a visit to Suffolk County was how close all these little villages were to one another. Using Boxford as the focal point, we note that the village of Little Cornard is a short 4 3/4 miles west and Great Cornard is to the north of Little Cornard. Neither has any business district today and is generally part of the same area. Sadly we were told that nothing remains of the great manors of the Kingsbury family in either Parva Cornard (Little Cornard) or in Magna Cornard (Great Cornard). Apparently researchers have discovered signs of what appear to be moats where it is assumed that the manors once stood, but we are not able to be sure. Starting back at Boxford again, if one were to look up the hill to the north one would see Groton, the home of the Winthrop family, a very short walk of 3/4 mile from the center of Boxford. The Kingsbury's first came to America as part of the "Winthrop Fleet" and John Winthrop became the first Governor of Massachusetts. If we turn east just before we get to Groton and drive about 1 1/2 miles we run into the beautiful little community of Edwardstone. The village of Assington is a short 2 miles southwest of Boxford and apparently was the home of Henry Kingsbury the Elder at the time he decided to make the voyage with John Winthrop in 1630. Assington was also the home of Thomas Kingsbury at the time Henry Kingsbury, the nephew of Joseph and John was born. This Henry later made the voyage to America for his father and settled in Ipswich, MA. The very beautiful village of Stokes by Nayland is in the same vicinity being only 3 miles south of Boxford. For those who love golf they have a fantastic course just outside of the town. And if you appreciate the grandeur of the old churches, Saint Mary's Church of Stokes by Nayland is perhaps the most beautiful in the area, and has often been visited by the royal family of England. One interesting note here is that the very first gravestone that you see as you enter the church yard through the front gate is that of a Kingsbury. The stone was very old and I could not decipher all the writing, but the name Kingsbury was definitely there. The village of Great Waldingfield is about 3 1/2 miles north of Boxford and the great textile town of Lavenham is about 9 miles north/northwest of Boxford. The point that was driven home to me during my stay was that all these great villages that played such a prominent roll in the history of our family are all within a short 9 mile radius of Boxford. With all the walking trails in the area it would be very easy to walk from one home to another.

William de Kyngesburye Lord of Waldycroft had the following children:

+81 i. John de Kyngesburye (born about 1385).

75. Elizabeth Clinton (John de-10, John de-9, Maud (Matilda) Bracebridge-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1328 in Maxstoke, Warwickshire, England.

Elizabeth Clinton and John FitzWilliams were married about 1348 in England. John FitzWilliams (son of John FitzWilliams and Joan de Reresby) was born about 1325 in England. Elizabeth Clinton and John FitzWilliams had the following children:

82 i. William FitzWilliams was born about 1352 in Enley York, Yorkshire, England. He died on 8 Apr 1398 in England.

Twelfth Generation

76. 1370 Ancestor .

+83 i. 1400 Ancestor.

78. William Brokesby (Edith Bracebridge-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1415 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England. He died in 1523 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.

William Brokesby and Emma Myles were married about 1437 in England. Emma Myles was born about 1415 in England. William Brokesby and Emma Myles had the following children:

84 i. Robert Brokesby was born about 1440 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.
85 ii. Thomas Brokesby was born about 1444 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.
86 iii. Richard Brokesby was born about 1447 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.

William Brokesby and Elizabeth Staunch were married about 1460 in England. Elizabeth Staunch was born about 1430 in England. William Brokesby and Elizabeth Staunch had the following children:

+87 i. Bartholomew Brooksby (born about 1465).
88 ii. Edward Brooksby was born about 1467 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.
89 iii. Maurice Brooksby was born about 1469 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England.

79. Ralph Bracebridge V[30] (Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1402 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1436 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Ralph was the first Bracebridge in two hundred years that was not knighted. He did however hold the rank of Squire and thus would have paid money in lieu of military service. The country was still trying to recover from the ravages of the Black Death and the population began to gradually increase again. There seems to have been a problem with individuals allowing their cattle to roam unattended on the manor pasture lands and thus depriving the Bracebridge cattle of adequate grazing and hay. The family also seems to have had to defend their fishing rights on the River Tame.

Ralph Bracebridge V and Joan Newport were married in 1412 in Warwickshire, England. The very young bridge may have come to live in Kingsbury Hall to learn the responsibilities of becoming a nobleman's wife. Joan Newport (daughter of Sir William Newport) was born about 1404 in England. She died about 1435 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Ralph Bracebridge V and Joan Newport had the following children:

+90 i. Richard Bracebridge (born in 1427).
91 ii. Simon Bracebridge was born in 1430 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

81. John de Kyngesburye (William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1385 in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England. He died after 1450 in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England. The name of John de Kyngesbury first appears on the roll of Caxton Manor in 1414. It is not altogether sure if John and William were father and son, or if they were perhaps brothers.

John de Kyngesburye had the following children:

+92 i. Kyngesburye (born about 1435).

Thirteenth Generation

83. 1400 Ancestor .

+93 i. 1430 Ancestor.
+94 ii. Ancestor de Arden (born about 1400).

87. Bartholomew Brooksby (William-12, Edith Bracebridge-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1465 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England. He died on 7 May 1543 in England. He was buried in Melton Church Tomb about 12 May 1543 in Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire, England.[31] According to an historian named Burton, there was a tomb in this church made of Black Marble with two figures in brass. However, most of the tomb has been destroyed including all the inscriptions. It is said to have had the family arms engraved as "nebuly, argent and sable, in a canton gules a crescent or, Brokesby; impaling, vairy, argent and sable, a fess, gules, Bracebridge".

Bartholomew Brooksby and Elizabeth Bracebridge were married about 1490 in England. Elizabeth Bracebridge[32] (daughter of John Bracebridge VI and Elizabeth Harcourt) was born about 1468 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. She died about 1514 in England. Elizabeth Bracebridge was the second lady to marry into this prominent Leicester family.

90. Richard Bracebridge (Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1427 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1501 in England. Young Richard Bracebridge was only age nine when he and his brother became orphans. They apparently were placed in the guardianship of Sir Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick and overlord of Kingsbury manor. However, Sir Richard Beauchamp died in 1438, just two years later and the orphans seem to have been taken in by Sir Hugh Willoughby of Middleton Hall. Sir Hugh was a close neighbor and wealthy landowner at the time. The second wife of Sir Hugh was Lady Margaret Freville of Tamworth Castle and it would be their young daughter that married the young Richard Bracebridge. Sir Hugh owned a great deal of property in Nottinghamshire and Linclonshire.

The young couple made their home at Kingsbury Hall, but the Kingsbury manor still remained in the possession of Sir Hugh Richard Bracebridge and Joyce Willoughby were married about 1448 in Warwickshire, England. Joyce Willoughby (daughter of Sir Hugh Willoughby and Margaret Freville) was born about 1430 in Middleton Hall, Warwickshire, England. Richard Bracebridge and Joyce Willoughby had the following children:

+95 i. John Bracebridge VI (born about 1450).
96 ii. Baldwin Bracebridge was born about 1456 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.
+97 iii. Alice Bracebridge (born in 1460).

92. Kyngesburye (John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1435 in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England.

Kyngesburye had the following children:

+101 iii. Adam Winthrop (born about 1465).

94. Ancestor de Arden (1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1400.

Ancestor de Arden had the following children:

102 i. Thomas Arden was born about 1435 in England. He was living in 1474 in Curdworth, Warwickshire, England.
+103 ii. Walter de Arden (born about 1439).

95. John Bracebridge VI[33] (Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1450 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1516 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. John Bracebridge made very elaborate arrangements for his funeral in his will, but it would seem that very little of it was followed. Thus the question becomes what happened to the money that he designated to carry out his provisions. First he asked that he be buried in the choir of the Kingsbury Church under an alabaster effigy of himself and his wife. This did not appear to happen. He also arranged for a large steeple to be added to the church making it the most respected in the Arden Valley, but this too seems to have been dropped. John seems to have been a relatively wealthy man and bought back the wardship of Kingsbury manor. He also seems to have been responsible for adding the rather substantial east-west wing on Kingsbury Hall and added the family Coats of Arms to the windows. They ate their meals from silver plate and possibly pewter. We know that he increased the cultivation of the lands and grew corn and rye. John also added many significant improvements to the church by raising the roof over the chapel and the aisles and inserting a row of windows in the north wall.

John Bracebridge VI and Elizabeth Harcourt were married about 1467 in England. Elizabeth Harcourt (daughter of Sir Robert Harcourt) was born about 1450 in Stanton Harcourt, Oxfordshire, England. She died about 1475 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. John Bracebridge VI and Elizabeth Harcourt had the following children:

+104 i. Elizabeth Bracebridge (born about 1468).
+105 ii. Simon Bracebridge (born about 1470).

John Bracebridge VI and Mary Browne were married about 1476 in England. Mary Browne (daughter of Sir John Browne) was born about 1455. John Bracebridge VI and Mary Browne had the following children:

106 i. Anne Bracebridge[34] was born about 1480 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

John Bracebridge VI and Jane Mill were married about 1485 in Warwickshire, England. Jane Mill (daughter of Thomas Mill) was born about 1455 in England.

John Bracebridge VI and Rose Lucy were married about 1495 in Warwickshire, England. Rose Lucy[35] (daughter of Sir William Lucy) was born about 1456 in Charlecote, Warwickshire, England. She died in 1530 in Coventry, Warwickshire, England. In the will of John Bracebridge, Rose received the farm at Walton in Lincolnshire and all the silver plate, beds, and half of the moveable goods from Kingsbury Hall. She was also left some property at Bracebridge in Lincolnshire.

97. Alice Bracebridge (Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1460 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. When Peter Bracebridge married Amicia Arden and they settled in Kingsbury Manor, the Arden family ended up settling in Curdworth at Park Hall just southwest of Kingsbury. When Thomas Arden and John de Kingsbury-Bracebridge had their dispute in 1206, Thomas actually challenged John to a duel to settle the matter. John however, wisely took it to the law and won his case, but the animosity simmered for years between the two families much like that between the ancient Montagues and Capulets. By 1474 the two families were bitter enemies when the young Alice Bracebridge met the young John Arden and the two fell madly in love. Alice pleaded with Richard Bracebridge, her father to allow John to become her suitor and finally the elder Bracebridge gave his permission. However, the stubborn Thomas Arden would have none of it. Even though the Bracebridge family could trace their ancestry to Arthgal, a Knight of King Arthur's Round Table, he was not about to allow a Bracebridge in his family by marriage to his son. By now Richard Bracebridge was completely behind the wishes of his daughter and waited for the right time to act. So when word came that Thomas Arden was away visiting his other estates, Richard gathered some of his men and they raided Park Hall, kidnapping a very willing John Arden. This time the Arden family went to the law to try and prevent the marriage, but once again they lost and the couple were married. However, the Lords decided that Richard should give Thomas Arden the finest horse in Kingsbury as compensation for trespassing on his lands. John and Alice were married and lived happily ever after at Peddimore. Well...... there is more to the story, but we will leave that for another day. The interesting side note to our history lesson here is that a descendant of the Arden family, Mary Arden would live in Stratford Upon Avon and marry into the family of Shakespeare. Their son, William Shakespeare would one day write the beautiful, yet tragic story of Romeo and Juliet.

Alice Bracebridge and Sir John Arden were married in Feb 1474 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Sir John Arden[36] (son of Walter de Arden and Eleanor Hampden) was born in 1460 in Curdworth, Warwickshire, England. The Arden family were the lords of Park Hill Manor. Alice Bracebridge and Sir John Arden had the following children:

107 i. Thomas Arden was born about 1490 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.
108 ii. John Arden was born about 1492 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.
109 iii. Geys Arden was born about 1494 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.
110 iv. Katharine Arden was born about 1496 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.
111 v. Arden was born about 1497 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.
112 vi. Margaret Arden was born about 1499 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.
113 vii. Thomas Bralis Arden was born about 1501 in Peddimore Manor, Warwickshire, England.

98. John Kyngesbury (-13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1480 in Cornard Magna, Suffolk, England. He died before 10 Aug 1539 in Cornard Magna, Suffolk, England. Among the wills in probate registry at Bury St. Edmunds, in Suffolk, is that of John Kyngesbury, the elder, of Cornard Magna, dated 10 Aug 1539. He was probably a descendant of the man of the same name who was living in Little Cornard rather more than one hundred years before. He bequeaths his soul to Almighty God and to our Lady Saynte Mary, and to all the blessed Saints in Glorye, and desires his body to be buried in the churchyard of St. Andrewes of Cornard. He mentions his wife, Elyn, his daughters Ysbell, Alyns, and Crystan, and two sons, John the elder and John the younger. In 1542 these two johns are listed in the Lay Subsidy Rolls, one of Cornard Magna and one of Cornard Parva.

John Kyngesbury and Elyn were married about 1500. Elyn was born about 1479 in Cornard Magna, Suffolk, England. John Kyngesbury and Elyn had the following children:

114 i. Ysbell Kyngesbury was born in Cornard Magna, Suffolk, England.
115 ii. Alyns Kyngesbury was born in England.
116 iii. Crystan Kyngesbury was born in England.
+117 iv. John Kyngesbury the Elder (born about 1501).
+118 v. John Kingsbury the Younger (born about 1510).

"The King to all to whom &c., Greeting. When, at the late dissolution of the monastery of St Albans, there came thence a certain Thomas Kyngesburye, a monk of that place at the time of dissolution, and for a long time previously. We, wishing to bestow upon the said Thomas a worthy annual pension or suitable allowance for his support and better maintenance. Know ye, therefore, that we , in consideration of our promises, of our special grace and with full knowledge and of our own motion, with the advice of the Chancellor and Court of Augmentation of the Revenues of our Crown, have given and conceded and by these presents do give and concede to the said Thomas an annuity or annual pension of L#33.6p.8d. sterling."

King Henry VIII, abt Feb., 1540

Appointed Archdeacon and Commissary by Robert Cotton.

St Albans Monastery was apparently a strong Benedictine Order. The Benedictine monks of this time were the most respected and highly educated in the world. The Abbot of St Albans even had a seat in the House of Lords. Thus it would be natural for King Henry VIII to provide for this respected monk.

122 iv. Thomas Kingsbury was born before 1495 in England. He was ordained in 1517 in Hertford, Herts, England. Thomas was ordained as the Arch Deacon of Saint Albans Monastery. He died before 1531 in St Albans, Hertford, England.

He was living in 1490 in Lavenham, Suffolk, England. He died about 1516 in Lavenham, Suffolk, England. At this time we are not sure where the family originated from, but Adam and Joan appeared in Lavenham on the 1490 records. Not much is recorded about this early Winthrop family, but we do know that they lived on Barn Street and apparently one member of the family was a skillful wood carver. The home on Barn Street eventually became the Grammar School of Lavenham and there is an elaborate wood carving on the ground floor with the initial W in the center. Other than this there does not seem to be any other records of the family.

She died about 1514 in England. Elizabeth Bracebridge was the second lady to marry into this prominent Leicester family.

Elizabeth Bracebridge and Bartholomew Brooksby were married about 1490 in England. Bartholomew Brooksby (son of William Brokesby and Elizabeth Staunch) was born about 1465 in Leicester, Leicestershire, England. He died on 7 May 1543 in England. He was buried in Melton Church Tomb about 12 May 1543 in Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire, England.[39] According to an historian named Burton, there was a tomb in this church made of Black Marble with two figures in brass. Simon Bracebridge and Elizabeth Harewell were married about 1489 in Warwickshire, England. Elizabeth Harewell (daughter of Sir William Harewell) was born about 1470 in Wooten Wawen, Warwickshire, England. Elizabeth's father was a very significant landowner in Wooten Wawen. Since her husband was already dead at the time of the death of her father-in-law, John Bracebridge, she inherited land and property at Bracebridge in Lincolnshire for her children. Simon Bracebridge and Elizabeth Harewell had the following children:

+132 i. Thomas Bracebridge the Elder (born in 1490).
+133 ii. Sybil Bracebridge (born about 1495).

117. John Kyngesbury the Elder (John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1501 in Little Cornard, Suffolk, England. He died in 1558 in Newton, Suffolk, England.

Mentioned in the Probate Will of his father, John Kyngesbury, the Elder. In 1578 he is listed as living in Edwardstone, and adjacent parish.

John Kingsbury the Younger and Alice were married about 1530. Alice was born about 1510 in England. John Kingsbury the Younger and Alice had the following children:

+142 ii. Roger Kingsbury (born about 1539).

Sixteenth Generation

119. 1500 Ancestor . This is a list of the interesting customs that come from our 16th century ancestor.

1) Bread was divided according to status. Workers got the burnt bottom of the loaf, the family got the middle, and guests got the top, or "upper crust."

2) Lead cups were used to drink ale or whisky. The combination would sometimes knock them out for a couple of days. Someone walking along the road would take them for dead and prepare them for burial. They were laid out on the kitchen table for a couple of days and the family would gather around and eat and drink and wait and see if they would wake up - hence the custom of holding a "wake."

3) Most people got married in June because they took their yearly bath in May and still smelled pretty good by June. However, they were starting to smell so brides carried a bouquet of flowers to hide the body odor. Hence the custom today of carrying a bouquet when getting married.

4) Bathing consisted of a big tub filled with hot water. The man of the house had the privilege of the nice clean water, then all the other sons and men, then the women and finally the children, -last of all the babies. By then the water was so dirty you could actually lose someone in it - hence the saying, "Don't throw the baby out with the bath water."

[40] Will-Probate Records. Listed in the probate records of his father.

5) The floor was dirt. Only the wealthy had something other than dirt, hence the saying "dirt poor." The wealthy had slate floors that would get slippery in the winter when wet, so they spread thresh (straw) on the floor to help keep their footing. As the winter wore on, they kept adding more thresh until when you opened the door it would all start slipping outside. A Piece of wood was placed in the entranceway - hence, a "thresh hold."

6) Those with money had plates made of pewter. Food with high acid content caused some of the lead to leach onto the food, causing lead poisoning and death. This happened most often with tomatoes, so for the next 400 years or so, tomatoes were considered poisonous in England:

7) England is old and small and the local folks started running out of places to bury people. So they would dig up coffins and would take the bones to a "bone-house" and reuse the grave. When reopening these coffins, 1 out of 25 coffins were found to have scratch marks on the inside and they realized they had been burying people alive. So they thought they would tie a string on the wrist of the corpse, lead it through the coffin and up through the ground and tie it to a bell. Someone would have to sit out in the graveyard all night (the "graveyard shift") to listen for the bell; thus, someone could be "saved by the bell" or was considered a "dead ringer."

+144 i. 1530 Ancestor.
145 ii. Richard Kyngesburye was born before 1500 in England. He was ordained before 1535 in Forde, Devon, England. He died after 1540 in England.[41] Vol. 234 pp63ff.

On May 31, 1540 King Henry VIII gave an annual pension to a monk from the Abbey of Forde in Devon County, ENG in the amount of L#5. It was noted that Richard had been a monk at the Abby for a long time and that he was also known as Richard de Sherman.
+146 iii. John Kingsbury (born about 1500).
+147 iv. Robert Streatfield (born in 1514).

120. John Alexander Webb (1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1470 in England.

John Alexander Webb had the following children:

+148 i. Henry Webb (born on 11 May 1510).
+149 ii. Mary Webb (born on 5 Feb 1511).
+150 iii. Abigail Webb (born on 6 Jun 1515).

123. Adam Winthrop II (Adam-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1498 in Lavenham, Suffolk, England. He died in 1562 in Edwardstone, Suffolk, England. It is interesting to note that in his will, Adam Winthrop II rejected the normal "eldest son" birthright status of his son, William Winthrop, and instead gave his ownership of Groton Manor to John Winthrop who was only age 17 at the time. One reason given for this move is that apparently William was very active in the radical Protestant movement of the time and associated himself with the teachings of William Foxe. About the age of twenty, it was decided that the young Adam Winthrop II should pursue a career in the textile industry which was in its zenith in Suffolk at that time. It could be that his step-father could have had some influence in this course of action. In any event, it was decided that Adam should become an apprentice to a fuller company in London (a fuller is one who works with cloth). Adam was fortunate enough to become the apprentice to Edward Altham of London who was later to become the sheriff of London. By 1526 Adam completed his apprenticeship and was admitted to the Liberty of the City of London. He was now considered an important craftsman and began to associate in the more politically significant circles of society.

Adam Winthrop purchased some land in Edwardstone where they made their home and by 1542 also was the owned of Groton Manor. This was the period of religious turmoil in England (and all over the world for that matter) and Adam was granted the property in Groton as part of the divestiture of Roman Catholic church property by King Henry VIII. As the new lord of Groton Manor Adam Winthrop naturally gained new responsibilities and some significant income. Part of the responsibility was the care of the local parish, the beautiful Saint Bartholomew Church. To handle the daily operations of the parish Adam turned to his step-brother, Roger ponder who became the new Rector of the church.

As his wealth grew, Adam attained a position of prominence and by 1548 was granted the right to bear a family Coat of Arms. The Winthrop family was now part of the landed nobility and in 1551 Adam became a Master of the Cloth Workers Company.

Adam Winthrop II and Alice Hunne were married about 1527 in England. There were four children born to this marriage, but three died in infancy. Only William survived childhood. Alice Hunne was born about 1502 in England. She died in 1533 in England. Adam Winthrop II and Alice Hunne had the following children:

151 i. William Winthrop was born in 1529 in London, London, England. At the time of the death of his father (1562), William should have been given the rights of the first born son and received ownership of Groton Manor. However, his father gave this right to John, the younger son who was only 17 at the time. One reason given for this was that perhaps Adam Winthrop did not agree with the religious beliefs of his son who followed the more radical religious teachings of William Foxe.

Adam Winthrop II and Agnes Sharpe were married in 1534 in England. Agnes Sharpe was born about 1515 in Islington, Middlesex, England. She died about 1572 in England. Adam Winthrop II and Agnes Sharpe had the following children:

152 i. Alice Winthrop was born about 1537 in London, London, England.
+153 ii. Bridget Winthrop (born about 1539).
154 iii. Mary Catherine Winthrop was born about 1542 in London, London, England.
155 iv. John Winthrop was born in 1546 in Edwardstone, Suffolk, England. At the time of his mother's death (abt 1572), John Winthrop assumed the rights and responsibilities his father had left to him as the Lord of Groton Manor. However, john was a different individual and espoused many of the religious leanings of his step brother, William. John's first marriage apparently did not last very long and ended up in bitter lawsuits. Then his radical Protestant beliefs did not sit very well during the turmoil of the times during the reigns of Queen Mary I (1553-1558 known as Bloody Mary), Queen Elizabeth I (1558-1603), and King James I (1603-1625). John decided to leave England and acquired land in Protestant Ireland. In Ireland he decided to marry again even though the Church considered his first marriage still valid. Legally there was nothing to prevent this marriage, but the church considered it to be bigamy. Adam Winthrop III was sitting in Saint Bartholomew Church when the Rector read the official excommunication of his brother John. Adam was called upon to step in and resolve the legal difficulties this created and to assume the role as Lord of Groton Manor in the place of his excommunicated brother.
+156 v. Adam Winthrop III (born in 1548).
157 vi. Susan Winthrop was born in 1551 in Edwardstone, Suffolk, England.

125. Sir John Arden[42] (Walter de-15, Ancestor de-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1460 in Curdworth, Warwickshire, England. The Arden family were the lords of Park Hill Manor.

Sir John Arden and Alice Bracebridge were married in Feb 1474 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Alice Bracebridge (daughter of Richard Bracebridge and Joyce Willoughby) was born in 1460 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. When Peter Bracebridge married Amicia Arden and they settled in Kingsbury Manor, the Arden family ended up settling in Curdworth at Park Hall just southwest of Kingsbury. When Thomas Arden and John de Kingsbury-Bracebridge had their dispute in 1206, Thomas actually challenged John to a duel to settle the matter. John however, wisely took it to the law and won his case, but the animosity simmered for years between the two families much like that between the ancient Montagues and Capulets. By 1474 the two families were bitter enemies when the young Alice Bracebridge met the young John Arden and the two fell madly in love. Alice pleaded with Richard Bracebridge, her father to allow John to become her suitor and finally the elder Bracebridge gave his permission. However, the stubborn Thomas Arden would have none of it. Even though the Bracebridge family could trace their ancestry to Arthgal, a Knight of King Arthur's Round Table, he was not about to allow a Bracebridge in his family by marriage to his son. By now Richard Bracebridge was completely behind the wishes of his daughter and waited for the right time to act. So when word came that Thomas Arden was away visiting his other estates, Richard gathered some of his men and they raided Park Hall, kidnapping a very willing John Arden. This time the Arden family went to the law to try and prevent the marriage, but once again they lost and the couple were married. However, the Lords decided that Richard should give Thomas Arden the finest horse in Kingsbury as compensation for trespassing on his lands. John and Alice were married and lived happily ever after at Peddimore. Well...... there is more to the story, but we will leave that for another day. The interesting side note to our history lesson here is that a descendant of the Arden family, Mary Arden would live in Stratford Upon Avon and marry into the family of Shakespeare. Their son, William Shakespeare would one day write the beautiful, yet tragic story of Romeo and Juliet. Sir John Arden and Alice Bracebridge had the following children:

107 i. Thomas Arden (born about 1490).
108 ii. John Arden (born about 1492).
109 iii. Geys Arden (born about 1494).
110 iv. Katharine Arden (born about 1496).
111 v. Arden (born about 1497).
112 vi. Margaret Arden (born about 1499).
113 vii. Thomas Bralis Arden (born about 1501).

126. Thomas Arden (Walter de-15, Ancestor de-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1469 in Wilmcote, Aston, Cantlowe, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1546 in England.

Thomas Arden had the following children:

158 i. Robert Arden was born about 1497 in Wilmcote, Aston, Cantlowe, Warwickshire, England. He died before 1526 in England.
+159 ii. Grace Arden (born about 1512).
+160 iii. Robert Arden (born about 1510).

132. Thomas Bracebridge the Elder[43] (Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1490 in Hurley, Warwickshire, England. He died on 24 Feb 1569 in Twyford, Derbyshire, England. The financial situation of Thomas seems to be a bit confusing. It would appear that he had a substantial income from various properties, including Kingsbury manor, Bracebridge manor, Hurley manor, Stateley, Holt, and Cliff. He gave his eldest son, William Bracebridge, the property at Bracebridge manor and then became concerned when his son sold the property. Now he turned his attention to his sons by his second marriage and did what he could to provide for their future. He seems to have tried to accomplish this with a series of sales of his property with lease back and revision clauses. One must wonder if Thomas was not heavily in debt, perhaps as the result of all the alterations to Kingsbury Hall.

When Thomas the Elder started to sell Kingsbury Hall and the manor of Kingsbury, his son Thomas attempted to forcefully lay claim to the manor as his rightful inheritance. Some of his methods were in question and Thomas the younger was indicted and imprisoned for his actions, but in the end he did save Kingsbury manor as part of his rightful inheritance. By this time Thomas the Elder had married his third wife and they settled in Twyford.

Thomas Bracebridge the Elder and Lady Jane Catesby were married about 1516 in Warwickshire, England. Lady Jane Catesby (daughter of George Catesby and Elizabeth Empson) was born about 1501 in Lapworth, Warwickshire, England. She died in 1536 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. The Catesby family were very prominent members of the English nobility and ardent proponents of the Roman Catholic Church. A descendant of this line, Robert Catesby, born 1573 at Lapworth, Warwickshire, England to Sir William Catesby of Lapworth and Lady Anne Throckmorton of Coughton, was the leader of the historic Gunpowder Plot on 5 November, 1605. On this date Guy Fawkes was discovered in the cellar of Parliament House attempting to blow up the Parliament, the King, and his Lords. The idea was to throw the country into turmoil and raise a new monarch that would be sympathetic to their cause and the re-establishment of the Catholic Church as the official religion of England. There were thirteen nobles involved in the plot of which Robert Catesby was the leader.

Joan's brother married lady Dorothy Spencer who was the ancestor of Lady Diane Spencer, the late Princes of Wales. Thomas Bracebridge the Elder and Lady Jane Catesby had the following children:

+161 i. William Bracebridge (born in 1516).
162 ii. Richard Bracebridge was born about 1525 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died Young in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.
+163 iii. Edward Bracebridge (born about 1530).
164 iv. Gelin Bracebridge was born about 1534 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died Young in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.

Thomas Bracebridge the Elder and Joyce Wilson were married about 1537 in Warwickshire, England. Joyce Wilson (daughter of Thomas Wilson) was born about 1493 in England. She died in Nov 1557 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Joyce Wilson was the daughter of a tenant in Kingsbury manor. Thomas Bracebridge the Elder and Joyce Wilson had the following children:

+165 i. Thomas Bracebridge the Younger (born about 1537).
+166 ii. Simon Bracebridge (born about 1540).
+167 iii. Anketill Bracebridge (born about 1544).
+168 iv. John Bracebridge (born about 1548).
+169 v. Prudence Bracebridge (born about 1552).
+170 vi. Hester Bracebridge (born about 1555).

Thomas Bracebridge the Elder and Elizabeth Winter were married about 1558 in Warwickshire, England. Elizabeth Winter (daughter of George Winter) was born about 1520 in Worthington, Leicestershire, England.

133. Sybil Bracebridge (Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1495 in Hurley, Warwickshire, England.

Sybil Bracebridge and William Waldive were married about 1515. William Waldive was born about 1490 in Hurley, Warwickshire, England.

134. William Kyngesbury (John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8,

He died in 1560 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Shortly after their marriage his father settle some of the rents from Kingsbury with William and gave him the manor of Bracebridge. Some sources, including Sir William Dugdale, seem to think there was tension between the father and his first born male heir, but everything may have been amicable between them. What we do know is that William Bracebridge sold Bracebridge manor and Thomas tried unsuccessfully to stop the sale.

He died in 1607 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. As a young man of only 21, Thomas the younger found it necessary to challenge the actions of his father to preserve his rights to Kingsbury manor and Kingsbury Hall. Some of his actions were considered illegal and he was imprisoned for a short time, but he did preserve his rights and control over Kingsbury manor. By 1583 some very devious financial deals were made with his distant cousin, Sir Francis Willoughby and ownership to Kingsbury Hall was sold with the possibility that Thomas could pay the money back and regain the property. Thomas Bracebridge was not able to come up with the money, but did illegally sell off leases and wood from the manor to raise cash. When Sir Francis Willoughby discovered this he had Thomas Bracebridge placed in debtor's prison for trial. The courts decided in favor of Sir Francis and the Bracebridge family lost Kingsbury Hall forever. By the time of his death Thomas Bracebridge was virtually without funds.

Thomas Kingsbury and Suzan Clampyn were married on 16 Jan 1583 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. Suzan Clampyn was born about 1560.

182. James Kingsbury (James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 6 Sep 1562 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He was christened on 6 Sep 1562 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He died on 26 Apr 1622 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. In his will there was a directive that a large sum of money be given to the poor at the time of his funeral. This is the sign of a very wealthy man, as well as a generous man. He was buried about 2 May 1622 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. We could spend a lot of time going over the history of the area, but that is another book. For now we will share a few comments on Boxford in Suffolk because it is the ancestral home of the family that sailed to the new world. The Kingsbury family spread out from various sources in Warwickshire and Little Cornard until they settled all over England and eventually the world. It is in Boxford that the name Kingsbury became firmly established as the family name and every Kingsbury in England today is aware of the Kingsbury Building industry of Boxford. The village itself received its name very early because of a "ford" in the river by the "box" trees that were plentiful in the area at the time. People began to refer to it as the Box Ford and as it developed into a village it became Boxford. Today this river runs through the center of the village and along the back edge of the church grounds. However, I must say that when I first saw the Box River, I would not have guessed that this was the river being referred to here. When we think of rivers in America we think of the great Ohio River or the Mississippi River and the other great rivers of our land that served as the routes of migration and commerce. These rivers are not to be found in England. There are very few rivers in England suitable for navigation, and travel in the early days was seldom associated with the rivers. The Box River in fact is nothing more than a tiny stream of water that can be easily wadded across at any point. Nevertheless, it is a pretty stream and adds to the charm of the village of Boxford. It should also be noted here that the village of Boxford even today has strong agricultural roots and most likely consists of fewer that 200 households.

James Kingsbury and Ann Francis were married on 22 Oct 1584 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. Ann Francis was born in 1563 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. She died on 13 Apr 1624 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.[53] It should be noted that although the parents of Ann Francis are not known at this time, the name Francis does have special significance in the Kingsbury family. There is every indication that the Francis family was close to and perhaps married into the Bracebridge family of Kingsbury Hall in Warwickshire. The Francois family crest empaled by the Bracebridge family arms was displayed on the walls of Kingsbury Hall. James Kingsbury and Ann Francis had the following children:

+241 i. Thomas Kingsbury (born on 3 Mar 1585).
+242 ii. Henrie Kingsberie The Elder (born about 1587).
+243 iii. James Kingsbury (born about 1589).
244 iv. Elizabeth Kingsbury was born about 1591 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.
+245 v. John Kingsbury (born about 1593).
+246 vi. Sarah Kingsbury (born about 1596).

He died about 14 Sep 1620 in Assington, Suffolk, England. He was buried on 18 Sep 1620 in Assington, Suffolk, England.[64]

Thomas Alabaster and Margaret Blythe Widow were married on 8 Jul 1618 in Assington, Suffolk, England. Margaret Blythe Widow[65] was born about 1590 in England. Margaret was the widow of Thomas Alabaster. The parents of Thomas were Roger and Lady Brigett (Winthrop) Alabaster. Lady Brigett Winthrop was the aunt of John Winthrop who made the 1630 voyage to America which meant that there was distant family relationship between the Kingsbury family and the Winthrops, who were the lords of Groton Manor at the time. Groton is a short 3/4 mile up the hill north of Boxford, so naturally they also lived in the same village complex. Edwardstone is only 1 mile east of Boxford and Groton.

210. John Winthrop Governor[66] (Adam-17, Adam-16, Adam-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 12 Jan 1588 in Edwardstone, Suffolk, England. He died in 1649 in Massachusetts. He was buried in King's Chapel Burial Grounds before 1650 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts. John was admitted to Trinity College in Cambridge in December, 1602, was married and left his studies a short three years later.

John Winthrop Governor and Lady Mary Forth were married in Apr 1605 in England. Lady Mary Forth (daughter of Sir John Forth) was born in 1584 in Great Stambridge, Essex, England.

He died about 1645 in Assington, Suffolk, England. On pages 22-23 Mary Talcott builds a case to list Thomas as the father of our Henry. Thomas was the brother who was also committed to go to America in the early 1630s, but then never made the trip. Thus it is logical that he should have sent his son. His promise was made to John Winthrop who eventually became the Governor of Massachusetts.

Many of the records from the John Winthrop Journals and Diaries all list Thomas as one scheduled to be part of the 1630 fleet, but everything seems to indicate that Thomas never made the voyage. Current research material seems to indicate that Henry Kingsbury of Ipswich was the son of Henry the Elder and made the voyage in 1630 aboard the same vessel as Henry and Margaret Kingsbury.

Thomas Kingsbury and Sarah were married about 1606 in Haverhill, Essex, England. Sarah was born about 1590 in Haverhill, Essex, England. She died about 1640.

242. Henrie Kingsberie The Elder (James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1587 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. were highly educated and held a great deal of land. A letter written by Rev. Henry Jacie in the Winthrop Papers commissions Henry Kingsburie to obtain several books on theology. This commission would be meaningless unless he was well educated and knew exactly what he was looking for. In this England of Elizabeth and James I the Suffolk Kingsburys were gentry and yeomen (an official in a royal household). Several lists of the period also mention household goods of great value in that day. This Henry was the first Kingsbury to arrive in America. He sailed on the Talbot in1630, one of the ships in Governor Winthrop's fleet. He lived at Assington, the parish near Groton in England, and was apparently employed by Governor Winthrop as either a messenger or sheriff's officer. From letters of the period, he was an intimate friend of Governor Winthrop, who apparently sailed in the same group aboard the Arbella. In a letter to his wife 28 March 1630 just before the departure from England Governor Winthrop mentions that Henry Kingsbury has 2 children on the Talbot sick with the measles, but that they should do well. Henry and his wife Margaret were admitted to First Church, Boston (No 25&26). There is an assumption that the children who were sick on the Talbot must have died en route or shortly thereafter. Thomas Kingsbury was listed in the Winthrop Papers as a member of this voyage, but then the records indicate that he never made the trip. No reason is given. The historical motivation behind this voyage is rather significant at this point. It is a well known historical fact that Henry VIII denounced the Roman Catholic Church out of very personal and political reasons, and supported the establishment of the Church of England in 1534. His successors, King Edward VI, Queen Elizabeth, King James I, and King Charles I made the Church of England the official religion of the state to the suppression of all others. This was the period of the Protestant Reformation which started with Martin Luther in Germany on October 31, 1517. By the end of the 16th century and the beginning of the 17th century there were several differing religious sects. In England two major sects who formed were the Pilgrims and the Puritans. The Kingsburys apparently were part of the Puritan sect and were under heavy persecution. The Puritans were well known for their spirit of strict morals and religious zeal. It was their purpose to form the entire nation into a society of their belief and moral standards. This exclusiveness naturally led to conflict. The Royal family pushed harder for conformity to the Church of England and under Charles I (1625-49) it finally led to civil war in 1640. Another family of importance to the Kingsbury family was that of the Winthrops. John Winthrop was born in Edwardstone, Suffolk County in 1588. He studied the law and became appointed as an attorney of the court. However, because of his Puritan beliefs he lost his appointment. The Massachusetts Bay Company was attempting to colonize New England and enlisted the help of John Winthrop by appointing him Governor. Henry Kingsbury, the Elder married Margaret Blythe, the widow of Thomas Alabaster, in 1621. Thomas Alabaster was the son of Roger Alabaster and Bridget Winthrop. Roger and Bridget were the Uncle and Aunt of John Winthrop. Since the Winthrops and Kingsburys all lived in the same local, were part of the same family through marriage, and were all part of the Puritan Sect, it was only natural for Governor. Winthrop to sign up the Kingsbury brothers for the trip to America. Each family who sailed on this voyage signed a pact known as the "Cambridge Agreement" which essentially meant they would establish and support a Presbyterian society in the new land. The voyage itself in the early 17th century was no small undertaking. It was usual to expect that the trip would take from three to five months, depending on the conditions. The Massachusetts Bay Company had eleven ships for the voyage and 700 were allowed to sign up for the trip to Naumkeag (the Indian name for Massachusetts). Governor. Winthrop was to replace Governor. Endicott at Salem, who had been there for only a short time. The Winthrop fleet consisted of four ships, the Talbot, the Ambrose, the Jewel, and the Arbella which set sail on March 27, 1630 from Southampton. The Kingsburys were aboard the Talbot and Governor. Winthrop and Sir Richard Saltonstall were aboard the Arbella. The fleet dropped anchor at the Isle of Wight to take on provisions including cattle. They were becalmed here for a few days and finally set sail again on April 10th. While at sea they encountered a storm and the Talbot became separated from the rest of the fleet. The other three vessels finally reached Salem June 12, 1630. However, Governor. Winthrop was not happy with what he found at Salem. The houses were very crude, many of the people were sick, and they had slipped away from their strict religious beliefs. The fleet set sail again and this time landed at Charlestown. About this same time the Talbot landed at Salem and, finding Governor. Winthrop gone, immediately set off again to find him. A short time later, Governor. Winthrop decided that the water supply was not adequate to support the community and moved one more time. This time they settled at Shawmut were they found an excellent spring for their water supply. Eventually this became the city of Boston.

Sir Richard Saltonstall returned to England on November 23, 1631. Sir Richard married Muriel Gurdon of Assington Hall in 1632 and returned to America with his wife and young child. The family was living in Ipswich, Massachusetts in 1635 and it can reasonably be assumed that the other Kingsbury brothers, John and Joseph traveled to America at this time.

Henrie Kingsberie The Elder and Jane Waryn were married on 5 Dec 1613 in Stoke by Nayland, Suffolk, England. Jane Waryn was born before 1595 in England. She died about 1618. Henrie Kingsberie The Elder and Jane Waryn had the following children:

+302 i. Henry Kingsbury (born about 1615).

Henrie Kingsberie The Elder and Margaret Blythe Widow were married on 18 May 1621 in Assington, Suffolk, England. Margaret Blythe Widow[76] was born about 1590 in England. Margaret was the widow of Thomas Alabaster. The parents of Thomas were Roger and Lady Brigett (Winthrop) Alabaster. Lady Brigett Winthrop was the aunt of John Winthrop who made the 1630 voyage to America which meant that there was distant family relationship between the Kingsbury family and the Winthrops, who were the lords of Groton Manor at the time. Groton is a short 3/4 mile up the hill north of Boxford, so naturally they also lived in the same village complex. Edwardstone is only 1 mile east of Boxford and Groton. Henrie Kingsberie The Elder and Margaret Blythe Widow had the following children:

303 i. James Kingsberie was born about 1622 in Assington, Suffolk, England. He was christened on 1 Sep 1622 in Assington, Suffolk, England.[77] He died about 1630 in at sea. It seems likely that he died aboard ship on the voyage to America.

304 ii. Sarah Kingsbury was born about 1624 in Assington, Suffolk, England. She was christened on 1 Aug 1624 in Assington, Suffolk, England.[78] She died about 1630 in at sea. It appears likely that both children died during the voyage to America.

243. James Kingsbury (James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1589 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He died in 1655 in England.

James Kingsbury and Joan Hogge were married on 7 Feb 1613 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.[79] Joan Hogge was born about 1589 in England. James Kingsbury and Joan Hogge had the following children:

+305 i. Anne Kingsbury (born about 1613).

306 ii. James Kingsbury was born about 1618 in England.

307 iii. Bridgett Kingsbury was born about 1620 in England. She died in 1671 in Alton, Hampshire, England.

308 iv. Joseph Kingsbury was born about 1623 in England.

309 v. Frances Kingsbury was born about 1626 in England.

245. John Kingsbury[80,81] (James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1593 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He was baptized on 25 May 1595 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.[82] He died about 1660 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. According to letters to John Winthrop, John was listed as a

In the Appendix from the John Winthrop Journals, mention is made of Margaret also joining First Church, Boston as Member #26 (Henry was #25), but nothing is said of her death. Mary Talcott seems to feel that she also died shortly after her arrival.

"freeman 3 March 1635/6 removed (from Watertown) that year to Dedham. He was one of the signers-the 6th in order-to the petition to the Massachusetts General Court, 6 Sept. 1636, for the incorporation of Dedham." John and his wife were members in very high regard in the church at Watertown and later at Dedham. John was the proprietor of Dedham and on 17 May 1639 chosen as one of 7 men to order the towns affairs, and in 1647 became the representative to the General Court. After a 3 year long illness, he died in 1660. He gave his wife living rights to his estate and 1/2 to her heirs. In this will he mentions a John Kingsbery, the son of his brother who was to receive his Bible among other things. He also refers to Thomas Cooper of Seacangue (Seakonk) as his kinsman, and Henry Kingsbery of Ipswich as his kinsman. He goes on to refer to the children of his brother, Joseph. He also gives to a friend Thomas Fuller who is later referred to as a kinsman of his wife in her will. At the time of the will it mentions that John Kingsbery, the son of his brother, would receive his inheritance when he became 21.

John Kingsbury and Margaret Whisson were married on 8 Mar 1617/18 in Assington, Suffolk, England.[83] Margaret Whisson was born about 1608 in England. She died about 1662 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. In the will of Margaret 9 Jan. 1660 she mentions Sarah, wife of Robert Crossman of Taunton who must be Sarah Kingsbury, daughter of Joseph. The remainder of her estate she gives to Thomas Fuller and his wife Hannah, her "near kinsman's" children at the age of maturity. Thomas Fuller was the sole Executor.

246. Sarah Kingsbury (James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1596 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. She was baptized on 5 May 1597 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.[84]

Sarah Kingsbury and John French were married about 1614. John French (son of Jacob French and Susan Warren) was born about Feb 1596 in Assington, Suffolk, England. He was baptized on 27 Mar 1596 in Assington, Suffolk, England.[85]

248. Joseph Kingsbury[86,87] (James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1600 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He was christened on 9 Feb 1641 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. In 1638 he was not admitted to the Dedham Church because he was "too much addicted to the world," but on the 9th of the 2nd month 1641 the church was persuaded of his repentance and faith and he was received.

He died in May 1676 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[88] He was buried in Norfolk Cemetery about Jun 1676 in Norfolk, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Perhaps in keeping with his long feud with the church and town fathers, Joseph was buried in the Norfolk Cemetery. The records do not show that Joseph Kingsbury sailed to America with the Winthrop Fleet in 1630, but must have come over within a year or two of the original fleet. The original fleet set sail March 27, 1630 from Southampton, England and arrived in Salem, Massachusetts about July of 1630. Gov. Winthrop was not satisfied with Salem and the fleet moved down the coast eventually settling in Shawmut (now Boston). About 1635 they sent an exploring party up the Charles River and they established a settlement at Watertown. John and Joseph Kingsbury were part of this party. The community flourished and they quickly organized in what was referred to as a 'Contentment" recording all important events. The Kingsbury brothers were apparently of strong pioneer stock and considered Watertown too crowded. A small band of like minded individuals again used the Charles River which turned South just beyond Watertown and settled in what is now Dedham. They petitioned the General Court on September 5, 1636 for a large tract of land to form their community. The petition was granted on September 10, 1636 and the name Dedham was assigned by the Court. (NOTE: Current county boundaries have Dedham and Needham in Norfolk County, but prior to 1800 Norfolk County did not exist and all of this area was included in Suffolk County) Apparently, on August 18,1636 before the group left Watertown, they met at the home of John Dwight and drew up a Covenant for their political organization. John Kingsbury signed the Covenant that day, but Joseph did not sign until 1637, after he arrived in Dedham. The Dedham Town Records for Nov. 1, 1637 indicate that Joseph Kingsbury deeded part of his land to the town for the purpose of building a town meeting hall. In 1638 the records show that Joseph Kingsbury deeded one acre of his land abutting on High Street to the town of Dedham for a church site. A second structure for Old First Parish Church was erected on the same site at the corner of Court and High Streets in 1763. In 1819 ownership of the church passed to the Unitarians. The records go on to note that Joseph was in turn given another acre of land to replace what he had given for the church. However, this land was rocky swamp land and the land he gave to the town was prime land. Joseph held this against the town fathers for some time and apparently was the basis for a long feud between Joseph and the Church fathers. In several official writings of the church Joseph Kingsbury is noted as having a bad temperament and was not allowed into the church fellowship. For his part, Joseph apparently did not want to be part of this church body. Later Joseph was again called upon for land and he granted another acre of his land to the town for a burying place. With this in mind, there is some question as to why Joseph was buried in Norfolk. Among the records of Dedham it is noted the first child born in the community was Ruth Morse born July 3, 1637 and Mary Kingsbury, born on September 1, 1637 was the second. The Church of Dedham was "gathered" on September 8, 1638, but Joseph was not one of the originators. In fact, he was apparently rejected at the time because he was considered too worldly and "the Lord left him into such a distempered passionate flying out on one of the Company that we thought him unfit for the church." This could refer back to the problems over the tract of land for the church. Millicent Kingsbury was accepted into the church on April 24, 1639 and Joseph was finally admitted on June 2, 1641. In the writings of Arthur F. Kingsbury in 1912, it is interesting to note that the majority of the descendants of Joseph Kingsbury for a period of over 275 years lived their lives within a 15 mile radius of Dedham. Joseph apparently was a skilled metal worker and mechanic, in addition to his farming endeavors. A young man who trained under him, Robert Crossman, later married his daughter Sarah.

297. Roland Bracebridge (Edward-18, Thomas-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1610 in Warwickshire, England.

Roland Bracebridge and Unknown were married about 1635 in Warwickshire, England. Unknown was born about 1615 in England. Roland Bracebridge and Unknown had the following children:

+347	i.	Roland Bracebridge II (born about 1645).
+348	ii.	Elizabeth Bracebridge (born about 1655).

299. Temperence Bracebridge (Richard-18, Anketill-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1607 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England.

Temperence Bracebridge and George Cooke were married in 1630 in England. George Cooke was born about 1605 in England.

300. Samuel Bracebridge[93] (Richard-18, Anketill-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1612 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1692 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. According to the public records of the Chancery, Samuel Bracebridge died with an income of 400 pounds per year from his landholdings and an estate valued at 5000 pounds. This would be considered a very substantial sum for this period. He was buried before 1693 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. Samuel Bracebridge expanded his father's business and became the town's first haberdasher of hats on record. He would weight out the proper amount of wool for the villagers to make their felt "hoods", which was the term used for their unshaped hats. The Bracebridge family used this venture into the textile industry to build a small fortune and eventually they became the lords of Atherstone. As his business grew Samuel acquired various tenements in Atherstone and also appears to have owned a house and shop in Birmingham.

It is assumed that the Bracebridge family themselves did not make any of the felt hats, but rather used what is known as the "cottage industry" system. The Bracebridge family would gather all the raw materials necessary to make the hats and then deliver them to the cottages or families employed to actually make the hats. The entire family would be involved in the process and then the Bracebridge family would gather the finished product and merchandise the hats.

Samuel Bracebridge and Susanna Moor were married in 1634 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. Susanna Moor[94] (daughter of John Moor) was born about 1616 in Shackstone, Leicestershire, England. She died in 1661 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Samuel Bracebridge and Susanna Moor had the following children:

+349	i.	Susanna Bracebridge (born in 1635).
+350	ii.	Abraham Bracebridge (born in Jun 1642).
+351	iii.	Rev Thomas Bracebridge (born in 1645).
+352	iv.	Martha Bracebridge (born about Feb 1647).
353	v.	Mary Bracebridge was born about Aug 1648 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England.
354	vi.	Shem Bracebridge was born about Feb 1653 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. Shem inherited an estate in Swepstone, Leicestshire and a derelict Inn in Birmingham, Warwickshire. He also became a merchant living in London.

Samuel Bracebridge and Elizabeth Smallbrook were married about 1662 in Birmingham, Warwickshire, England.

[93] Judy Vero, A Concern in Trade - Hatting and the Bracebridges of Atherstone. This source indicates that Samuel and Susanna had eleven children, but that only 5 grew to maturity.

[94] Kenneth J. Kingsbury, Notes - Editorial. One source listed her name as Elizabeth Moor, however this could be a confusion with his second wife.

After their marriage, Samuel brought his bride back to Atherstone where his business was thriving. Elizabeth Smallbrook was born about 1635 in Birmingham, Warwickshire, England.

301. Richard Bracebridge (Richard-18, Anketill-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1617 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England.

Richard Bracebridge and Martha Drakeley were married in 1632 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. Martha Drakeley was born about 1618.

302. Henry Kingsbury[95,96,97] (Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1615 in Assington, Suffolk, England. He emigrated in 1630 from Shawmut (Boston), Suffolk, Massachusetts. According to the notes on the ship's log, Henry came over on the Winthrop Fleet with his father and step-mother. He moved to Rowley, Essex, Massachusetts about 1660. He moved to Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts about 1667. He died on 1 Oct 1687 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He was buried about 6 Oct 1687 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. There are three prominent historical theories about the identity of this Henry Kingsbury. The first is that he is actually Henry the Elder and he married for the third time before moving to Ipswich. This theory seems very doubtful and very few Kingsbury historians accept this theory today. The second and perhaps most popular theory is that Henry was the son of Thomas Kingsbury and sailed to American about 1633 as a substitute for his father. This theory is endorsed by Mary Kingsbury Talcott in her major book on the Descendants of Henry Kingsbury of Ipswich. She references the conflict in dates regarding the birth of Henry the Younger and the fact that John and Joseph Kingsbury refer to him as "their kinsman" and not their brother. The third theory (and the one accepted here) is that this Henry was the son of Henry the Elder by his first wife and she may have died as the result of childbirth. We do know that there is a Henry Kingsbury, junior listed with Henry and Margaret Kingsbury as sailing aboard the Talcot in 1630 according to the Journals of John Winthrop. This theory seems to fit all the dates and makes sense. This would also mean that Henry was still the nephew of John and Joseph Kingsbury of Dedham and thus their kinsman. Thus Henry seems to have sailed with the original Winthrop Fleet in March of 1630 leaving Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, England on April 8th and arriving in Shamut (now Boston) on June 13, 1630.

We do know that he was in Ipswich in 1638, according to Felts History. He subscribed to the Major Denison fund 19 December. 1648. On 8 February. 1648 he sold his farm of 32 acres to Thomas Safford for 5 Lb, but he did not leave Ipswich because the same year he bought "house and land at #52 High Street in Ipswich" from Daniel Ladd of Haverhill for 1 Lb. The house and buildings faced High Street, but the land itself ran down Bakers Lane and originally may have consisted of about 10 acres. It was during this period that the fireplace of the Kingsbury home on High Street caught fire and did a considerable amount of damage. It was built out of green logs at the time. Immediately after this event, Henry Kingsbury made the decision to build a brick kiln, the first in Ipswich, and he eventually produced the brick used in several of the fireplaces in town. The Kingsbury family business from Suffolk served the family well in the new country.

Twelve years later, 30 August. 1660 Henry and Susan sold the property to Robert Lord for two oxen and 5 Lb. We can not be sure today (1998) how much, if any of the original homestead remains as part of the current structure, but certainly the foundation stones that are on the south side of the home are from original buildings. It does seem certain that much of the current home facing High street was most likely built in the 1720s. It is a spacious home which was most likely built by adding on to the original over several decades. There is a plaque over the main entrance which was erected by the Ipswich Historical Society and reads "KINGSBURY-LORD HOUSE 1660".

In addition to the brick kiln, we know that Henry Kingsbury also set up a grain mill and a later resident of the property found one of the old mill stones in the basement of the house.

On 17 May 1658 Henry signed a petition stating their oath of fidelity, but that he was not a freeman. In 1661-63 he was overseer for Pentucket side for fences and highways in Rowley. "His farm was on the Merrimack in that part of Rowley afterwards Bradford." In 1669 he gave a depositions in court and gave his age as 54 (thus born in 1615). Henry apparently was also close to the Winthrop family and also a neighbor and possible relative to John Gage. It would seem that either John Gage's wife, Amce who died in June 1658, was a sister to Henry, or Henry married a sister of John Gage. John Gage died 26 March 1673 and Henry was one of the appraisers of the estate, and also for that of Jonathan Gage's estate 15 March 1674/5.

Henry Kingsbury and Susanna Gage were married about 1640 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. Susanna Gage (daughter of Sir John Gage and Lady Penelope Darcy) was born in 1617 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts.[98] She died on 21 Feb 1677/78 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. She was buried about 25 Feb 1677/78 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. John Gage was a close friend of the Kingsbury family and was a neighbor in both Ipswich and Rowley. Henry Kingsbury and Susanna Gage had the following children:

+355 i. Susanna Kingsbury (born about 1643).
+356 ii. John Kingsbury (born about 1645).
+357 iii. Ephraim Kingsbury (born about 1646).
+358 iv. Samuel Kingsbury (born about 1649).
+359 v. Thomas Kingsbury (born about 1653).
+360 vi. James Kingsbury (born about 1654).
+361 vii. Lieut. Joseph Kingsbury (born on 1 Mar 1656).

305. Anne Kingsbury (James-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1613 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. She was baptized on 2 Feb 1614 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.[99]

Anne Kingsbury and Richard Tiplocke were married about 1635 in England. Richard Tiplocke was born date unknown.

310. Sarah Kingsbury (Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1635 in Shawmut (Boston), Suffolk, Massachusetts. She died in 1686 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. She was buried in 1686 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts.

Sarah Kingsbury and Robert Crossman were married on 25 May 1652 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Robert Crossman (son of John Crossman) was born on 1 Nov 1622 in Plymouth, Devonshire, England.[100] He emigrated about 1639 from England. He was living in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts on about 1653 He died on 27 Oct 1692 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. Robert Crossman came to America with his father about 1634 and settled in Dedham, MA. He signed the Covenant for Government of the Town of Dedham in 1636 and was admitted to the township of Dedham in 1642. It was also in 1642 that he began to accumulate land in the Dedham area. On May 26, 1649 along with Anthony Fisher, Robert made claim to a mine for metal ore. Robert apparently worked as an apprentice to Joseph Kingsbury who eventually became his father-in-law.

He moved to Taunton, MA in 1653 with his wife and daughter and built an Iron Works there. They bought their home on Dean Street from Captain Foster. He was a carpenter and considered a very skilled mechanic. Known as "The Drum Maker of New England" and as "The Gun Maker" he fitted the soldiers from Taunton with guns and drums for the Canada Expedition under Sir William Phipps, Captain Samuel Gallup's Company in 1690. Robert's youngest son, Thomas, was a part of that expedition.

As a testament to his great skill, the townsmen of Dedham enlisted him to build a water mill for them in what was to later become Wrentham, MA on June 28, 1672. He was also in demand as a surveyor for the new highways needed for the commerce that was developing.

Like his father-in-law, Joseph Kingsbury, Robert demonstrated the Puritan work ethic, and the strong minded temperament. The court records note more than one occasion where Robert was reprimanded for his disagreeable manner. In 1675 he was fined forty shillings for abusing the local constable by throwing a stick at him and threatening him with a knife.

He settled in Dedham, MA. Sarah Kingsbury and Robert Crossman had the following children:

+362 i. Sarah Crossman (born in 1653).
+363 ii. John Crossman (born on 16 Mar 1654).
+364 iii. Mary Crossman (born on 16 Jul 1655).
+365 iv. Robert Crossman (born in Aug 1657).
+366 v. Joseph Crossman (born on 25 Apr 1659).
367 vi. Nathaniel Crossman was born on 7 Aug 1660 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. He served in the military about 1675 in King Phillip's War. Nathaniel was killed during King Phillip's War 1675-1676. He died about 1676 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.
368 vii. Eleazer Crossman was born on 16 Mar 1662 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. He died on 26 Oct 1667 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts.
+369 viii. Elizabeth Crossman (born on 2 May 1665).
+370 ix. Samuel Crossman (born on 25 Jul 1667).
+371 x. Mercy Crossman (born on 20 Mar 1668).
372 xi. Thomas Crossman was born on 6 Oct 1671 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. He served in the military in 1690 in King Phillip's War. Thomas became part of Captain Samuel Gallup's Company in Sir William Phipp's Expedition into Canada. Phipps has gained wealth when he located a Spanish treasure ship which had been wrecked off the coast of the Bahamas and military respect when his fleet of 7 vessels captured Port Royal on May 11, 1690 without a shot being fired. On August 9, 1690 he led a fleet of 30 ship out of Boston bound for Quebec. However, their progress was slow and they did not arrive until October 16th. The French had plenty of warning and built their defenses. The English were outnumbered and low on ammunition, so the decision was made to retreat. Thomas was killed during the fighting in Quebec. On the voyage back to Boston several ships were lost at sea. He died in 1691 in Quebec, Canada.
373 xii. Susanna Crossman was born on 14 Feb 1672 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts.

311. Mary Kingsbury (Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 1 Sep 1637 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 6 Aug 1678 in Rehoboth, Bristol, Massachusetts. She was buried about 11 Aug 1678 in Rehoboth, Bristol, Massachusetts.

Mary Kingsbury and Thomas Cooper were married about 1657 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Thomas Cooper was born about 1635 in Rehoboth, Bristol, Massachusetts.

312. Elizabeth Kingsbury (Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 14 Sep 1638 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 25 Jun 1661 in Roxbury, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

Elizabeth Kingsbury and Nathaniel Brewer were married about 1657. Nathaniel Brewer (son of Daniel Brewer and Joanna) was born about 1635 in Roxbury, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Elizabeth Kingsbury and Nathaniel Brewer had the following children:

374 i. Elizabeth Brewer was born about 1660.

313. Joseph Kingsbury jr (Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 17 Feb 1640 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[101] He was confirmed on 21 Oct 1688 in Roxbury, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 16 Dec 1688 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He was buried about 20 Dec 1688 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. The records state that Joseph Kingsbury "took hold of the covenant of the church in Rosbury".

Joseph Kingsbury jr and Mary were married before 1665 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Mary was born about 1640. She died on 31 Jul 1680 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She was buried in Aug 1680 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Apparently died a few days after the birth of the twins, Mary & Sarah. Could have died as the result of complications to childbirth. Joseph Kingsbury jr and Mary had the following children:

375 i. Joseph Kingsbury III was born on 23 Aug 1665 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died after 1695 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. In 1695 Joseph sold land to Richard Puffer (Suffolk Records of Deeds 33-264) which was his inheritance from his father, including the portion from his deceased brother John's portion. There does not seem to be much reference to Joseph after this date. He apparently married, but we are not sure if there were any children.
376 ii. John Kingsbury was born on 24 Dec 1667 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 1 Oct 1687 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.
+377 iii. Elizabeth Kingsbury (born on 14 May 1670).
+378 iv. Eleazer Kingsbury (born on 12 May 1673).
379 v. Hannah Kingsbury was born on 26 Jul 1675 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died in 1692 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. In the will of Joseph Kingsbury, her father, it is noted that John Ware was appointed as the guardian of Hannah because she was "distracted".
+380 vi. Mercy Kingsbury (born on 10 Nov 1677).
381 vii. Mary (or Mirah) Kingsbury was born on 19 Jul 1680 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died before 1692 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Apparently a twin. Mother died a few days after the birth.
382 viii. Sarah Kingsbury was born on 19 Jul 1680 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died before 1692 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Apparently a twin. Mother died a few days after the birth.

Joseph Kingsbury jr and Mary Donier were married on 7 Sep 1681 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Mary Donier was born about 1661.

314. John Kingsbury (Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 15 Aug 1643 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[102] He died on 30 May 1669 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[103] He was buried in Jun 1669 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

John Kingsbury and Elizabeth Fuller were married on 29 Nov 1666 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Elizabeth Fuller (daughter of Thomas Fuller and Hannah Flower) was born on 1 Feb 1647/48 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She was baptized on 9 Feb 1647/48 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 24 Oct 1732 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. John Kingsbury and Elizabeth Fuller had the following children:

+383 i. Elizabeth Kingsbury (born on 23 Nov 1668).

315. Eleazar Kingsbury (Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 17 May 1645 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[104] He died on 2 Feb 1723 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He apparently bought a farm on Dedham Plains in 1702, known afterwards as Walpole.

Eleazar Kingsbury and Ester Judson were married on 30 Oct 1676 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Ester Judson (daughter of Samuel Judson and Mary Aldridge) was born on 10 Jun 1654 in Harton, Bradfordshire, England. She died on 6 May 1717 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. According to her will she left to her daughter, Mary, "1/2 y Lands of my Father, Samuel Judson in Horton." Eleazar Kingsbury and Ester Judson had the following children:

+384 i. Josiah Kingsbury (born on 26 Dec 1677).
385 ii. Mary Kingsbury was born on 6 Apr 1680 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 6 Jun 1717 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

He died on 14 Oct 1694 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He was buried about 19 Oct 1694 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. According to the probate records (Suffolk Probate 15-228) Nathaniel was considered to be a weaver. He also apparently had a general farm as his sons listed "swine, horses, oxen, and cattle" as part of his estate. It is also noted that there were orchards and barns as part of the estate. We can assume that reading was also important to the family as books were specifically mentioned.

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Mary Bacon were married on 14 Oct 1673 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Mary Bacon (daughter of John Bacon and Rebecca Hall) was born about 1655 in Massachusetts. She died after 1694 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. A descendant of Michael Bacon of County Suffolk, ENG.. Nathaniel Kingsbury and Mary Bacon had the following children:

+389 i. Nathaniel Kingsbury (born on 14 Sep 1674).
+390 ii. Timothy Kingsbury (born on 15 Oct 1680).
+391 iii. John Kingsbury (born on 17 Aug 1686).
+392 iv. James Kingsbury (born on 22 Sep 1687).

Edwardstone, Suffolk, England.[105] He died on 5 May 1799 in Groton, Suffolk, England.[106,107] He was buried in Church Cemetery about 10 May 1799 in Groton, Suffolk, England.

Roger Kingsbury and Ann Bloise were married on 18 Apr 1734 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. Ann Bloise was born about 1715. She died about 1767 in Groton, Suffolk, England. She was buried in Church Cemetery about 1768 in Groton, Suffolk, England. The name Blois is of very noble French origin and indicates someone from the royal castle of Blois on the Loire River. The first known Count of Blois was Thibaud I from the 10th century. His family remained in power until 1230 and they built the first stone castle of the area. Over the years many additions have been made until we have the magnificent castle that now stands. At the end of the 14th century the county of Blois was sold to Prince Louis of Orleans who was the son of King Charles V, King of France. Prince Louis lived in the castle for 25 years attracting a group of scholars and poets to the castle. Because of his residence here the castle became recognized as a royal castle. His grandson, Louis XII became King of France in 1498 and the Blois Castle became his main residence. At this time the town became a royal town and the capital of the kingdom.

Under the residence of King Louis XII and Queen Anne de Bretagne there were many additions to the castle and it took on more of the architectural appearance of the French Gothic style. This whole section of the castle is known as the King Louis Wing. His successor, King Francis I continued to make the castle his royal residence and began an entirely new wing in 1515. This great wing of the castle was completed before the death of Queen Claude de France in 1524 and remains a beautiful example of the French Renaissance. Although the monarchy moved their residence after the reign of King Francis I, the Blois Castle continued to be an important part of the royal family and over the centuries more additions were to come. Gaston d'Orleans, the brother to King Louis XIII, was exiled to Blois because of his constant intrigues against the king and decided to add one more grand wing in his name to complete the circle around the courtyard. The final result is one of the great castles of the old world.

Exactly who this great lady from Blois was is not known at this time, but it is noted that the Kingsbury family recognized the significance of the name and have passed it down as the middle name for several generations. Roger Kingsbury and Ann Bloise had the following children:

Elizabeth Bracebridge and William Bull were married about 1692 in Warwickshire, England. William Bull[110] was born about Apr 1637 in Solihull, Warwickshire, England. He was baptized in Saint Peter and Saint Paul Church on 14 May 1637 in Coleshill, Warwickshire, England The Bull family apparently were the lords of Kingshurst Hall in Solihull, also known as The Knobbe. This was a timber castle built during the Norman period and was a moated structure on a hill above the flood plain of the River Cole just to the southeast of Birmingham. Originally this may have been part of the property belonging to the Manor of Coleshill under the lordship of the Digby family. Kingshurst Hall may have been the place where the tenant farming was administered. Records indicate that a William Bull moved across the River Cole in 1610 from Sheldon Hall to occupy Kingshurst Hall. This may have been the father.

349. Susanna Bracebridge (Samuel-19, Richard-18, Anketill-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1635 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. She died in 1669 in England. Susanna inherited lands in Stretton, Leicestshire from her father.

Susanna Bracebridge and Samuel Butler were married on 22 Oct 1656 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. Samuel Butler was born about 1630 in England. Samuel Butler had a business in felt making and he moved to Mancetter to live.

350. Abraham Bracebridge (Samuel-19, Richard-18, Anketill-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in Jun 1642 in Kingsbury, Warwickshire, England. He died about May 1695 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. Abraham purchased the haberdashery business from his father for 1000 pounds and then purchased Atherstone Hall in 1690. With their wealth and land holdings the Bracebridge family became the squires of Atherstone. The business was run from Atherstone Hall and Abraham continued to accumulate more land. One of his acquisitions was Lindley Hall which was passed on to his eldest son, Samuel.

The history of the Manor at Atherstone dates back to before the Norman Conquest. In the Doomsday Book it is noted as part of the possessions of the Earl of Chester. Usually the lord of the manor did not live there, but they would have an overseer that would see to the proper tilling of the lands. It became the possession of The Lady Godiva at the death of her husband in 1057. However, William the Conqueror removed it from her son, Edwin and gave it to his nephew, Hugh, the First Earl of Chester. In the 11th century the Earl of Chester gave the Manor as a gift to the Abby of Bec in Normandy. It continued as a religious institution until the period when the French religious houses were being confiscated. In 1406 Henry VI gave Atherstone manor to his son, John, Duke of Bedford and Thomas Langley, Chancellor of England. When power shifted to the House of York, Edward VI took possession and gave the manor to Richard Neville, Earl of Warwick in 1462. He allowed the annual income from the manor to go to the Priory of Mount Grace in Yorkshire.

Abraham Bracebridge became involved with the Manor when a dispute arose over an incident at the time of his father's death. The Bailiff of the Manor insisted that Abraham give him two of his father's fine horses and Abraham refused. Abraham sold the horses for 18 shillings. Two bailiffs returned and took the 18 shillings plus a silver tankard. Abraham Bracebridge, with the help and support of several townsmen who were equally dissatisfied with the rule of those in the Manor, filed legal action against them. He apparently won a very comprehensive victory and ultimately purchased the manor for his residence and business.

According to the 1874 Warwickshire Directory, Atherstone Manor was "a neat mansion on an eminence a little north east from the church, commanding a most beautiful view of Charnwood Forest in Leicestershire, enlivened by the meandering stream of the Anker by which river the estate is bounded." It would remain in the possession of the Bracebridge family for almost 300 years until its demolition in 1963. It is also one possible location of the Bracebridge Hall made famous by the writings of Washington Irving in 1894.

+455 iv. Abraham Bracebridge II (born about Nov 1676).

351. Rev Thomas Bracebridge (Samuel-19, Richard-18, Anketill-17, Thomas-16, Simon-15, John-14, Richard-13, Ralph-12, Ralph de-11, Ralph de-10, Ralph de-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1645 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England.[111] He died on 16 Aug 1695 in Kettleby, Leicestershire, England. He was buried about 20 Aug 1695 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. Thomas inherited an estate at Ibstock, Leicestershire and became the Vicar at the Abby of Kettleby, Leicester, England. His father died a reasonably wealthy man and Thomas received an estate in Ibstock as part of his inheritance.

Rev Thomas Bracebridge and Jane Ludford were married in 1675 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. Jane Ludford was born about 1634 in England. Jane was the wealthy heiress of the Ansley estate nearby and it was a major producer of coal. Rev Thomas Bracebridge and Jane Ludford had the following children:

+456 i. Samuel Ludford Bracebridge (born about 1654).
+457 ii. Susanna Bracebridge (born about 1656).

She died on 5 Dec 1718 in Newbury, Essex, Massachusetts.[112]

Susanna Kingsbury and Joseph Pike were married on 29 Jan 1662. Joseph Pike (son of Capt. John Pike and Mary Turvell) was born on 25 Dec 1638 in Newbury, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 4 Sep 1694 in Amesbury, Essex, Massachusetts. Killed by Indians while on the way to Haverhill. Joseph apparently was a Representative and Deputy Sheriff. His brother John was the grandfather of Zebulon Pike, the great explorer. In 1803 Zebulon was a Lieutenant in the Army at the Kaskaskia, Illinois post when Lewis and Clark stopped there in their Keel boat at the start of their expedition to the Northwest Territory. Shortly thereafter Zebulon was commissioned by General Wilkinson to take a keel boat up the Mississippi River and her purchased land from the Sioux Indians that later became Fort Snelling. He went on to explore much of Minnesota. After his return General Wilkinson sent him on the expedition to explore the Great Southwest of the Louisiana Purchase. Eventually the mountain in Colorado known today as Pike's Peak was named in his honor. Susanna Kingsbury and Joseph Pike had the following children:

+477 i. Sarah Pike (born on 12 Oct 1666).

Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1645 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 23 Jan 1670 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He was buried in Old City Cemetery about 26 Jan 1670 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Because of some items left in his estate it is assumed that John worked as a weaver.

John Kingsbury and Elizabeth Button were married about 1666 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Elizabeth Button[113] (daughter of Matthias Button and Ann Lettyce Teagle) was born about 1645 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. She died on 20 Dec 1677 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. On Dec. 28, 1670 "Lettyce Button conveyed land to her son-in-law, John Kingsbury, land in Haverhill being part of ye land given me by my husband". John Kingsbury and Elizabeth Button had the following children:

+485 i. John Kingsbury (born on 28 Jul 1667).
+486 ii. Elizabeth Kingsbury (born on 14 Aug 1669).

357. Ephraim Kingsbury (Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1646 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 2 May 1676 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He is believed to be the first person killed by Indians in Haverhill during King Philips War. He was buried about 6 May 1676 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.

Ephraim Kingsbury and Eunice were married in 1665. Eunice was born about 1646. She died in 1676.

358. Samuel Kingsbury (Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1649 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts.[114] He died on 26 Sep 1698 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He was buried in Old Burial Grounds about 29 Sep 1698 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.

Samuel Kingsbury and Huldah Corliss were married on 5 Nov 1679 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Huldah Corliss (daughter of George Corliss and Joanna Davis) was born on 18 Nov 1661 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. She died on 26 Sep 1720 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Samuel Kingsbury and Huldah Corliss had the following children:

+487 i. Huldah Kingsbury (born on 16 Aug 1680).
+488 ii. Thomas Kingsbury (born on 29 Oct 1681).

359. Thomas Kingsbury (Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1653 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 11 Jun 1720 in Plainfield, Windham, Connecticut. It is noted that both the children of Thomas were killed by Indians, and thus his family line died with them.

Thomas was very active having served in King Philip's War in 1676 where he served in Lieut. Benjamin Sweet's Company. He was also active in other Indian wars and received land on the Saco River as a reward. Both Joseph and Thomas were in the Brick House garrison commanded by Thomas Dustin after the massacre of 1696/97 which took the lives of Thomas's sons and probably his wife also.

In 1699-1700 Thomas appears to have received six shillings for serving on the committee to seat the meeting-house of Haverhill. In 1698 he made a commitment to cut and carry two quarters of wood to the minister, Mr. Rolf. He also promised to attend meeting in the new house of worship when the glass was installed.

361. Lieut. Joseph Kingsbury (Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 1 Mar 1656 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 9 Apr 1741 in Norwich, New London, Connecticut. He was buried in Plains Cemetery, Franklin Congregational Church on 9 Apr 1741 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Joseph Kingsbury appears to have been a surveyor according to some of the records from 1685 and after. On 2 March 1702 Sergeant Joseph Kingsbury was chosen as constable for the west side of Haverhill, MA., as tithing-man on 4 March, 1700; selectman for several years from 1697 to 1706; and viewer of fences from the Mill Brook westward to the Westbridge River, and North. He served as bookkeeper for Capt. Simon Wainwright, a merchant in Haverhill, at the time Capt. Wainwright was killed by the Indians and his home burned. This seems to have convinced Joseph to move his family to a place a little more removed from Indian attacks, and on 14 June, 1708 the family moved to Norwich, CT. He settled in what is now called Franklin and built his home on Center Hill. The home remained in the Kingsbury family until it was purchased by John G. Cooley of New York for his son who married the daughter of Col. Thomas H. C. Kingsbury. Joseph was the chairman of the meeting forming the ecclesiastical society of West Farms in 1716. Joseph and his son Joseph were among the eight "pillars" who signed the covenant of the church in 1718 and the family was admitted by letter on 4 Jan. 1718. Joseph was chosen as one of the first two Deacons of the church on 8 Oct. 1718. Joseph was appointed Ensign of the trainband in West Society in Norwich in 1719 and Lieutenant in Oct. 1727.

Lieut. Joseph Kingsbury and Love Ayer were married on 2 Apr 1679 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Love Ayer (daughter of Thomas Ayer and Elizabeth Hutchins) was born on 15 Apr 1663 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. She died on 24 Apr 1735 in Norwich, New London, Connecticut. She was buried in Plains Cemetery, Franklin Congregational Church about 28 Apr 1735 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Lieut. Joseph Kingsbury and Love Ayer had the following children:

+497 i. Capt. Joseph Kingsbury II (born on 22 Jun 1682).
+498 ii. Capt. Nathaniel Kingsbury (born on 23 Aug 1684).
499 iii. Elizabeth Kingsbury was born on 10 May 1686 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. She died on 24 May 1686 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. She was buried about 27 May 1686 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.
+500 iv. Mary Kingsbury (born on 19 Oct 1687).
+501 v. Elizabeth Kingsbury (born on 16 Oct 1693).
+502 vi. Susannah Kingsbury (born on 24 Sep 1695).

Mercy Crossman and John Trasher were married on 26 Jan 1685/86 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. John Trasher was born about 1665.

377. Elizabeth Kingsbury (Joseph-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 14 May 1670 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died before 1725 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts.

Elizabeth Kingsbury and William Briggs were married before 1720. William Briggs was born on 21 Nov 1663 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. He died on 21 Apr 1725 in Taunton, Bristol, Massachusetts. We know from the records at Tauton that Elizabeth Kingsbury was the second wife of William. We also know that William had the following children; 1) Isaac Briggs, 2) Noah Briggs who married Elizabeth Trumbull of Taunton, 3) Elizabeth Briggs, and 4) William Briggs. We are not sure at this time who the mother was for these children.

378. Eleazer Kingsbury (Joseph-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 12 May 1673 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 2 Feb 1721/22 in Massachusetts. There is every indication that Eleazar began to work as a tailor in Wrentham, but that he soon became a preacher and moved to Cape May. He may have changed his name to Berry for a time.

Eleazer Kingsbury and Sarah Mac Cane were married on 4 Apr 1696 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Sarah Mac Cane (daughter of William Mac Cane and Ruth) was born on 10 Aug 1671 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died after 1 Apr 1707 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[119]

380. Mercy Kingsbury (Joseph-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 10 Nov 1677 in Wrentham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died after 16 Mar 1718/19 in Norton, Bristol, Massachusetts.

Mercy Kingsbury and Richard Briggs were married about 1709 in Massachusetts. Richard Briggs was born on 12 Jan 1678/79 in Norton, Bristol, Massachusetts. He died after 1720 in Norton, Bristol, Massachusetts. As a child and later as a family man, Richard always attended worship services every Sunday in Taunton. However, since this was an all day journey, Richard and several of his neighbors petitioned the church in Taunton to allow them to establish a place of worship in Norton. This was finally established in 1719 and Richard Briggs was entrusted with the "locking and unlocking of the doors". He also served as a deacon of the church and four terms as tithing man. Richard also served his community as selectman of the town of Norton.

[119] Will-Probate Records. In the division of property for William Maccane on 1 April, 1707 Sarah Kingsbury is mentioned, but her signature is not on the document.

The home that Richard built for his family was very near the path used by Sachem Phillip and his radical followers when they would travel on the Winnecunnet Lake about four miles from the home. The house was built under the shade of a very unusual boulder which was a well known landmark for the area. He cleared the land and made a small farm for his family. Mercy Kingsbury and Richard Briggs had the following children:

+505 i. Richard Briggs (born in 1711).
+506 ii. Timothy Briggs (born on 3 Jan 1712/13).
+507 iii. George Briggs (born on 19 Jun 1715).
+508 iv. James Briggs (born on 16 Mar 1718/19).

He died on 27 Jan 1767 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Eleazar was one of the forty petitioners for the incorporation of the town of Needham, MA. He served as Selectman for 14 years and became deacon of the Church of Needham on Feb. 14, 1729. He was deposed by the church however on Jan. 9, 1746 and the reason given in the church records was that he "went over to ye Anabaptists". His homestead was back off the road and near the Wellesley Reservoir and was willed to his son, Eleazar Kingsbury, jr.

While serving the community, the records show that Eleazar was directed to build a road through Cedar Swamps to the Plains and in the process he rebuilt Cook's and Kendrick's bridges by 1732.

Eleazer Kingsbury and Rebekah were married about 1708 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Rebekah was born in 1687. She died on 15 Feb 1756 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Eleazer Kingsbury and Rebekah had the following children:

+521 i. Esther Kingsbury (born on 16 Sep 1711).

388. Ensign Noah Kingsbury (Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 16 Sep 1694 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 18 Oct 1740 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He was buried in Saint Paul Episcopal Church Cemetery about 22 Oct 1740 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

Ensign Noah Kingsbury and Mehitabel Morey were married on 30 Sep 1718 in Roxbury, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Mehitabel Morey (daughter of Thomas Morey and Susannah Newell) was born on 20 Jul 1698 in Roxbury, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She was living in Nov 1740 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.[120] Ensign Noah Kingsbury and Mehitabel Morey had the following children:

+534 i. Noah Kingsbury (born on 30 Mar 1720).
+535 ii. Ezekiel Kingsbury MD (born on 14 Nov 1721).
+536 iii. Joshua Kingsbury (born on 30 Jul 1723).
+537 iv. Mary Kingsbury (born on 12 Apr 1725).
538 v. Abigail Kingsbury was born on 30 Jul 1732 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

389. Nathaniel Kingsbury (Nathaniel-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 14 Sep 1674 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 19 Jan 1723/24 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Nathaniel Kingsbury was an Inn Holder by profession and owned a considerable amount of land. In 1723 he apparently was living in Dorchester and purchased 156 acres of land near the First Parish Meeting House in Dedham, MA. Included in the inventory of his estate was listed books and ship timber.

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Abigail Baker were married on 5 Dec 1695 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Abigail Baker (daughter of John Baker and Abigail Fisher) was born on 15 Apr 1675 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 9 Feb 1764 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She was buried in First Parish Cemetery, Saint Paul Episcopal Church on 13 Feb 1764 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Nathaniel Kingsbury and Abigail Baker had the following children:

+539 i. Abigail Kingsbury (born on 5 Jan 1696).
+540 ii. Nathaniel Kingsbury (born on 31 Jul 1698).
+541 iii. Jeremiah Kingsbury (born on 24 Mar 1701).
+542 iv. Ebenezer Kingsbury (born on 18 Dec 1703).
543 v. Mary Kingsbury was born on 2 Aug 1705 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 24 Aug 1788 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Mary Kingsbury died unmarried. In her will (Suffolk Probate 19146) she mentions her sister Rebecca Gay, nephews Jeremina, James, Nathaniel, Ebenezer, Enoch, and Joseph Kingsbury. To Timothy Fisher Nathan, Ebenezer and Calvin Gay she left each a silver table spoon. To her nephew Ebenezer she left her large Bible, some gold buttons, and a bed that apparently was already in his house. To her brother Benjamin's children she left each a silver table spoon and "his wife's money"; Brother Jeremiah's heirs she left a book of Mr. Hussey's Works, nephew Enoch her curtains and curtain rods, warming pans, hand iron, and two black chairs, nephew Joseph the great chair, niece Mary Kingsbury a feather bed, bedding, and gowns, and to niece Abigail Fisher a poplin gown and quilt. To Mrs. Jememia Kingsbury she left a plain ring, to Mrs. Polly Hamilton a pewter platter, to Mrs. Jededa Staples a pewter tankard, stays, and skillet, to Capt. Isaac Colburns wife a black satin cloak, to Mr. J. Bakers wife a long loose gown, to Mr. Andrew Lewis's wife a cotton gown, to Nathaniel Kingsbury jr. a silver table spoon, and to Rebecca Kingsbury a gold necklace. It seems obvious from this inventory that the family was considered prosperous.
544 vi. Sarah Kingsbury was born on 22 Mar 1711 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 17 Dec 1730 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.
+545 vii. Rebecca Kingsbury (born on 7 May 1713).

+546 viii. Benjamin Kingsbury (born on 27 Dec 1715).
+547 ix. Joseph Kingsbury (born on 19 Jan 1718).

390. Timothy Kingsbury (Nathaniel-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 15 Oct 1680 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 5 Oct 1760 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Timothy Kingsbury was very active in the community and was one of the petitioners for the Incorporation of Needham, MA. He was the first Town Clerk and served in that capacity from 1711 to 1721. He also served as Selectman for several years between 1711 and 1739. At the First Congregational Church he served on 7 different committees to find a minister and was elected Deacon on 17 May, 1720.

It is interesting to note that in his will Timothy gives the use of his estate to his wife so long as she remains his widow, but that the majority of the estate then was passed on to his grandson, Moses Kingsbury.

Timothy Kingsbury and Sarah were married about 1702 in Massachusetts. Sarah was born about 1682. Timothy Kingsbury and Sarah had the following children:

+548 i. Timothy Kingsbury (born on 14 Aug 1703).
+549 ii. Moses Kingsbury (born on 11 Sep 1705).
+550 iii. Hezekiah Kingsbury (born on 9 Aug 1708).

+553 vi. Ruth Kingsbury (born on 6 Aug 1720).

Timothy Kingsbury and Hannah Metcalf were married on 28 Jun 1739 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Hannah Metcalf (daughter of Michael Metcalf and Elizabeth Fuller) was born about 1690 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Hannah was apparently the Widow Stedman.

Daughter of Michael and Elizabeth (Fuller/Kingsbury) Metcalf.

391. John Kingsbury (Nathaniel-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 17 Aug 1686 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died before 28 Dec 1713 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. The will of John Kingsbury was made on 21 Sept., 1713 and proved on 28 Dec., 1713 (Suffolk Probate 3531). In it he left everything to his wife, Mary and her heirs, which indicates that there probably where no male children. John was noted as being a cordwainer, which means that he worked with leather and most likely as a shoemaker. It can be assumed that he may have also worked on harnesses and other leather items.

John Kingsbury and Mary were married before 1711 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Mary was born about 1686 in Massachusetts. She died on 28 Feb 1719/20 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts.

392. James Kingsbury (Nathaniel-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 22 Sep 1687 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. He died on 1 Jul 1752 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. James Kingsbury was one of the petitioners for incorporation of the town of Needham. He then served as selectman for the town during 1732, 1741, and 1743. He also served as the custodian (or general manager) of the town meeting hall for several years.

According to the records James owned land on North Hill and another 16 acre tract of land near Rosemary and Webster Streets. In addition to farming apparently he was also called upon to do some surveying for roads in the area.

James Kingsbury and Alice were married about 1705 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Alice was born date unknown. James Kingsbury and Alice had the following children:

554 i. Alice Kingsbury was born on 16 Jan 1705/6 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

However, Parliament fought his attempts and they came to a head in 1688 when James II established an alliance with Catholic France. Parliament called upon William of Orange to help save England. William III (William of Orange) was born in 1650 to William, Prince of Orange and Mary Stuart (Daughter of Charles I). William III married Mary II, born in 1662 in England and the daughter of James II and Anne Hyde which made them first cousins. Mary died in England in 1694 of smallpox and William died in 1702 after being thrown from his horse. William of Orange was of Holland and a strong proponent of Protestantism

He was baptized on 11 Jan 1677 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. He died in 1744 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. Although Abraham loved the hat business and was good at it, he also had a passion for land and made some bad investments. He also was noted to have an extravagant lifestyle that included a home in London. At his death his estate was not able to cover his debts and it fell to his eldest living son, Walter, to handle everything. Abraham inherited lands in Austry, but with the death of Thomas, it fell to him to run the family business. However, to do so he really needed the warehouses and buildings of Atherstone Hall which was left to Samuel the first son. But Samuel had interests in a political career so in 1696 Samuel sold Atherstone Hall to Abraham and he then continued the Bracebridge business. His mother, Mary was still living in Atherstone Hall and supported Abraham in his efforts.

Abraham was very good at the business of making hats and learned the trade well from his father's loyal servants in the business, John Martin and Abraham Muston. According to the public records, by 1716 Abraham Bracebridge owned 303 acres of land in Atherstone, which consisted of about half the land of the village. He only held about 5 1/2 acres of land for his personal and business use and the remainder of the land he leased out to tenant farmers.

Joseph Kingsbury II (Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 22 Jun 1682 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 1 Dec 1757 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He was buried in Plains Cemetery, Franklin Congregational Church about 5 Dec 1757 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Two years after his marriage, Joseph and his family moved with his father to Norwich, CT. He was also admitted by letter to the church on 4 Jan., 1718 and was one of the eight "pillars" of the church. He was appointed Deacon o 20 Feb. 1735. His wife was admitted to the church by profession of faith on 22 March, 1719.

Like his father, Joseph Jr. was appointed Ensign of the trainband in 1721, Lieutenant in 1729, and Captain in 1748. He was a selectman for Norwich beginning in 1723 and deputy to the General Assembly for several years between 1731 to 1742.

Capt. Joseph seems to have been a man of property and political importance. Listed in his will Joseph gives 13 acres of his 30 acre lot in Coventry adjacent to his son, Ebenezer's land. He also gives his son Joseph half of his land in Bolton. His son Ebenezer received the remainder on his Coventry land. To his son Nathaniel he gave the homestead complete with the barns in Norwich. He gave his son Daniel other land in Norwich. Money was also provided for several including Grandchildren, plus a fund was established to pay the Minister, Mr. John Ellis, so long as he continued in his duties. (Norwich Probate Records, II, 261.

Finally it would seem that Capt Joseph owned at least two slaves, Cuff and Phillis, whom he bequeathed to his wife, Ruth. in Dec. 1773 Ruth gave them their freedom and they moved to Tolland. However, after 20 years the two ex-slaves were unable to support themselves, and since there was a statute that required the previous owners to assume responsibility if the freed slaves became impoverished, the town of Tolland file a law suit against the estate. (Tolland, CT. Reports, 2 Root, 355). It is not known if they ever collected.

Capt. Joseph Kingsbury II and Ruth Denison were married on 5 Feb 1705 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.

In 1749 he was elected Deacon of First Congregational Church, Dedham, MA and remained faithful to that calling the remainder of his life.

Some years later an old pewter communion cup was discovered in Hatch's Auction Rooms in Boston with the inscription; "Ex dono Mr. Nathaniel Kingsbury to ye 2nd church in Dedham 1745."

It is noted that Nathaniel died only three days after the death of his second wife.

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Elizabeth Bullard were married on 14 Jun 1722 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Elizabeth Bullard was born about 1698 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 24 Dec 1751 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts.

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Hannah Bullard were married on 6 Dec 1752 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Hannah Bullard was born about 1700 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. She died on 17 Aug 1775 in Dedham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Hannah apparently was the younger sister of Nathaniel's first wife, Elizabeth Bullard Kingsbury.

He was christened on 7 Dec 1785 in Groton, Suffolk, England. He was living in 1851 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.[153] Robert is listed as a widower living with his brother, Frederick. Robert Kingsbury was a journeyman brick layer and most likely working with his brother at the time. He died about 1860 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. Robert Kingsbury had a strong building company in Boxford and was apparently in friendly competition with his brother Frederick. In the 1855 White's Boxford Directory they are both listed under BRICKLAYERS AND BUILDERS. Frederick was also listed as a brick maker.

According to written documents, Robert Kingsbury was the one who originally built Assington Hall for John Gurdon, Esq. in 1829 and the Kingsbury firm continued to maintain the structure until it burned down in 1957.

Robert Blois Kingsbury and Clarissa Cook were married before 1825. Clarissa Cook[154] (daughter of Arthur Cook and Elizabeth King) was born on 7 Feb 1795 in Groton, Suffolk, England. She died before 1851.[155] Robert Blois Kingsbury and Clarissa Cook had the following children:

598. Martha Corliss (George-21, Thomas-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 2 Jan 1651 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.

Martha Corliss and Samuel Ladd were married on 1 Dec 1674 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Samuel Ladd was born about 1650. Martha Corliss and Samuel Ladd had the following children:

+996 i. Jonathan Ladd (born on 13 Apr 1682).

599. Deborah Corliss (George-21, Thomas-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 6 Jun 1655 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. She died on 15 Mar 1697 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Killed with her children by Indians.

Deborah Corliss and Thomas Eastman were married on 20 Jan 1679 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Thomas Eastman (son of Roger Eastman) was born about 1650. He died on 29 Apr 1688. Deborah Corliss and Thomas Eastman had the following children:

+997 i. Jonathan Eastman (born on 8 Jan 1679/80).

Deborah Corliss and Thomas Kingsbury were married on 29 Jun 1691 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Thomas Kingsbury (son of Henry Kingsbury and Susanna Gage) was born about 1653 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 11 Jun 1720 in Plainfield, Windham, Connecticut. It is noted that both the children of Thomas were killed by Indians, and thus his family line died with them.

Thomas was very active having served in King Philip's War in 1676 where he served in Lieut. Benjamin Sweet's Company. He was also active in other Indian wars and received land on the Saco River as a reward. Both Joseph and Thomas were in the Brick House garrison commanded by Thomas Dustin after the massacre of 1696/97 which took the lives of Thomas's sons and probably his wife also.

In 1699-1700 Thomas appears to have received six shillings for serving on the committee to seat the meeting-house of Haverhill. In 1698 he made a commitment to cut and carry two quarters of wood to the minister, Mr. Rolf. He also promised to attend meeting in the new house of worship when the glass was installed.

According to Pike's Journal Sargent Kingsbury (probably Thomas) was taken captive by the Indians on 3 July, 1706. After his return he appears in Plainfield, CT Where he was given a tract of land for his service. Part of the deed reads as follows:

Ebenezer Kingsbury was admitted to the Church in Bolton and served for a time as Deacon of the church. He was also a very political person and active in the Revolutionary War. He served several years as a representative to the General Assembly from 1754 to 1780. In May 1753 he became a Lieutenant in the Ninth Company in the Fifth Regiment of the Colony and became Captain in Oct. 1756. On 15 Sept. 1774 he was chosen as a member of the Committee of Correspondence in Coventry.

In Rev. Marvin Roots Reminiscences the story is told of Capt Kingsbury that when he returned from the General Assembly one Saturday during a critical period in the Revolution, he and his daughter, Priscilla, took the lead weights out of the family clock and used them to form bullets. In the meantime, his son, Joseph, baked biscuits for the soldiers. The family then replaced the clock weights with sand bags and Captain Kingsbury filled his saddlebags with food and bullets for his return.

Capt. Ebenezer Kingsbury and Priscilla Kingsbury were married on 28 Nov 1743 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Ebenezer and Priscilla were first cousins with the common ancestor of Joseph Kingsbury. The story is told that Priscilla Kingsbury read the entire Bible before consenting to marry Ebenezer to see if there was any Biblical law against the marriage to her cousin. Priscilla Kingsbury (daughter of Capt. Nathaniel Kingsbury and Hannah Denison) was born on 22 Mar 1719/20 in Hampton, Windham, Connecticut. She died on 31 Jan 1805 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. 718. Nathaniel Kingsbury (Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 7 Feb 1729/30 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He died on 15 Dec 1784 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Nathaniel, his wife, and five of their children all died of consumption within a relatively short period of time. He was buried in Old Franklin Burying Grounds about 19 Dec 1784 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Nathaniel Kingsbury inherited the Kingsbury Homestead in West Farms, (Norwich) CT.

(Remarks by Rev. Charles Backus, D.D. in the published notes to the sermon for Bethiah Kingsbury.) "The following traits in his (Nathaniel) character were too visible to escape notice of his acquaintance. He had a soul which was above the low arts of dissimulation; he was steady in his principles; upright in his dealings; a feeling, a decided, and a generous friend to the needy, the helpless, and the afflicted. These qualities, united with a large share of sprightliness and humor, rendered him beloved as a companion and highly esteemed as a member of society. He was the youngest son and child of Deacon Joseph Kingsbury, whose grandfather came out of England, and was one of the first settlers of the Town of Ipswich. He removed with his family from Haverhill, in the Province (now Commonwealth) of Massachusetts, near the beginning of the present century (18th Century), and settled in the west part of Norwich, lately incorporated into a town, by the name of Franklin. Haverhill was at that time a frontier town and was frequently harassed by incursions of the Eastern and Northern tribes of Indians, which occasioned Deacon Kingsbury's removal. He had a large family, six sons and five daughters, who lived to marry and have children. "Mr. Kingsbury and his wife, with five of their Children, died of a Consumption. More than forty of his relatives died of the same disorder, within thirty-eight years from the last date. The curious will find it difficult to investigate the causes, in a family remarkable for their attachment to the agricultural life, from their first settlement in America, and who have lived in the common temperate style of New England farmers."

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Sarah Hill were married on 4 Sep 1755 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Sarah Hill (daughter of Jacob Hill and Susanna Hancock) was born about 1734 in Cambridge, Middlesex, Massachusetts. She was christened on 25 Aug 1734 in Cambridge, Middlesex, Massachusetts. She died on 21 Oct 1789 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Sarah apparently died of consumption. She was buried in Old Franklin Burying Grounds about 25 Oct 1789 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Nathaniel Kingsbury and Sarah Hill had the following children:

+1152 i. Col. Jacob Kingsbury (born on 6 Jul 1756).
+1153 ii. Sarah Kingsbury (born on 12 Aug 1758).
1154 iii. Nathaniel Kingsbury was born on 17 Apr 1760 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He served in the military about 1778 in Revolutionary War. This is most likely the Nathaniel Kingsbury who served in Colonel Canfield's Militia Regiment at West Point in September 1781.

He died on 8 Dec 1784 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

+1155 iv. Judge John Kingsbury (born on 30 Dec 1761).

1156 v. Joseph Kingsbury was born on 5 Jan 1764 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He died on 24 Dec 1783 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

1157 vi. Charles Kingsbury was born on 7 Feb 1767 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He died on 22 Jan 1789. Charles was noted as being a member of the Junior Class at Yale College at the time of his death.

1158 vii. Tabitha Hill Kingsbury was born on 2 Apr 1770 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. She died on 1 Feb 1787 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

1159 viii. Bethiah Hill Kingsbury was born on 8 Mar 1772 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. She died on 24 Feb 1790 in Somers, Tolland, Connecticut. Died while in the home of Dr. Charles Backus.

1160 ix. William Howe Kingsbury was born on 16 Feb 1775 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He died on 26 Feb 1777 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

719. John Kingsbury (Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 25 Apr 1710 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He died on 20 Oct 1780 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut.[186] John drowned in the Connecticut River attempting to cross it in a small boat. He was buried about 23 Oct 1780 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. John Kingsbury moved from Hampton to Coventry (now Andover), CT sometime before 1736. He was a signer of the petition to the General Assembly on May 1736 from Coventry asking that they become part of the Society at Bolton.

John Kingsbury and Deborah Spaulding were married on 21 Oct 1730 in Connecticut. Deborah Spaulding was born on 17 Jan 1705/6.[187] She died on 12 Mar 1744 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. She was buried in Bolton Burying Grounds about 16 Mar 1744 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. John Kingsbury and Deborah Spaulding had the following children:

+1161 i. Irena Kingsbury (born on 24 Jul 1731).

+1162 ii. Eunice Kingsbury (born on 17 Feb 1732/33).

+1163 iii. Lydia Kingsbury (born on 10 Oct 1737).

+1164 iv. John Kingsbury (born on 28 Sep 1740).

1165 v. Uriah Kingsbury was born on 7 Aug 1743 in Hampton, Windham, Connecticut. He was christened on 7 Aug 1743 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 1 Jun 1744 in Hampton, Windham, Connecticut. Note that the child Uriah Kingsbury died a few months after the death of his mother.

John Kingsbury and Abigail Bissell Phelps were married on 13 Aug 1746 in Connecticut. Abigail Bissell Phelps (daughter of Joseph Phelps and Abigail Bissell) was born on 18 Nov 1709 in Windsor, Hartford, Connecticut. She died on 27 Jun 1782 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. She was buried in Enfield Burying Grounds about 1 Jul 1782 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. John Kingsbury and Abigail Bissell Phelps had the following children:

1166 i. Joseph Kingsbury was born on 26 May 1747 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He was christened on 7 Jun 1747 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 11 Jan 1748/49 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut.

[187] Cemetery Grave Stone or other Marker. Date of Birth engraved on grave stone.

+1167 ii. Daniel Kingsbury (born on 20 Sep 1749).
+1168 iii. Abigail Kingsbury (born on 19 Jan 1752).

720. Nathaniel Kingsbury jr. (Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 8 Sep 1711 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He died on 23 Jun 1796 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. He was buried in Plains Cemetery, Franklin Congregational Church about 26 Jun 1796 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Nathaniel and family moved to Tolland about 1736. On 27 March 1736 he received (purchased?) 20 acres of land from Ephraim Grant of Tolland (Tolland Records, III, 72). Later he apparently traded 132.75 acres of land in Tolland to his Father-in-Law, Capt. Sam Chapman, for a farm containing 190 acres. This is apparently where he lived and raised his family (Tolland Records,III,108). Descendants of Nathaniel would remain on this land for over 175 years.

It is also noted that he was the Deacon of the Presbyterian Church in Tolland for several years, and was often referred to as Deacon Kingsbury, even on his tombstone.

Notice that there were three children who died within 2 weeks of each other in 1749. Later the family used all three names for other children born. This denotes a major illness which must have struck the children down.

Nathaniel Kingsbury jr. and Sarah Chapman were married on 16 Mar 1736/37 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Sarah Chapman (daughter of Captain Samuel Chapman and Hannah Strong) was born in 1721 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 14 Jul 1794 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. She was buried in Plains Cemetery, Franklin Congregational Church about 19 Jul 1794 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Sarah Chapman Kingsbury's husband purchased her family's 190 acre homestead and that is where they lived.
Nathaniel Kingsbury jr. and Sarah Chapman had the following children:

+1169 i. Hannah Kingsbury (born on 25 Jan 1738).
+1170 ii. Sarah Kingsbury (born on 15 Feb 1739).
1171 iii. Nathaniel Kingsbury was born on 28 Aug 1742 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 2 Dec 1749 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Three children died with days of one another. He was buried in North Burying Grounds about 6 Dec 1749 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.
1172 iv. Jabez Kingsbury was born on 23 Feb 1745 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 22 Nov 1749 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Three children died with days of one another. He was buried in North Burying Grounds about 26 Nov 1749 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.
1173 v. Ruth Kingsbury was born on 18 Aug 1748 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 2 Dec 1749 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Three children died with days of one another. She was buried in North Burying Ground about 6 Dec 1749 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.
+1174 vi. Ruth Kingsbury (born on 7 Oct 1750).
+1175 vii. Nathaniel Kingsbury (born on 5 May 1753).
+1176 viii. Deacon Jabez Kingsbury (born on 10 Mar 1756).
+1177 ix. Samuel Kingsbury (born on 2 Feb 1763).

721. Mary Kingsbury (Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 5 Nov 1713 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. She was christened on 18 Feb 1727/28 in Hampton, Windham, Connecticut. Mary Kingsbury joined the Church at Hampton, CT on 18 Feb. 1728 and the Church in Bolton on 30 April 1732. She died on 15 Dec 1776 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. Cause of death was apoplexy.

She was buried about 18 Dec 1776 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut.

Mary Kingsbury and Elijah Hammond were married on 12 Oct 1732 in Connecticut. Elijah and Mary Hammond had 4 children: 1) Nathaniel, 2) Hannah, 3) Priscilla, and 4) Elijah.

After the death of Mary, Elijah remarried on 1 Jan. 1778 to Abigail Terry who died on 19 March 1796 at age 65. Elijah Hammond (son of Isaac Hammond and Ann Kendrick) was born on 7 Oct 1711 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 3 May 1800 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. Elijah Hammond was a joiner (carpenter?) and apparently was involved in the construction of the Old Meeting House in Bolton. He was mentioned in the Reminiscences of Rev. Marvin Root (1844) as a man held in very high regard. Mary Kingsbury and Elijah Hammond had the following children:

+1178 i. Nathaniel Hammond.
+1179 ii. Candace Hammond (born in 1751).

Priscilla Kingsbury and Capt. Ebenezer Kingsbury were married on 28 Nov 1743 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Ebenezer and Priscilla were first cousins with the common ancestor of Joseph Kingsbury. The story is told that Priscilla Kingsbury read the entire Bible before consenting to marry Ebenezer to see if there was any Biblical law against the marriage to her cousin. Capt. Ebenezer Kingsbury (son of Capt. Joseph Kingsbury II and Ruth Denison) was born on 11 Feb 1715/16 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He died on 6 Sep 1800 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He was buried in North Burial Grounds about 11 Sep 1800 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Capt. Ebenezer Kingsbury was admitted to the Church in Bolton and served for a time as Deacon of the church. He was also a very political person and active in the Revolutionary War. He served several years as a representative to the General Assembly from 1754 to 1780. In May 1753 he became a Lieutenant in the Ninth Company in the Fifth Regiment of the Colony and became Captain in Oct. 1756. On 15 Sept. 1774 he was chosen as a member of the Committee of Correspondence in Coventry.

In Rev. Marvin Roots Reminiscences the story is told of Capt Kingsbury that when he returned from the General Assembly one Saturday during a critical period in the Revolution, he and his daughter, Priscilla, took the lead weights out of the family clock and used them to form bullets. In the meantime, his son, Joseph, baked biscuits for the soldiers. The family then replaced the clock weights with sand bags and Captain Kingsbury filled his saddlebags with food and bullets for his return. Priscilla Kingsbury and Capt. Ebenezer Kingsbury had the following children:

1114 i. Ebenezer Kingsbury (born on 28 Aug 1744).

Private under Captain Aaron Smith. Captain Smith would later become part of the Kingsbury family when his son married the daughter of Jonathan. Captain Smith commanded the local militia at the beginning of the Revolutionary War and formed one of the early groups of "Minute Men". The idea was that a company of men would agree to form at a minutes notice. When the British troops left Boston for Lexington and Concord, a messenger alerted Captain Smith in Needham, MA about 10:00pm. Captain Smith, his son Aaron, and a neighbor went to a hilltop and fired three shots. By daybreak a company had formed and marched the fourteen miles to Lexington. By that evening five brave men from Needham were dead on the battlefield of Lexington and two others were wounded. Jonathan Kingsbury later received bounty for service at York. By June 19, 1788 he was Captain of the local Militia. From 1795 to 1799 he served as Lieutenant Colonel of the Regular forces and he was Colonel of the Needham Militia.

He died on 15 Oct 1806 in Needham, Norfolk, Massachusetts. Jonathan Kingsbury built his home at Rosemary and Webster Streets and earned his living operating a sawmill near Sawmill Bridge on Wellesley Ave. He supplied the stone and supplied the oxen for the construction of Kendricks Bridge.

In politics Jonathan served on the committee to purchase a schoolhouse on Sept. 14,1795, served as Justice of the Peace during the periods 1790-1798 and 1800-1806, served as Town Clerk 1802-1804, Treasurer of the town 1793-1806, and Representative to the General Court 1793-1799.

Jonathan Ladd and Susannah Kingsbury were married on 28 Dec 1713 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.[227] Susannah and Jonathan Ladd had at least 10 children: 1) Ezekiel, 2) Elizabeth, 3) Jonathan, 4) Mary, 5) Susannah, 6) Ephraim, 7) Abigail, 8) Zuriah, 9) Jesse, and 10) Samuel. Susannah Kingsbury (daughter of Lieut. Joseph Kingsbury and Love Ayer) was born on 24 Sep 1695 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Susannah and her family moved to Norwich/West Farms, CT, then to Tolland about 1720, and apparently later in life to East Windsor, CT. Jonathan Ladd and Susannah Kingsbury had the following children:

+733 i. Ezekiel Ladd (born on 31 Jan 1714/15).
734 ii. Elizabeth Ladd (born on 14 Mar 1715/16).
+735 iii. Jonathan Ladd (born on 5 Mar 1717/18).
+736 iv. Mary Ladd (born on 6 Feb 1719/20).
+737 v. Susannah Ladd (born on 17 Feb 1721/22).
738 vi. Ephraim Ladd (born on 30 Jan 1724/25).
739 vii. Abigail Ladd (born on 26 Mar 1728).
+740 viii. Zurviah Ladd (born on 30 Mar 1730).
+741 ix. Jesse Ladd (born on 10 Apr 1732).
742 x. Samuel Ladd (born on 29 Mar 1734).

997. Jonathan Eastman (Deborah Corliss-22, George-21, Thomas-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 8 Jan 1679/80 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He died about 1747.

Jonathan Eastman and Hannah Green were married on 8 Apr 1701 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. Hannah Green (daughter of Peter Green and Elizabeth Button) was born on 20 Dec 1677 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. During the entire period of what was known as Queen Anne's War, the colonists were in constant fear of Indian attack from the French Canadians. In Haverhill they built six garrisons. Jonathan and his family lived in the fifth garrison.

On Feb. 8, 1703, Jonathan and several of the men were away from the fort. The snow was very deep, the men expected to return by nightfall, and there was little thought that an attack would occur under those conditions. The gates were left open and the Indians were all over them before they knew what hit them. Hannah was still very weak when they entered her room and she saw them brutally kill her week old baby daughter. Hannah herself was taken prisoner and forced to travel with the Indians back to Canada. They first settled at Ossipee Lake until Spring and then moved to Newbury, VT. Here the Indian tribe normally raised corn and it was planting time. Word came that a scouting party was searching for her and the Indians uprooted again traveling through the wilderness to Trois Rivieres in Quebec. A local French woman found her in the Indian camp and befriended her. Hannah was eventually able to escape and hid in the home of the French woman.

Several months after her escape, she saw her husband walk past the house. He was a very big man for that time being over 6 feet tall, and hard to mistake. Hannah called out to Jonathan, but he did not hear her. She sent a child after him and they were finally reunited. Hannah ended up spending a total of two years in Canada before her rescue. The trip home was no easy journey, and often they had to use snow shoes to walk through the snow.

Later Jonathan was to make good use of this experience. He became part of a group of soldiers from Haverhill known as the "Snowshoe Men of Haverhill" who would protect the residents of the area with patrols in the snow. They would never again be caught unprepared. Jonathan would eventually receive land in payment for his service and by 1724 owned between 300 and 400 acres.

In 1741 the boundaries of Haverhill were redrawn and the northern portion became part of New Hampshire. This is where the Eastman family lived and by 1749 their town was known as Hampstead, NH. Many of the records pertaining to this great pioneer family are now in NH. Jonathan Eastman and Hannah Green had the following children:

1738 i. Thomas Eastman was born on 17 Mar 1701/2 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts. He died on 20 Jul 1703 in Haverhill, Essex, Massachusetts.

He was buried in Saint Peter Church Cemetery on 25 Aug 1832 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. At this time Abraham Bracebridge IV primarily resided in London for both business and social reasons, but maintained Atherstone Hall as the foundation of their hating industry. The family made their fortune in the Hatery industry and now lived the lavish and expensive style of the English gentry.

During the Napoleonic Wars, Abraham Bracebridge IV led the men of Atherstone as Captain of the Infantry. The Infantry was one of ten companies in the Warwickshire Militia associated in 1798 and re-embodied in June 1803. The Atherstone infantry was comprised of 90 to 100 men. Apparently it was with some pride that the men wore cocked hats, white breeches, and black gaiters.

Abraham Bracebridge IV and Mary Elizabeth Holte were married on 12 Sep 1775 in Leith, Cheshire, England. Saint Michael's Church. Mary Elizabeth Holte (daughter of Sir Charles Holte) was born in 1757 in Brereton, Cheshire, England. Mary was the daughter of the Sixth Baron of Aston hall, Birmingham. She died about 1 May 1819 in Atherstone, Warwickshire, England. She was buried in Saint Peter Church Cemetery on 5 May 1819 in Mancetter, Warwickshire, England. Mary Holte Bracebridge was in line to inherit the great estate of Aston Hall from her uncle, Sir Lister Holte. Abraham used this as security to finance several business ventures that were not very successful. Finally he forced the sale of Aston Hall in 1817 to satisfy the creditors. The great mansion became part of the Birmingham Council possessions and was used as a museum in modern times. A portrait of Mary Holte and her daughter finally became a permanent part of the Aston Hall Museum in 1985. Abraham Bracebridge IV and Mary Elizabeth Holte had the following children:

+1759 i. Mary Holte Bracebridge (born on 22 Jun 1776).

Abigail Kingsbury and Daniel Grant were married about 18 Oct 1746 in York, York, Maine. Daniel Grant (son of James Grant and Patience Austin) was born on 26 May 1723 in York, York, Maine. He died after 1747 in York, York, Maine. Abigail Kingsbury and Daniel Grant had the following children:

1789 i. Abigail Grant was born about 1747 in York, York, Maine.
1790 ii. Nathaniel Grant was born about 1748 in York, York, Maine.
1791 iii. Joseph Grant was born about 1750 in York, York, Maine.

1022. Colonel John Kingsbury (Henry-22, John-21, John-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 3 Feb 1716/17 in Newbury, Essex, Massachusetts. He served in the military about 1752 in French and Indian Wars. "Colonel Kingsbury's military services were distinguished, especially in the winter campaigns at Lake George, in 1755-6 and 1756-7. Previously he had been a captain in the regiment of Col. John Greenleaf. Early in the season of 1755 the erection of a fort at Lake George was authorized. The French and the Indians were continually making inroads and devastations upon the settlers up and down the lakes, thus causing them to be a highway for the destruction of the English people. Colonel Moses Titcomb of Newbury led his Essex County regiment to that region, to join the army under the command of Lord Amherst. In an engagement 8 Sept 1755 Colonel Titcomb was killed. During the summer it was known that warlike operations were imminent, and in August 1755 a reinforcement was summoned, men being wanted who should not only render full military duty, but who could also construct vessels and storehouses. To this summons John Kingsbury and picked men from various military bodies of Essex County responded. These soldiers were also ship-carpenters. John Kingsbury is styled in the muster rolls, Lieutenant-Colonel and Captain, aged thirty-eight years, and a resident in the town of his birth-Newbury. His service began 9 Sept 1755 and continued until the following February, though some of his men were relieved a few weeks earlier. His company was attached to the regiment of Colonel Ichabod Plaisted. In one of the muster rolls he is styled Colonel, with a Company of Carpenters at Lake George, building vessels at the Lakes, storehouses, etc. His first term of service comprised 23 weeks and 5 days and he was allowed 15 days travel from Albany. His company of carpenters was made up largely of Newbury, Ipswich, and Salisbury men. The flotilla which they assisted in constructing became famous in the annals of the French and Indian War. The two winter seasons at the lakes, doing nominal military duty, since the lakes were frozen, and active military operations well-nigh impossible, was a service which called for men skilled as well as patriotic. The Reduction of Canada was largely due to the splendid service of this flotilla." "After his campaigns were over, Colonel Kingsbury returned to an active business life in Newbury, and also resumed his place in the Newbury train-band. In 1762 he removed to Pownalborough, where he became a very prominent citizen." He was part of a 3 man committee to build the major buildings of Pownalborough (now Wiscasset, Maine) and built the first 2 story house in that town. He died on 22 Aug 1764 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts. Colonel Kingsbury died while on a business trip for the town. He was suddenly seized with pain and died.

[236] Bible Records. According to notes in the family Bible.

[237] Frederick John Kingsbury and Edited by Mary Kingsbury Talcott, Descendants of Henry Kingsbury. The notes in Mary Talcott's genealogy of the Kingsbury family cites a Weaver Manuscript that says Joel Greenslit was married to Hannah, and a Miss Tweedy who said that one of the daughters of Jonathan Kingsbury married Joel Greenslit. For some reason Mary Talcott seemed to think that it must have been Esther Kingsbury, but current research seems to make this union unlikely. There is a substantial age difference between Joel and Esther plus since it is assumed that she married Elias Page and had children by him, then Esther would have had a divorce after only about one year of marriage. That would have been very unusual for this period of our history.

1072. Stephen Kingsbury (John-22, Ephraim-21, James-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 7 Dec 1735 in Plainfield, Windham, Connecticut. He died in 1799 in Norfolk, Litchfield, Connecticut. Stephen was on the school committee in 1766 and a selectman in 1771. He seems to have bought and sold land several times and there was a tract of land in Norfolk near the State Line known as the "Kingsbury Lot". On 15 Feb. 1786 he met with 4 others in New Marlborough, Mass to organize an Episcopal Society known as the Separate Method.

Stephen Kingsbury and Sarah Spalding were married on 10 Dec 1755 in Plainfield, Sullivan, New Hampshire. Sarah Spalding (daughter of Nathaniel Spalding) was born before 1740 in Plainfield, Sullivan, New Hampshire. She died in 1802 in Orwell, Addison, Vermont. Stephen Kingsbury and Sarah Spalding had the following children:

1907 i. John Kingsbury was born on 3 Jul 1757. He served in the military about 1776 in Revolutionary War. He enlisted in the Revolutionary War at age 18; taken prisoner at battle of Long Island and died on the prison ship at New York. When his clothes were sent home there was some poetry in his pocket which described his food and sufferings. He died on a Prison Ship at New York in 1777.
1908 ii. Tarbel Kingsbury was born on 10 Feb 1759. Tarbel Kingsbury died on 29 Feb 1760 in Plainfield, Sullivan, New Hampshire. Tarbel Kingsbury was buried about 2 Mar 1760 in Plainfield, Sullivan, New Hampshire.
1909 iii. Dr. Jacob Kingsbury was born on 21 Jan 1761 in Plainfield, Sullivan, New Hampshire.
+1910 iv. Stephen Kingsbury (born on 25 Mar 1763).

He served in the military in 1776 in Revolutionary War. Lemuel was a Cornet in Sheldon's Light Dragoons, a dashing troop of cavalry in 1776. He died on 24 Nov 1804 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. Lemuel apparently moved his family to Poultney, Vt. sometime before 23 Feb. 1803, but moved back to East Canaan, Conn. before his death. Canaan, Connecticut was a strong settlement of the Kingsbury family. The family had Negro servants because Lemuel liberated a Negro servant named Cuff on 13 April 1780. He apparently had land in several locations, including Canaan, Norfolk, and in Poultney (Vt.). He was also a representative from Canaan to the General Assembly in 1784. Something terrible must have happened in 1786-87 because all the female children seem to have died that year.

Captain Lemuel Kingsbury and Mary Whitney were married on 7 May 1767 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. Mary Whitney (daughter of Joshua Whitney and Ann Blodgett) was born on 7 Jan 1742/43 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. She died on 22 Nov 1817 in East Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. Mary's parents were one of.the first settlers of Canaan along with the Kingsburys and among the prominent families of the community. Captain Lemuel Kingsbury and Mary Whitney had the following children:

+1916 i. Joshua Kingsbury (born on 13 Feb 1768).
+1917 ii. George Kingsbury (born on 23 Jan 1770).
1918 iii. Abigail Kingsbury was born on 24 Feb 1772 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. She was buried in 1776 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. She died on 12 Aug 1776 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut. She was christened.
+1919 iv. William Kingsbury (born on 16 Jan 1774).

+1946 iv. Sanford Kingsbury (born on 7 Nov 1791).

1081. Joseph Kingsbury[244,245,246] (Oliver-22, Samuel A.-21, James-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 5 Aug 1760 in Plainfield, Windham, Connecticut. He served in the military in Mar 1776 in Revolutionary War.[247] Joseph enlisted at age 16 in Captain James Osgood's Company, Col. Bedel's Regiment, New Hampshire Troops with his brother, Samuel, and was also taken prisoner at the Battle of the Cedars.

Apparently, at some point after his release, Joseph joined Major Edward Jessup as part of the historically famous Jessup's Rangers. We can only speculate at this time as to why Joseph would make this change since his brothers still supported the Patriots, but certainly his youth may have had something to do with the change in loyalties. Also since he was one of the younger sons of the family, the likelihood that he would inherit any of the Kingsbury lands would be slim. However, this is only speculation and all we know for sure is that he did serve in the British Loyalist forces out of Canada and later made Canada his home.

Major Edward Jessup was born in Stamford, Connecticut in 1735. The family later moved to Dutchess County, New York and then to Albany where his brother became involved in land speculation. They would establish a community known as Jessup's Landing near Glen Falls on the Hudson River. The entire family was loyal to the King of England and formed the King's Royal Regiment of New York when the Revolutionary War broke out. All three Jessup brothers (Ebenezer, Edward, and Joseph) fought bravely in the unsuccessful Burgoyne campaign and were all captured at the Battle of Saratoga. They were paroled later and made their way to Quebec where they joined some of the remainder of their regiment. In 1781 the Governor of that area, Governor Haldimand, established the Loyal Rangers from these detached groups under the command of Major Edward Jessup and the group soon became known as Jessup's Rangers. Our Joseph Kingsbury, who was living in Yamaska, Quebec, Canada at the time became a part of this group. Yamaska is just east of Montreal. After the war, the men were granted lands along the Saint Lawrence River, mostly in Ontario but also into Quebec.

Joseph Kingsbury and Susan Ford were married on 27 Dec 1780 in Montreal, Ile de Montreal, Quebec, Canada.[248] Married in Christ Church. Susan Ford was born about 1762.

Joseph Kingsbury and Unknown were married about 1785 in Connecticut.[249] Unknown was born in 1765. Joseph Kingsbury and Unknown had the following children:

+1947 i. Simeon Kingsbury (born on 3 Jun 1786).
+1948 ii. Oliver Kingsbury (born in 1787).

Joseph Kingsbury and Marie Angelique Tessier-Lavigne were married on 23 Apr 1797 in Saint Gabriel, Montreal, Quebec, Canada. Marie Angelique Tessier-Lavigne was born about 1776. Joseph Kingsbury and Marie

He enlisted with Benedict Arnold and served during the American expedition to Canada, but deserted when the Americans withdrew and remained there. In 1780, Kingsbury joined Col. Ebenezer Jessup's Corps, serving until Dec. 1783. He settled afterwards at Yamaska, Canada. Kingsbury owned some stock in his father's land in Plainfield. He estimated his loss at 22 pounds sterling." p. 464.

He was christened on 16 Mar 1739 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He served in the military about 1775 in Revolutionary War. While they were constructing their homestead, they heard news of the battle of Lexington. They stopped construction and joined the march to Boston. They completed the house the next year and the date of 1776 was on one of the bricks on the chimney. Ephraim served in the Lexington Alarm in Capt. Elias Buell's company from Coventry for 10 days (Connecticut Men in the Revolution, 7). Then he served as Ensign in Col. Roger Enos' Third Battalion of Connecticut Troops in Connecticut and Rhode Island, 1776-77. According to a letter written by Erastus Kingsbury, July 29, 1889, Ephraim was in the city of Boston when the British evacuated and remained there for a time as an officer, possibly Lieutenant. He was apparently acquainted with General Putnam. Later Ephraim was a deputy to General Court from Coventry for several years between 1780 and 1798. He died on 10 Mar 1826 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He was buried in North Burial Grounds about 13 Mar 1826 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Ephraim Kingsbury moved to Coventry about 1761. With the help of his Brother-in-Law, Amos Avery, he built a house on land he purchased from Peter Scott in the west part of town on the road to Rockville. He lived in the house for 65 years and he descendants lived there until September 1893.

Jacob Kingsbury (Nathaniel-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 6 Jul 1756 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He served in the military on 11 Jul 1775 in Revolutionary War. Jacob Kingsbury represented the family with great honor in the Continental Army. He enlisted under his cousin, Captain Asa Kingsbury on 11 July, 1775. On 29 September, 1775 he became Corporal and went to Roxbury and the Camp at Boston (Conn. Men in the Revolution, p.85). Later he served in Capt. Huntington's company at New York as Sergeant and participated in the retreat following the battle of Long Island (Conn. Men in the Revolution, p. 404). From 8 May, to 26 September, 1777 he was on a privateering expedition from New London on the schooner SPY (Revolutionary Rolls, Connecticut Historical Society, p. 240). It is possible that this was how he obtained the funds necessary to purchase his gear to join Col. Huntington's regiment at Camp Connecticut on the Hudson River. He carried a gun only for a short time before Col. Huntington appointed him an Orderly. on 26 April, 1780 he was commissioned Ensign and became part of the hand picked group chosen by the Marquis de LaFayette for the southern campaign into Virginia. After the war was over, Jacob was promoted to Lieutenant and sent to the western army where he continued for 14 years. This was a period of great danger and hardship on the western frontier. The military presence was spread very thin and the Indians were becoming more hostile. It was during this period that Lieut. Kingsbury distinguished himself with the heroic defense of Fort Harmar and earned the promotions to Captain and then Major.(See the History of Ohio for an account of this event.) The following General Order attests to the significance of this event:

Fort Washington, 14 January, 1791.

EXTRACT FROM GENERAL ORDER: The General is highly pleased with the cool and spirited conduct displayed by Lieut. Kingsbury in repulsing a body of about 300 savages, who surrounded Dunlap's station on Monday morning last and besieged it, endeavoring to set it on fire with their arrows and keeping up a heavy fire against his small party for the space of twenty-five hours. . . . This spirited defense made by Lieut. Kingsbury, with so small a force as 35 men total, old and young, sick and well, and in such bad works, reflects the greatest credit upon him and his party. The General returns his thanks to him, and directs that the Adjutant transmit him a copy of these orders by the first conveyance. Jos. Harmar, Brig.-General.

F. J. Kingsbury refers to a letter from Major Kingsbury which explained that he did not even have the time to return home to help with his father's estate. He only had 6 months at the most which would barely give him time to ride home and turn around for the return. He finally returned to Connecticut in 1799 and spent two years recruiting for the Army. It was during this time that he married Sarah Palmer Ellis. In 1802 he was again ordered to the frontier and stationed among the Creek Indians in Georgia. He was promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel and transferred to the Western Army stationed at Mackinaw. Later he was transferred to the southwest where he lived for several years at Bellefontaine at the mouth of the Missouri River and at Fort Adams on the Mississippi River. In 1809 he became Colonel of the First Infantry. F. J. Kingsbury mentions that in one of his conversations with Col Kingsbury, he spoke of Arron Burr. At the time he was Major Kingsbury and had command of the Fort at New Orleans when Arron Burr was attempting to gain possession of Louisiana. Accordingly Arron Burr attempted to see Major Kingsbury numerous times, but the Major did not trust him and never allowed him in. Apparently the two men never met. According to this conversation, the Major had to leave the Fort on some business and when he did he confided the whole scheme to his wife and put her in command of the fort with the next officer in nominal command. Fortunately nothing happened, but Sarah was ready and able. Early in the War of 1812, Col Kingsbury was stationed at Fort Detroit and according to him was offered command of the post. He claims that illness and his distrust of the plans of the administration led him to decline. General Hull became the commander of the post, and according to Col. Kingsbury, had no choice but to surrender under the circumstances. Col. Kingsbury claimed that General Hull became a scapegoat for a weak war administration.

During the latter part of the War of 1812, he was in charge of Fort New London and Fort Newport. It was here that he was appointed Inspector-General of the Eastern Division of the Army, and served in this capacity until the end of the war. He then retired after serving forty distinguished years. He retired to his family home in Franklin, to the estate of about 400 acres established by Joseph Kingsbury when he moved there from Haverhill in 1707. F.J. Kingsbury mentions with fond memories going there when he was a boy and enjoying the peace of Kingsbury Hill. It apparently was a wealthy estate with several servants. F. J. Kingsbury also recounts the following: "In the Senate of the United States, in January 1828, Gen. William H. Harrison, subsequently president, said, 'The first captain under whom I served, Col. Kingsbury of Connecticut, than whom Sparta nor Rome never produced a better soldier, informed me that he joined General Washington's army with a portmanteau filled with clothing, which becoming the common property of his brother officers, the stock was soon so reduced that the portmanteau was dispensed with, and the remains of his wardrobe carried in the knapsack of a soldier" He served in the military in 1812 in War of 1812. He retired on 15 Jun 1815 in Missouri. After his retirement from the military, Colonel Kingsbury lived in Missouri until his death. He died on 1 Jul 1837 in Missouri.[255] He was buried in Franklin Old Burying Grounds about 5 Jul 1837 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

2069 vii. Sarah Hill Kingsbury was born on 20 Jul 1815. She died on 10 Feb 1840 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. She was buried about 15 Feb 1840 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

2070 viii. Charles Ellis Kingsbury was born on 12 Jul 1818 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He served in the military about 1836 in French and Indian Wars. According to F.J. Kingsbury, Charles Ellis Kingsbury received a citizen's appointment (one without previous military experience) in the Second Regiment, United States Dragoons in 1836 under Gen. Andrew Jackson's administration. He did some recruiting in Warrenton, VT and then joined the regiment in Florida during the Seminole Indian Wars. He was involved in the fighting in the Everglades and died of fever at Fort Mellen, FL. A camp was named in his honor in Florida and the area retained the name for several years.

His father was quite ill when news of the death of Charles arrived in Franklin, so the family did not tell him. Col Kingsbury died not knowing that his son preceded him. He died on 9 Jun 1837 in Fort Mellen, Florida. Charles died of a fever during the Everglade battles of the Seminole Indian Wars.

1153. Sarah Kingsbury (Nathaniel-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 12 Aug 1758 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. She died on 10 Dec 1831 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. She was buried in Franklin Old Burying Grounds about 14 Dec 1831 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

1164. John Kingsbury (John-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 28 Sep 1740 in Hampton, Windham, Connecticut. He was christened on 12 Oct 1740 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. He died after 2 Jan 1790 in Halifas, Windham, Vermont. On 1 April, 1773 John Kingsbury purchased land from Benjamin Graves of East Haddam in Hartland, CT.(Hartland Land Records, I, 372). On 4 February 1776 he was admitted to membership in the Church at Hartland. On 8 January, 1776 there is a deed referring to a swap of land with John trading his father's estate for land from either Daniel Kingsbury or Phinehas Kingsbury, possibly in Hartland (Hartland Land Records, I, 498).

He apparently returned to Enfield prior to 1785 and finally moved to Halifax, VT. where he died.

John Kingsbury and Desire Meacham were married on 15 Dec 1763 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. Desire Meacham (daughter of Benjamin Meacham and Elizabeth) was born on 15 Sep 1743 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. John Kingsbury and Desire Meacham had the following children:

+2088 i. Uriah Kingsbury (born on 6 Oct 1764).
2089 ii. Mary Kingsbury was born on 30 Jun 1766 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut.
+2090 iii. Desire Kingsbury (born on 19 Nov 1768).
+2091 iv. Joseph Kingsbury (born on 20 May 1771).
+2092 v. John Kingsbury (born before 24 Sep 1775).
+2093 vi. Jeremiah Kingsbury (born on 25 Jul 1778).
+2094 vii. Abner Kingsbury (born on 28 Aug 1781).
+2095 viii. Roswell (Rosel) Kingsbury (born on 6 Oct 1785).
2096 ix. Lydia Kingsbury was born on 12 Mar 1788 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. She died on 4 Jul 1855 in Saint Charles, Kane, Illinois. Lydia Kingsbury became the live-in housekeeper for her nephew, Luke Kingsbury, son of Roswell Kingsbury, in 1853 and continued to live with him after his second marriage until her death.

1167. Daniel Kingsbury (John-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 20 Sep 1749 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He was christened on 24 Sep 1749 in Bolton, Tolland, Connecticut. He moved to Hartland, Hartford, Connecticut about 1772. He served in the military about 1774 in Revolutionary War. With the Lexington Alarm he enlisted in the company raised in Enfield under Major Nathaniel Terry and became a Sergeant (Connecticut Men in the Revolution, p.10). in November, 1776 he was appointed Ensign in the Connecticut State Troops, Second Battalion. In 1777 he served under General Wooster in Rhode Island (Connecticut Men in the Revolution, p. 424). He moved to Sandisfield, Berkshire, Massachusetts in 1779. He was living in 1810 in Cherry Valley, Otsego, New York.[257] Daniel Kingsbury first lived on land given to him by his father in Enfield.

According to land records (Hartland Land Records, I, 521) Daniel sold land in Hartland to Uriel Holmes on 10 May,1776, therefore he must have moved there sometime after 1771 and before 1776. Daniel and his wife were admitted to the Church in Hartland on 30 June, 1776.

December 1778 Daniel was appointed State Tax Collector for the town of Hartland. The family moved to Sandisfield, CT in 1779, and after the death of his wife Daniel moved to Cherry Valley, NY.

According to church records Captain Daniel Kingsbury was admitted to the Sandisfield Church by letter of transfer from Hartland on May 2, 1779 and was disciplined for conduct against his wife in 1799. He apparently married a second wife and perhaps had a son, Daniel by this second marriage.

Daniel Kingsbury and Rose Pease were married on 7 Feb 1771 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. Rose Pease (daughter of Benjamin Pease and Abigail Rose) was born on 2 Dec 1751 in Enfield, Hartford, Connecticut. She died on 1 Apr 1789 in Sandisfield, Berkshire, Massachusetts. Daniel Kingsbury and Rose Pease had the following children:

+2097 i. Lucy Kingsbury (born on 14 Jul 1772).
+2098 ii. Daniel Kingsbury (born on 16 Aug 1773).
+2099 iii. George Kingsbury (born on 28 Jun 1775).
2100 iv. Isaac Kingsbury was born about Feb 1777 in Hartland, Hartford, Connecticut. He was christened on 6 Jul 1777 in Hartland, Hartford, Connecticut.

He died on 23 Sep 1834 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Sarah Dorchester were married on 6 Jun 1782 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Sarah Dorchester (daughter of David Dorchester and Eunice) was born on 7 Nov 1759 in Somers, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 5 May 1819 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Nathaniel Kingsbury and Sarah Dorchester had the following children:

+2112 i. Clarissa Kingsbury (born on 4 Jun 1783).
+2113 ii. Sarah Kingsbury (born on 27 Nov 1787).

1176. Deacon Jabez Kingsbury (Nathaniel-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 10 Mar 1756 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. He served in the military about 1778 in Revolutionary War. By August 1778, Jabez Kingsbury was in the cavalry serving under Captain James Chamberlain and was drafted as a musician. He participated in the march to Rhode Island where he joined the troops under General Sullivan and fought in the Battles of Quakers Hill and Butts Hill on 29 August, 1778. He was part of the retreat to the mainland the next day and escorted General Sullivan to Providence. It was there that he was discharged from the army. After the war Jabez Kingsbury received a pension for meritorious service to his country. He died on 25 Dec 1844 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. After the War, he served as Deacon of the Congregational Church for several years. He was Justice of the Peace for the area from 1806 to 1817. He was a Selectman for 6 years and member of the General Session for 3 sessions from 1807 to 1809. During this period he also ran a very successful farming business in Tolland. Jabez built the family home of the Kingsbury farm that would serve as the homestead for several generations.

Deacon Jabez Kingsbury and Anna Hatch were married on 15 Mar 1776 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Anna Hatch (daughter of Joseph Hatch and Mary Clark) was born on 18 Sep 1759 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 12 Jun 1842 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. Deacon Jabez Kingsbury and Anna Hatch had the following children:

+2114 i. Sarah Kingsbury (born on 18 Dec 1776).
2115 ii. Mary Kingsbury was born on 1 Jan 1778 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 7 Feb 1778 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.

+2116 iii. Sabrina Kingsbury (born in 1779).
+2117 iv. Colonel John Kingsbury (born on 28 Oct 1782).

1177. Samuel Kingsbury (Nathaniel-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 2 Feb 1763 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 27 Sep 1851 in Amherst, Hampshire, Massachusetts. He was buried about 1 Oct 1851 in Amherst, Hampshire, Massachusetts. The inscription on the tombstone reads "Deacon Samuel Kingsbury and wife". Samuel Kingsbury moved to Alstead, NH on April 23, 1784 and to Langdon, NH on Jan. 12, 1795. The family moved back to Alstead, NH on May 1, 1802, then to Barnardstone, MA on March 28, 1811, Gill, MA on Nov. 9, 1812, Greenfield, MA on April 6, 1818, and Shutesbury, MA on April 28, 1819. The family settled in Amherst, MA on April 18, 1822. The family first lived in Colonel Dickenson's house on East Street, but moved to Miss Dickinson's house on West Street on April 19, 1824, then to the Coleman House on April 11, 1826, the Parson's House on April 12, 1832 and the Boltwood House on April 12, 1834. All this is documented in the family Bible.

In his will dated 12 April 1845 he refers to his two daughters, Hannah and Mary, as those "who have taken kind care of me." Apparently neither Hannah nor Mary ever married. They were to receive the house and land of the homestead. According to the probate dated 3 February 1852 Hannah was named Executrix. (Hampshire County Registry of Wills, XLIX, 42).

According to a letter written to J. H. Benton, the father-in-law of Samuel Kingsbury, the Kingsbury family was described as a "very excellent godly people. Deacon Kingsbury was an old theology man, and had no patience with new measures". It is also noted that the Samuel Kingsbury family was not a wealthy family, but they did own a small farm in Alstead, NH and apparently owned the homes where they lived in Amherst, MA.

Samuel Kingsbury and Mary Benton were married on 3 Jun 1789 in Alstead, Cheshire, New Hampshire. Mary and Samuel were married by Nath Sartel Prentice, Justice of the Peace for Alstead, NH. Mary Benton (daughter of Jacob Benton and Hannah Slade) was born on 18 Sep 1772 in Harwinton, Litchfield, Connecticut.[259] She died on 19 Jun 1841 in Amherst, Hampshire, Massachusetts. She was buried about 24 Jun 1841 in Amherst, Hampshire, Massachusetts. Samuel Kingsbury and Mary Benton had the following children:

+2120 ii. Betsey Kingsbury (born on 14 Aug 1791).
+2121 iii. Candace Kingsbury (born on 31 Jan 1794).
+2122 iv. Nathaniel Kingsbury Rev. (born on 9 Apr 1796).
+2123 v. Samuel Kingsbury (born on 24 May 1798).
+2124 vi. Enoch Kingsbury Rev. (born on 21 Apr 1800).
2125 vii. Ira Kingsbury was born on 20 Sep 1802 in Alstead, Cheshire, New Hampshire. He died on 17 May 1803 in Langdon, Sullivan, New Hampshire.
2126 viii. Mary Kingsbury was born on 3 Apr 1804 in Alstead, Cheshire, New Hampshire. She died on 8 Nov 1856 in Amherst, Hampshire, Massachusetts.[260] Mary and Hannah apparently cared for their father in his later years and inherited the homestead in his will. Mary died unmarried.

He served in the military in 1775 in Revolutionary War. Simon served in the Lexington Alarm in the company raised in East Windsor He died on 27 Apr 1776 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. Apparently Simon died without having any children as the distribution of his estate in the Stafford Probate Records mentions his widow and his siblings. He was buried in Ellington Burying Grounds about 1 May 1776 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut.

Simon Kingsbury and Mehitabel Cross were married on 19 Nov 1767 in Stafford, Tolland, Connecticut. Mehitabel Cross was born about 1745 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut.

1185. Hannah Kingsbury (Simon-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 5 Apr 1752 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 7 Nov 1786 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.

Hannah Kingsbury and Amos Cady were married on 16 Jul 1771 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. After the death of Hannah, Amos remarried October 1790 to Esther Tuthill, daughter of Rev. Moses and Martha (Edwards) Tuthill of Granville, MA. Amos Cady was born in Sep 1746 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 3 Aug 1843 in Vernon, Tolland, Connecticut. 1187. Louisa Kingsbury (Simon-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born after 1755. She died before 1798.

Louisa Kingsbury and Deacon Collins were married about 1775. Deacon Collins was born about 1755.

1188. Joseph Kingsbury M.D. (Simon-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 30 Nov 1756 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. He served in the military about 1775 in Revolutionary War. Joseph Kingsbury was part of the company raised in East Windsor after the Lexington Alarm and later became Sergeant in the Connecticut State Troops. The U. S. Pension Office Rolls describes his later service as follows: "He enlisted, March 1777, for three years under Capt. Paul Brigham, in the regiment commanded by Col. John Chandler, Giles Russell, and Isaac Sherman, as a Fifer, and was in the battles of Germantown, October 4, 1777, and Manmouth, June 28, 1778. The regiment was at the historic camp of Valley Forge in the winter of 1777-8."

He died on 29 Aug 1822 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. He was buried about 1 Sep 1822 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. In Stiles History of Ancient Windsor, I, p. 833 we read that Joseph Kingsbury "was the son of a farmer, and in his latter years often described the habits of society in the days of his youth. Though residing more than a mile from the meeting-house, he used in summer, until more than a dozen years old, to attend service without hat or coat, and with breeches that left the legs bare below the knees-a simplicity of dress that was common to boys of his age in Ellington at that day. He wrote an elegant hand which he acquired mostly by writing on birch bark, then in general use among school boys as a substitute for paper.".

Apparently Joseph was interested in the medical profession at an early age, and was known to watch, study, and learn as much as he could in the army from the camp surgeons. After the War, he studied medicine with Dr. Joseph B. Wadsworth, and started his practice in Ellington, CT. When Dr. Wadsworth died, Joseph Kingsbury married his widow. She inherited a sizable fortune from her family and her husband, which proved to be a great help at times. Joseph suffered from poor health as the result of the hardships he endured during the Revolutionary War. He eventually had to give up his practice because of his poor health.

It was noted that his style of medicine was best described as botanic and the use of simple remedies. He apparently was held in high regard among his profession by others in medicine. Dr. Kingsbury was also active in the community and his church, serving as Deacon for approximately 25 years.

Joseph Kingsbury M.D. and Roxana Allyn were married on 26 Feb 1788 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. Roxana Allyn was the widow of Dr. Joseph B. Wadsworth, the physician who trained Joseph Kingsbury. Roxana Allyn (daughter of Lieut. Josiah Allyn and Ann Allyn) was born on 20 Apr 1753. She died on 5 Mar 1820 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. She was buried in 1820 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. Joseph Kingsbury M.D. and Roxana Allyn had the following children:

+2143 i. Sophia Kingsbury (born on 13 Feb 1789).
+2144 ii. Josiah Allyn Kingsbury (born on 9 Jan 1791).

1189. Esther Kingsbury (Simon-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1758 in Connecticut. She was living in Oct 1792 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut.

Esther Kingsbury and Loomis were married about 1778 in Connecticut. No children are noted for this marriage. Loomis was born about 1757. He died about 1784 in Windsor, Hartford, Connecticut.

Esther Kingsbury and Deacon Rufus Collins were married about 1788 in Connecticut. It appears that Rufus was married both before and after his marriage to Esther Kingsbury. Esther was also married before to (----) Loomis, but apparently did not have any children by that marriage.

In the East Windsor Probate Records, III, 116 the estate of Rufus Collins was distributed to the following children: Thomas Collins, Jemima Potwine, George P. Collins, Clarissa Collins, Jabez Collins,

Chester Collins, Anson Collins, Ester Collins, Philura Collins, Nancy
Collins, Joseph Collins, and Charlotte Collins. Deacon Rufus Collins was born about 1757 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. He died before 26 Feb 1810 in Windsor, Hartford, Connecticut. Esther Kingsbury and Deacon Rufus Collins had the following children:

2145 i. Anson Collins was born on 15 Jan 1789 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. He was living in 1812 in Ohio.
2146 ii. Esther Collins was born on 3 Oct 1792 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut. She was living on 8 May 1823 in Ellington, Tolland, Connecticut.[264]

+2150 iv. David Hale M.D. (born on 22 Jan 1800).
+2151 v. Sarah Kingsbury Hale (born on 26 Aug 1801).
+2153 vii. James Sullivan Hale (born on 13 Dec 1806).

1191. Nathaniel Kingsbury (Jabez-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 4 Oct 1751 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He served in the military in 1776 in Revolutionary War. Nathaniel Kingsbury apparently was at Lexington during the confrontation known as the "Lexington Alarm" under Captain Buell's company raised in Coventry. (Connecticut Men in the Revolution, 8). Later he was a Sergeant in Captain James Clark's company, Col. Sage's regiment, Wadsworth's Brigade in the New York campaign in 1776 (ibid). He died on 5 Feb 1829 in Andover (Coventry), Tolland, Connecticut. After the war he lived in that part of Coventry later known as Andover. He built the family homestead in 1781 which remained until 1897. He was a Representative from Coventry to the General Assembly in the years 1806, 1810, and 1812. When the house was just framed and the roof complete, the French troops stopped overnight and used it as shelter during their march to join Washington's Army for the Virginia Campaign.

Nathaniel Kingsbury and Asenath Daggett were married on 5 Mar 1778 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Asenath Daggett was born on 25 Jan 1755 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 6 Sep 1823 in Cazenovia, Madison, New York. Apparently Asenath Daggett Kingsbury died in New York while visiting her children. Nathaniel Kingsbury and Asenath Daggett had the following children:

3025 vi. David Denman Kingsbury was born on 9 Apr 1815 in Marcellus, Onondaga, New York. He died in Feb 1863 in California. David Kingsbury traveled to Michigan and then on to California about 1849. He was a public works contractor and built several large bridges in and around the Wabash Mountains. Between 1858 and 1860 David Kingsbury and John McDonald built a road through the mountains over what was then known as Dagget Pass. The road came to be named Kingsbury Grade and on November 27, 1861 the Territory of Nevada enacted Chapter 29 of the Territorial Laws of Nevada which gave Kingsbury and McDonald the right to charge a toll of the use of their crossing. They were initially allowed to charge from 12 1/2 cents for loose animals up to $2.00 for a wagon and a span of horses. Carson Valley around what is now Lake Tahoe and Carson City, NV is the birthplace of the State of Nevada. In 1850 a first settlement was made at Mormon Station (renamed as Genoa in 1856). The first attempts at forming a state government started here in 1851 and in 1861 the Nevada Territorial Government was established in Genoa. Today there is a Mormon State Historical Park to commemorate the place. It was over the road near here that the early settlers would travel across the Sierra Nevada Mountain range and would feed their livestock. Farmers quickly settled near here and large vegetable crops were produced. In 1854 C.D. Dagget purchased the land at the foot of the pass and it became known as the "Dagget Pass Trail". By 1860 this became a favorite route of the pony express riders. It was also in 1860 that the wagon road was built over this pass by Kingsbury and McDonald and they received a Territorial Franchise for the road in 1861. The total cost for construction of the road was $585,000.00, but the toll receipts for 1863 alone amounted to $190,000.00. Between 1860 and 1868 it was very heavily traveled and thus very profitable. The road came to be called Kingsbury Grade and today is still known as Kingsbury Crossing, a very popular route in the Lake Tahoe ski economy. By 1869 the road was purchased by Henry VanSickle and he in turn sold it to Douglas County in 1889 for $1,000.00. There is an Historical Marker #117 for Kingsbury Grade on State Highway 57 at the foot of the old grade.

It was at this location that the family owned and operated a ferry across the Catawabe River and the port for the ferry became known as Kingsbury for several years. John Kingsbury built an old rock house for his family on the eastern side of the river near the ferry. He died in 1820 in Rocky Mount Township, Lancaster, South Carolina. John was buried in the Kingsbury Cemetery on a hill above their home. A very large monument marked his grave.

John Kingsbury and Jane Wall were married about 1802 in South Carolina. Jane Wall (daughter of John Wall and Sarah Beckham) was born about 1781 in South Carolina. She died in 1826 in Chester, Chester, South Carolina. In her will, Jane (Wall) Kingsbury left specific instructions for the future care of her children. Sarah was to live with Jane's trusted friends, Dr. William Mc Cullough and his wife, Hannah was to be raised by Jane's sister, Sarah Westbrooke, and her mother, and the two sons were to be under the direction of James Westbrooke until old enough to care for themselves. The Kingsbury Ferry would be continued to provide money for the education of the children. The Wall family operated a ferry service in Lancaster County, South Carolina for many years, even after the death of Jane. John Kingsbury and Jane Wall had the following children:

+3150 i. Sarah Kingsbury (born in 1809).

[340] Internet Computer Online Services. Peter Parkhurst <PeterParkhurst@compuserve.com> 3/2001. The book edited by Mary Talcott on the Descendants of Henry Kingsbury listed Elizabeth Kingsbury as the wife of Jonathan, but the evidence seems to point to Elizabeth Clark. Mary Talcott based her assumptions on the probate records of Asa Kingsbury and David Parkhurst, both of whom listed a daughter named Elizabeth Parkhurst. However it seems clear that Elizabeth Kingsbury married Noah Parkhurst and moved to VT.

[341] Ibid., Peter Parkhurst <PeterParkhurst@compuserve.com> 3/2001. According to his personal observation, Elizabeth was buried in the Clark family plot with Joseph Clark, her father on one side and her husband, Jonathan Parkhurst on the other side.

1930. Ardon Kingsbury[342,343,344] (Willard-23, John-22, Ephraim-21, James-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 9 Oct 1780 in Canaan, Litchfield, Connecticut.[345] He appeared in the census in 1830 in Big Flats, Tioga, New York. He appeared in the census in 1850 in Elmira, Chemung, New York. Arden Kingsbury is listed as living on a farm in Elmira, NY with Sarah, Lucinda, and Lucius. No value is given for real estate owned. He died on 15 Apr 1859 in Elmira, Chemung, New York. He was buried on 30 Dec 1862 in Elmira, Chemung, New York. Arden was originally buried in West Hill Cemetery, but moved in 1862. He is buried in Lot 49, Section A which is apparently a Kingsbury Plot with 13 others buried there. Ardon Kingsbury earned his living as a farmer. The family moved across the State of New York to the Finger Lakes Region apparently first settling in Hector which was part of Tompkins County from 1820 through 1850. By 1830 they settled in Big Flats and Elmira which was part of Tioga County until 1840 when it became Chemung County. By 1850 the family lived in Elmira, Chemung County.

The name Ardon (Arden) is of ancient origin in England. The granddaughter of Leofric of Mercia married Turchill de Arden, a prominent Norman Knight in the court of William the Conqueror. Later a granddaughter of this line married Peter de Bracebridge who continued as Lord of this estate. A daughter of this line married Sir John Arden who was either Grandfather or Great Uncle to Mary Arden, the mother of William Shakespeare. Thus the name Arden has a great history in the Kingsbury family tradition.

Ardon Kingsbury and Sarah (Sally) Howell were married on 9 Dec 1803 in Hector, Schuyler, New York. Sarah (Sally) Howell was born on 26 Sep 1782. She died on 23 Dec 1851 in Elmira, Chemung, New York. She was buried about 28 Dec 1851 in Elmira, Chemung, New York. Ardon Kingsbury and Sarah (Sally) Howell had the following children:

1962. Judge James Kingsbury (Absalom-23, Ephraim-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 29 Dec 1767 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 12 Dec 1847 in Cleveland, Cuyahoga, Ohio. He was buried about 14 Dec 1847 in Cleveland, Cuyahoga, Ohio. In the early spring of 1796, apparently the family, which then included the first three children, and the young brother-in-law to James (a young man of perhaps 12-14 years of age), set out for Ohio which was known as the far West at that time. Most of their furniture and personal possessions were in a farm wagon pulled by a yoke of oxen. They also had one horse and a milk cow to supply milk for the children. It is also noted that he carried the Queen's-Arm musket which his older brother used to advantage at Bennington in 1777.

The first leg of their journey to Albany, NY was through fairly civilized territory, but from there they headed West through what is now Utica, NY and Oneida County to Oswego, NY on Lake Ontario, a distance of some 200 miles through rugged forest and over mountains; a real wilderness where at times the path was difficult to find. The men would keep a fire going all night to ward off wild animals while the women slept in the wagon.

At Oswego the family rigged up a flat bottom boat with a single sail large enough to carry the wagon and their personal possessions. They used the boat to transport their possessions while the young man rode the horse and drove the oxen and the cow along the shore. Each night they would pull the boat into shore and rest together. It took another thirty days traveling this way before they reached Fort Niagara. From this point they added the small boat to the wagon, probably taking it apart first, and transported everything by wagon for the thirty miles around Niagara to Lake Erie.

It was at Fort Niagara that James Kingsbury met General Moses Cleveland, agent and director of the Connecticut Land Company. Apparently they had just bought what was known as the Western Reserve and were the surveying party. They convinced James to become the first white settler in northern Ohio. So the family used their boat again and moved along Lake Erie past Erie, PA to the area known as Conneaut, OH just inside the borders of Ohio and near Pennsylvania.

James selected a piece of ground, built a cabin and began to farm a few acres of land.

Shortly after the surveyors left, James was summoned back to his home in New Hampshire on family business. Going alone on horseback was a little easier and faster, but a difficult journey nonetheless. He took the shortest route directly from Buffalo to Albany and expected to return before the snow in November. However, he was stricken with malaria in New Hampshire and therefore was late in starting his return trip.

That winter was rather severe and a heavy snow hit in late November. Eunice was pregnant at the time. Before the snow the Indians were a great help and brought game for the family and there was plenty of grass for the cattle. When the snow came the Indians moved south and Eunice was left with her small children and her young brother. She gave birth alone to their fourth child while snowbound in the cabin. With December the snow became worse and they were completely cut off for 21 days. On Christmas Eve, she was looking out the window and saw her husband struggling through the snow trying to get to the cabin.

James had started back late and was in Buffalo when the first snows hit. Since the trails were covered by the snow he hired an Indian guide to show him the way. The trip took three long weeks through the heavy snows. During the trip his horse died in the high drifts, and it was only due to the help of his Indian guide that he made it through alive.

By the time James made it to the cabin, his wife was down with a fever. Food was very scarce and soon James had to go out again. With the horse gone, he went on foot over the snow about 25 miles to Erie, PA for food. There was not any flour to be purchased there so he bought a barrel of wheat, plus a few other staples, and pulled it back with a sled. The family cracked the wheat and used it to survive the remainder of that first winter.

With no grass for the cattle, the young man found brush and twigs for them to eat. However, by mistake the young man included some oak twigs in the fodder not knowing that it was poisonous to them, and the cow died. With Eunice weak and the cow dead, there was no milk for the infant and he died of starvation. According to historians of the area today, whatever remains of the old log cabin and the homestead are now under the waters of Lake Erie.

With all this it is no wonder that the family decided to leave this wilderness and in June, 1797 they became the first permanent white settlers of Cleveland, Ohio. They first moved into a cabin left by some Indian traders and built in 1786. Later James built his own cabin on a site just east of the public square near the present Post Office. In the ground now occupied by the City Hall and the Catholic Cathedral, he planted the first field of corn and wheat.

In 1800, Governor St. Clair appointed James Kingsbury as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the county. His early court sessions were held with a makeshift bench between his corn cribs. Later a creek feeding into the Cuyahoga River was named Kingsbury in honor of the founding settler of Cleveland. At the mouth of Kingsbury Run the Standard Oil Company established their works. It is said that before the battle of Lake Erie, Admiral Perry's fleet anchored just off Cleveland and Judge Kingsbury personally helped bring supplies out to the ships. He led a very respectable life and served his community and country well.

Judge James Kingsbury and Eunice (or Hannah ?) Waldo were married on 5 Oct 1788 in Alstead, Cheshire, New Hampshire. Eunice (or Hannah ?) Waldo (daughter of Shubael Waldo and Abigail Allen) was born about 1780 in Alstead, Cheshire, New Hampshire. She died on 7 Dec 1842 in Cleveland, Cuyahoga, Ohio. She was buried about 11 Dec 1842 in Cleveland, Cuyahoga, Ohio. Judge James Kingsbury and Eunice (or Hannah ?) Waldo had the following children:

+3653 i. Nabby Kingsbury (born on 7 Jan 1792).
+3654 ii. Amos Kingsbury (born on 13 Jul 1793).
+3655 iii. Almond Kingsbury (born on 27 Jan 1795).
3656 iv. Unknown Kingsbury was born in Dec 1796 in Conneaut, Ashtabula, Ohio. He died in Feb 1797 in Conneaut, Ashtabula, Ohio. This infant son of Judge Kingsbury died of starvation during that severe winter in the wilderness cabin.

3686 vi. George Scott was born on 13 Feb 1803 in Tolland, Tolland, Connecticut.

1977. Amos Avery (Irene Kingsbury-23, Ephraim-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born after 1756 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 5 Sep 1836 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut.

Amos Avery and Abigail Loomis were married. Abigail Loomis was born about 1757. Amos Avery and Abigail Loomis had the following children:

+3687 i. Irene Avery (born on 22 Feb 1787).

3688 ii. Rev Ephraim Kingsbury Avery[367] was born in Dec 1799 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Although books have been written on this story, this short version was sent to me by Paul Parker in 1999:

> "On Dec. 20, 1832, the body of Sarah Maria Cornell was found hanging from a stake on a farm in what is now Fall River, Massachusetts. Among her things was a note, written the day she died, saying 'If I should be missing, inquire of the Rev. Mr. Avery of Bristol, he will know where I am gone.' Subsequent investigation revealed that Ephraim Kingsbury Avery had been minister of the Methodist Church in Lowell, Massachusetts when Cornell had been expelled for lewdness and lying. (Sarah) Cornell told family and her doctor that, in the summer of 1832, while at a retreat in Thompson, Connecticut, Avery agreed to destroy some incriminating documents if (Sarah) Cornell allowed him to have sex with her. She became pregnant. When, according to the prosecution, Cornell refused an abortion, Avery strangled her and tied her to a stake on the farm to make it look like suicide. Avery was ultimately acquitted, but never lived down the notoriety, finally moving to Pittsfield, Lorrain County, Ohio where he took up farming."

1978. Hon. Andrew Kingsbury (Ephraim-23, Ephraim-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 24 Apr 1759 in West Farms (Norwich), New London, Connecticut. He served in the military about 1776 in Revolutionary War. Andrew Kingsbury enlisted as Private in Col. John Chester's Regiment of Connecticut Troops in June, 1776. He was engaged in the Battle at Flatbush in Long Island, Aug. 27, 1776 and was part of the rear guard in the retreat of General Washington's Army from Long Island to New York, Aug. 30, 1776. On Oct. 28, 1776 he was in the Battle at White Plains and discharged with his regiment at Salisbury, PA on Dec. 25, 1776. He went home, but in April, 1777 he joined Col. John Chandlers Regiment on Continental Troops at Danbury, and in May transferred to the General Hospital Department. Here he served as clerk . On Dec. 15, 1778, he was appointed Storekeeper until March 13, 1781. May, 1781 he became First Clerk to Ralph Pomeroy, Esq., Deputy Quartermaster General in Hartford, CT. He continued in this capacity until Sept., 1783. He was elected as Connecticut State Comptroller between 1791 and 1793 in Connecticut. Political Career:

May, 1784, Andrew became Clerk in the Pay Table Office of the State of Connecticut, and served in the comptroller's office until May, 1791. At that time the General Assembly appointed him Comptroller of Public Accounts and he held that post until May, 1793. He was elected as Connecticut State Treasurer between 1794 and 1818 in Connecticut. In 1794 he was elected State Treasurer and continued to be re-elected for 25 years to May, 1818. During this period he was also appointed Manager and Treasurer of the School Fund created by the sale of the Connecticut Western Reserve lands in Ohio. From May, 1818 to Oct. 31, 1827 he served as accountant and bookkeeper for the Commissioners of the Fund.

In addition he served as Treasurer to the Connecticut Missionary Society from May, 1799; Treasurer of the Hartford Grammar School from May, 1806; and Treasurer of the Minister's Annuity Society from May, 1811 until his death. Andrew was obviously recognized as one of the most knowledgeable financiers of his day. He died on 14 Apr 1848 in Hartford, Hartford, Connecticut. Andrew moved with his father from Franklin to Coventry, CT in April, 1761.

Personal Interests:

Andrew and his wife became members of First Church, Hartford, CT in February, 1815, and apparently were very active and respected in the affairs of the church. Andrew was also very interested in horticulture and floriculture, and his home at the corner of Temple and Market Streets was well know for the beauty of his gardens. Andrew was also one of the promoters of the Hartford County Agricultural Society and the annual fairs. He also demonstrated an interest in genealogy, and had accumulated several charts and records on the family, going back to Joseph Kingsbury of Haverhill. Most of these records were used by his granddaughter, Mary Kingsbury Talcott.

Connecticut Western Reserve: Claim to this territory was granted by the Royal Charter of 1622 and was considered satisfied by the grant from Congress of 3,300,000 acres in the part of the Northwest Territory now known as Northern Ohio. In 1792some 500,000 acres in the Western part of the Reserve were devoted to the relief of those persons who were burned out and plundered by the English raids on the Connecticut shore of Long Island Sound. The remainder of the lands were sold at the direction of the State Legislature and the proceeds placed in a State School Fund, administered for several years by the Hon. Andrew Kingsbury of Hartford, CT. Other lands belonging to the state, some in Berkshire County, MA., where also sold and the proceeds used in the special fund. Andrew Kingsbury's signature is on the records for several of these transactions.

Hon. Andrew Kingsbury and Mary Osborn were married on 14 Jan 1783 in Danbury, Fairfield, Connecticut. Mary Osborn (daughter of Abner Osborn and Mercy Pettit) was born on 3 Oct 1761 in Stamford, Fairfield, Connecticut. She died on 14 Apr 1848 in Hartford, Hartford, Connecticut. Hon. Andrew Kingsbury and Mary Osborn had the following children:

+3689 i. Elizabeth Kingsbury (born on 18 Oct 1783).
+3690 ii. Oliver Kingsbury (born on 4 Apr 1785).

+3692 iv. Harriet Kingsbury (born on 23 Dec 1792).
3693 v. Laura Kingsbury was born on 7 Sep 1795 in Hartford, Hartford, Connecticut. She died on 17 Jun 1861 in Hartford, Hartford, Connecticut. Apparently Laura died in the house of her nephew, Russell G.Talcott. She had lived with the family for several years. She was single and apparently, like her father, had been very active in the community.

1980. William Kingsbury (Ephraim-23, Ephraim-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 9 Feb 1764 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 10 Mar 1849 in Homer, Cortland, New York. William and family moved to Homer, NY in 1830. He was a tanner and shoemaker by profession.

William Kingsbury and Abigail Richardson were married in 1788 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Abigail Richardson (daughter of Stephen Richardson and Mabel Marsh) was born on 11 Mar 1770 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 1 Mar 1826 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. William Kingsbury and Abigail Richardson had the following children:

+3694 i. Eleazer Kingsbury (born on 25 Nov 1788).

+3698 v. Charles Kingsbury (born on 20 Mar 1802).

1981. Phoebe Kingsbury (Ephraim-23, Ephraim-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 22 Mar 1766 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 18 Jul 1800 in Lyme, Grafton, New Hampshire.

Phoebe Kingsbury and William Porter were married on 1 Jan 1784 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. William Porter (son of William Porter and Esther Carpenter) was born on 7 Nov 1760 in Lyme, Grafton, New Hampshire. He died in 1847 in Lyme, Grafton, New Hampshire. Phoebe Kingsbury and William Porter had the following children:

+3699 i. Clarissa Porter (born in 1785).

+3701 iii. Oliver Kingsbury Porter (born in 1789).

1982. Jabez Kingsbury (Ephraim-23, Ephraim-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 22 Oct 1769 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 15 Oct 1854 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He was buried about 19 Oct 1854 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Jabez Kingsbury lived his entire life in the house that his father built. It is noted that in the REMINISCENCES of Rev. Marvin Root, there is a list of Kingsburys who served in the Revolutionary War prepared by Jabez. The men listed are Joseph, Ephraim, Andrew, and Oliver. According to Rev. Root, Jabez Kingsbury was "one of the most exact and correct men in the town of Coventry".

Jabez Kingsbury and Freelove Utley were married on 10 Dec 1789 in Connecticut. Freelove Utley was born on 14 May 1771 in Mansfield, Tolland, Connecticut. She died on 20 May 1823 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Jabez Kingsbury and Freelove Utley had the following children:

+3706 i. Anna Kingsbury (born on 12 Jul 1790).
+3707 ii. Elisha Kingsbury (born on 12 Oct 1793).
+3709 iv. Ephraim Kingsbury (born on 20 Jul 1799).
+3710 v. Alvin Kingsbury (born on 9 Mar 1803).
3711 vi. Backus Kingsbury was born on 25 Sep 1805 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He died on 5 Jun 1831 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. He was buried in 1831 in Coventry, Tolland, Connecticut. Backus was killed by an explosion in the Bolton mines. He was most likely working there at the time.
+3712 vii. Nelson Kingsbury (born on 3 Apr 1808).
+3713 viii. Phoebe Kingsbury (born on 9 Jun 1810).
+3714 ix. Deacon Erastus Kingsbury (born on 29 Apr 1812).

2003. Charles Kingsbury (Sanford-23, Joseph-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 19 Apr 1773 in Pomfret, Windham, Connecticut. He died on 5 May 1843 in Derby, Orleans, Vermont. Sometime between 1790 and 1795, Charles chose to settle in the area known as Derby, VT very near the Canadian border for reasons we can only guess at now. At that time the area was a complete wilderness some 290 miles North of his home. The route he followed most likely took him to Spingfield, MA and from there up the Connecticut River past Brattleboro, VT and Claremont, NH to the bend in the river South of Lyndonville, VT. and the last 50 miles to Derby was overland. We are told that he built a bark shanty to live in while at Derby and began clearing some land and planting some vegetables to live on. Apparently turnips were his best crop, and most of the wild animals competed with him for the harvesting. In addition to the vegetables he had a few sheep and cattle.

It must have been a very lonely time for Charles, being the only white man in several miles. He related to others that he had his violin from his paternal home and would often play many of the tunes he remembered from his childhood. At time his audience consisted of the animals and an Indian friend he met. During the mild periods this Indian would have his wigwam on Old Salem Lake just a few miles from Derby. During the first few winters, Charles would travel back the 125 miles to Claremont, NH. It is most likely that he met his future wife in Claremont and they married in 1800.

Charles recorded his first land deed in 1797 on some property about mid way between Derby and the Canadian line. Here he planted the first apple orchard and made cider in his own mill. The Kingsbury apple orchard was still producing fruit in 1905.

In 1812 the family moved to a house less than a mile from the center of Derby and in 1820 they moved to the house in front of the Congregational Church, later known as the "Kingsbury Place".

Charles was the first Representative sent from Derby to the General Assembly and held that office for 4 years.

He was again sent in 1828, 1829, 1838, and 1839. He was Treasurer of Derby from 1812 to 1833 and Justice of the Peace for about 30 years.

The Rev. Charles Backus of Somers had the following to say about the Kingsbury family and Charles Kingsbury in particular: "It was said that the Kingsbury family were remarkable for their attachment to agricultural pursuits from their first settlement in America; that they lived in the common, temperate style of the New England farmer; that they were a noble-hearted, intelligent, industrious race of the strictest integrity, disdaining the low arts of dissimulation, shunning the ways of vice, and walking in the paths of virtue and piety, and Esq. Kingsbury never brought shame or discredit upon the good name of his ancestry. From his clear perception of right and wrong, his services were often solicited in behalf of the widow and fatherless, in settling estates, and carrying out the wishes and provisions of the departed. Although he served the town faithfully and well in almost every capacity, yet he could not be called a public man. It was in his private circle that his character shone the brightest; in home loves and friendships in innate goodness of his nature was displayed undimmed and untarnished."

Charles Kingsbury and Persis Stewart were married on 17 Sep 1800 in Brattleboro, Windham, Vermont. Persis Stewart (daughter of General Stewart) was born on 26 Oct 1777 in Brattleboro, Windham, Vermont. 2064. Capt. James Wilkinson Kingsbury[374] (Jacob-23, Nathaniel-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 28 Sep 1801 in Fort New Orleans, Orleans, Louisiana. He graduated in 1823 in West Point, Orange, New York. He served in the military in 1831/32 in Black Hawk Wars. The Indian village of Saukenuk, at present day Rock Island, Illinois had been the principle Sauk village for centuries prior to the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 Here the Indians farmed in the summer and hunted buffalo in Iowa during the winter months. But with the great land purchase came the adventurous white explorers and settlers. Conflict arose quickly and before long a party of Sauk killed several settlers. Many of the Sauk decided to follow Chief Keokuk to Iowa and escape the settlers in the late 1820s, but Chief a-La-Tai-Me-She-Kia-Kiak (better known as Chief Black Hawk) chose to stay on their land and fight. Chief Black Hawk was age 63 and led a band of 500 warriors plus 1500 women and children known as the British Band in 1830. There were several skirmishes and by April, 1832 the military made a serious push to defeat the Sauk and Winnebago Indians under the direction of Brigadier General Henry Atkinson. It is at this point that the history gets a bit complicated. The Winnebago village under Chief White Cloud tried to surrender to the militia under the command of Isaiah Stillman by sending a scout to them with a white flag. We are told that the militia did not trust the scout and killed him. The Indians fled and Chief Black Hawk set up a defensive ambush in which he killed several of the militia.

The Indians were pressed by an overwhelming military force until they were cornered on the banks of the Mississippi River at Bad Axe, Wisconsin. The British Band under Black Hawk were tired, starving, and heavily out numbered. On August 1, 1832 they were on the banks of the Mississippi River and were in the process of cutting trees to form rafts to cross the river when they were spotted by troops aboard the steamboat WARRIOR. According to the report of John Wakefield, the Surgeon's Mate on the Warrior, "Lieutenant Kingsbury, who commanded, stated that they hoisted a white flag but would not send (a representative) aboard the steamboat... so accordingly he fired his six pounder, and likewise opened fire of musketry upon them when they commenced a heavy fire upon the boat". The battle went on for over an hour until the boat ran low on fuel. Lieutenant Kingsbury retreated to Prairie du Chien to refuel and rearm. Few if any on the boat were killed, but it seems that 23 of the Indians were killed in the battle.

The next day the Army pressed their advantage and the Indians were once again hit hard by Captain Joseph H. Dickson of the Michigan Territorial Militia. As the battle ensued the Indians were then hit by Henry's Militia and then by Dodge's Militia. The tried to cross the Mississippi River again only to be confronted by Lieutenant Kingsbury and the steamboat Warrior once again. The Indians were totally outnumbered and one estimate is that they had over 150 killed. Although some fighting continued for the next couple of days, for all practical purposes Black Hawk was defeated.

It is interesting to note that Lieutenant Kingsbury and the other officers involved in the Battle of Bad Axe were commended for their bravery and skill, but in a later account be Black Hawk himself a different picture was painted. He claims that when he saw the steamboat on the river he told his braves not to shoot and that he intended to surrender. He had one of his braves searching for a larger white flag while he asked that another go into the water with the smaller white piece of cotton to indicate his intention to surrender. The soldiers on the boat opened fire on the braves in the water at which point they retreated to the woods and returned the fire. He died on 25 Jun 1853 in Saint Louis, Saint Louis, Missouri. Capt. James W. Kingsbury graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1823 and went on to have a distinguished military career. During the Black Hawk War he was in command of a steamer called Warrior. With a small company of men he attacked a large group of Sioux Indians trying to join Black Hawk on the other side of a river. He won the battle and Black Hawk was captured shortly thereafter.

On May 2, 1834 James Kingsbury purchased 425 acres of land from his father-in-law and build his homestead. Captain Kingsbury was apparently considered wealthy compared to the pioneer family living there at the time. His land eventually was developed and Kingsbury Place, as the community came to be known, was the most prominent community of Saint Louis for years to come. A host of famous and powerful business and political figures were raised in Kingsbury Place.

Fort St. Louis was the springboard for almost all expeditions to the North and West. Thus, he was involved in many of the hazardous expeditions through Indian territory. Capt. Kingsbury finally resigned and spent his last years overseeing what has been described as a very large estate in St. Louis.

Capt. James Wilkinson Kingsbury and Julia Antoinette Cabanne' were married on 25 May 1830 in Saint Louis, Saint Louis, Missouri. Julia Antoinette Cabanne' (daughter of John Pierre Cabanne' and Julia Gratiot) was born on 18 Jul 1809 in Saint Louis, Saint Louis, Missouri. She died on 15 Mar 1836 in Saint Louis, Saint Louis, Missouri. Julia's father was born in Paris, France and was living in St. Louis, MO. He was a fur trader and a partner of John Jacob Astor. Her mother was the sister of the famous American General, Charles Gratiot. Capt. James Wilkinson Kingsbury and Julia Antoinette Cabanne' had the following children:

He served in the military about 1861 in Civil War. Thomas enrolled in West Point, but had to leave because of trouble with his eyesight. He settled for several years in Ashtabula County, Ohio where he farmed and became involved in politics. He returned to Franklin, Connecticut before his father's death and lived on the old family homestead there. He continued to have interests in Ohio and often traveled there to attend his business there. During the Civil War he served in the Fifth Connecticut Volunteers as Lieutenant-Colonel and later in the Eleventh Connecticut Volunteers as Colonel. He saw action at Roanoke Island, but finally had to resign because of his health. He represented Franklin in the State Legislature in 1869, 1872, and 1873. He died on 7 Aug 1869 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He was buried about 11 Aug 1869 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut.

Colonel Thomas Humphrey Cushing Kingsbury and Caroline Prudence Ray were married on 4 May 1834 in Lenox, Ashtabula, Ohio. Caroline Prudence Ray (daughter of James Ray and Caroline D.) was born on 28 Sep 1810 in Great Barrington, Berkshire, Massachusetts. She died on 24 Nov 1872 in Duluth, Saint Louis, Minnesota. Caroline died while on a visit, but was returned to Franklin for burial. She was buried about 29 Nov 1872 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. Colonel Thomas Humphrey Cushing Kingsbury and Caroline Prudence Ray had the following children:

He died on 25 Nov 1835 in Erie, Erie, Pennsylvania. William was noted as an ambitious man. He moved to Erie, PA where he became a tax auditor for the Port of Presque Isle, Erie, PA. He died before the birth of his first child.

William Estuis Kingsbury and Jane A. C. Moore were married on 23 Apr 1835 in Erie, Erie, Pennsylvania. Jane A. C. Moore was born about 1812. William Estuis Kingsbury and Jane A. C. Moore had the following children:

3902 i. William Eustis Kingsbury was born on 15 Feb 1836 in Erie, Erie, Pennsylvania. He served in the military about 1858 in Civil War. He moved to Norwich, Connecticut where he worked for a time in a drug store. He eventually enlisted in the regular army and advanced rapidly through the ranks. He finally was commissioned Captain in the Eleventh U. S. Infantry. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was under the command of General Twigg in Texas and managed to see a lot of action. According to family reports he was wounded at least once. After the war he served on the western frontier and was stationed for a time on the Little Big Horn River in Montana. Again family sources state that he was wounded in one of the Indian battles by an arrow. He was also involved in the Modoc War. He finally retired because of his health in 1885 and returned to Norwich, CT. Captain Kingsbury never married. He was buried in 1887 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He died on 4 Oct 1887 in Norwich, New London, Connecticut. The son, William, entered West Point, but was kicked out for insubordination. He apparently was an avid prankster. In one incident he fired a cannon in the middle of the night and his only comment was that he thought it looked like it might go off and he intended to say something about it earlier.

2073. Dr. Benjamin Grant Ellis (Sarah Kingsbury-23, Nathaniel-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 9 Dec 1792 in Franklin, New London, Connecticut. He died on 16 Jan 1890 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. Charles died in the house on North Main Street which served as his home for almost sixty years, built by Thomas Bronson, his great-great grandfather. He was buried in Waterbury Cemetery about 21 Jan 1890 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. Charles received a good education in Waterbury and even studied under Rev. Daniel Parker in his school at Ellsworth, in Sharon. In 1812, at the age of 17 he became a clerk at a store in Waterbury. He apparently suffered a serious lung disorder in 1814, but made a full recovery. According to the "History of Waterbury, II, pgs 240-42" he made a trip on horseback shortly after his illness, going to New London. During one full day on this trip he was in sight of Hardy's Fleet lying offshore in the Sound shortly before the attack on Stonington.

About this time he started to study medicine under Dr. Edward Field and received the title Doctor. However, he apparently never practiced any medicine. In the Fall of 1814 he became employed by Burton & Leavenworth and that winter he traveled through several of the Southern states with Mr. Leavenworth selling clocks. The next year he moved to Richmond, VA and began selling books for Mitchell, Ames & White Publishing of Philadelphia. Most of the books were devoted to law and medicine which gave him the opportunity to visit and know many of the professional men in his territory. Apparently he was very successful because in 1821 he was able to purchase the store where he worked as a clerk as a young man. He continued to run the store for about twenty years. During this period he also started the manufacturing of shoes and harnesses, established a factory for the production of pearl buttons, and owned a sawmill on the Mad River.

Finally in 1838, his health made him give up his industrial career and he devoted himself to agriculture. This was not enough for him, however, and soon he was involved in the cultivation of a large scale farming operation, plus he began to build and sell houses, and became involved in the sale of land.

Charles had other interests as well. in 1816 he became one of the early members of First Congregational Church and remained an active member until his death. At his death he was the oldest member of the Church and the oldest resident born in the town.

Charles Denison Kingsbury and Eliza Leavenworth were married on 5 Mar 1821 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. Eliza Leavenworth (daughter of Frederick Leavenworth M.D. and Fanny Johnson) was born on 17 Dec 1798 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. She died on 16 Nov 1852 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. She was buried in Waterbury Cemetery about 21 Nov 1852 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. Charles Denison Kingsbury and Eliza Leavenworth had the following children:

+3903 i. Frederick John Kingsbury (born on 1 Jan 1823).
+3904 ii. Sarah Leavenworth Kingsbury (born on 1 Apr 1840).

Charles Denison Kingsbury and Rebecca Hotchkiss were married on 24 Nov 1859 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. Rebecca Hotchkiss (daughter of Elijah Hotchkiss Deacon) was born about 1830 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. She died in Dec 1873 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut.

2078. Major Julius Jesse Bronson Kingsbury (John-23, Nathaniel-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 18 Oct 1797 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut. He graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1823 in West Point, Orange, New York The area near Waterbury did not afford the opportunity for higher education. Therefore, his father sought and obtained the influence of David Dagget, US Representative, for an appointment to West Point Military Academy in 1819. He graduated as Lieutenant in 1823 and was attached to the Second Regiment of Infantry and sent to Sault Ste Marie, MI to assist in the building of Fort Brady on Lake Superior. He served there a little over three years under Major (later Colonel) Cutler. It was here that he met and married Jane Stebbins, the sister-in-law of Captain Walter Bicker. Next Lieut. Kingsbury was ordered to New Orleans and Nacodoches. Later he returned to Michigan where he was stationed at Mackinaw and then Fort Gratiot. In 1832 he was stationed in Chicago during the Black War, assigned to the commissary department. It was during his stay in Chicago that Captain Kingsbury saw fit to purchase about 38 acres of land for $700.00. 36 acres of the land was situated on the North Branch of the Chicago River very near where it joins the South Branch with the remaining 2 acres on the south side of the river. This land remained in the possession of the family long after the city of Chicago grew up around it, and the land served as a source of income for some time. Julius was stationed at Fort Niagara next. From there he was sent to Holton, ME and stationed at the Hancock Barracks to settle some disturbances in the northeastern frontier area. With the outbreak of the Seminole War he was sent to Tampa Bay, FL where he remained about three years. It was during this period that his health began to fail. He returned to the North and was stationed at Sackett's Harbor for a short time and from there back to Fort Brady in Upper Michigan. In 1847 he joined General Scott in the battle for Vera Cruz, and from there was engaged in most of the battles on the march to Mexico City. He was decorated for his bravery and acted as Lieutenant-Colonel during this campaign, although he was still only a Captain. While in Mexico City he became gravely ill with a fever of some sort and General Scott sent him home on sick leave. By December, 1848 he had regained his health sufficiently to be assigned to California where he joined the Sixth Regiment. However, by 1850 his health was so poor that he was no longer fit for duty and was sent to Washington. In 1852 he again attempted to join his regiment at St. Louis, but was stopped in Detroit due to illness and force to spend the winter there. There apparently was some misunderstanding with the War Department and his name was removed from the army rolls. What ever the problem, it was cleared up and Major Kingsbury was about to leave Washington to return east in 1856 when he died. His body was brought home and laid to rest beside his father. He died on 26 Jun 1856 in Washington, DC. He was buried about 30 Jun 1856 in Waterbury, New Haven, Connecticut.

Major Julius Jesse Bronson Kingsbury and Jane Creed Stebbins were married on 19 Jun 1825 in Fort Brady, Sault Saint Marie, Chippewa, Michigan. Jane Creed Stebbins (daughter of Henry Stebbins Esq.) was born on 13 Mar 1810 in New York. She died on 16 Jan 1892 in Black Hall, Old Lyme, Connecticut. Mrs. Jane Stebbins Kingsbury spent most of her life with her husband living on the frontier posts where he was stationed; Fort Brady, Mackinaw, Fort Gratiot, Detroit, Chicago, Niagara, Sackett's Harbor, and others. She was well known as an adept officer's wife with excellent social skills and a very interesting conversationalist. At times, when he husband was sent on active duty in battle , she would spend some of her time with family and friend in Lyme, CT. Kingsbury graduated from Amherst College in 1827 and studied theology at Auburn, NY and Hampden-Sidney College, VA. In 1830 he became an ordained evangelist, served as one of the earliest Presbyterian home missionaries, pastor of the Church in Danville, Illinois from January 1831 to 1857, involved in the formation of Union Seminary in Illinois.

The following story is told by Virginia Ann Kingsbury on Computer message, 12 August, 1993. "My great-great grandfather, Enoch Kingsbury, was born in Langdon, NH and he traveled westward along the Ohio River. At the junction of the Ohio River and the Wabash River, he meant to continue on westward, but the fates ruled. He was a minister in the Presbyterian Church and on the boat a young lawyer took the wrong satchel of books. He took Enoch's satchel, rather than his own. Enoch discovered what had happened and he followed the lawyer northward on the Wabash River to get his own books and records. He finally caught up with the lawyer near Danville, IL. Instead of continuing on westward, Rev. Enoch and his wife.... decided to settle right in Danville, IL."

He died on 13 May 1864 in Waterville, Oneida, New York. Stanton moved to Steuben, NY at a very young age and became a student at the Clinton Academy. Later he moved to Albany, NY where he worked as a clerk. Finally he settled in Waterville sometime before 1838 where he became a farmer and distiller. He was apparently very successful because in 1839 he built a very large house which was known as a showcase for the period. He sent to New York City for beautiful mahogany planks which were used in the post of the hall banister and other places. He also sent for black marble for the fireplace mantels and several table tops. The house was a large frame house painted yellow with huge white columns in front.

Stanton must have been part farmer and part rancher because he sold large herds of cattle in Albany and Troy.

During this period Stanton also served his community as Justice of the Peace and he was also Clerk for the First Baptist Church in Waterville. Frances Kingsbury and Stanton Park had the following children:

4151 i. James Stanton Park was born on 13 Apr 1817 in New York. He died on 23 Nov 1850 in Waterville, Oneida, New York.

[399] Kenneth J. Kingsbury, Notes - Editorial. In the information sent by Meredith Hudson Marcum, Ward and Harriet Kingsbury had another son named Orin A. Kingsbury 1870-1915. However, they were both too old to be bearing children at that time and even 1850 would place Harriet at age 41.

Ward P. Kingsbury and Harriet Hart were married about 1827 in Vermont. Harriet Hart (daughter of Luther Hart) was born on 23 Aug 1809 in Wallingford, Rutland, Vermont. She died on 18 Sep 1895 in Jamaica, Windham, Vermont. Ward P. Kingsbury and Harriet Hart had the following children:

This has led to the confusion that he may have been born in VT. It should also be noted that Cyrus Martin thought Loring was the son of Benjamin and Sally Kingsbury. Guilford is only 12 miles west of Chesterfield. He moved to Malone, Franklin, New York about 1833.[402] Loring and Charlotte had four of their children die in April, 1831. Obviously some devastating disease must have struck the family at that time. He moved to Saint Lawrence County, New York about 1849.[403] He died before 1860 in New York.[404] Loring Kingsbury was age 20 when his parents decided to move across the Connecticut River into Vermont and apparently he chose to remain in New Hampshire along with his sister, Fanny Kingsbury.

Loring Kingsbury and Charlotte Martin were married on 20 Mar 1814 in Guilford, Windham, Vermont. Charlotte Martin (daughter of Cyrus Martin and Charlotte Bringham) was born on 5 Jan 1794 in Guilford, Windham, Vermont. She died in 1848 in Malone, Franklin, New York. Loring Kingsbury and Charlotte Martin had the following children:

[400] Internet Computer Online Services. Harriet Rockwell <hrockwell@earthlink.net> 2000 - Some sources seem to think that Abijah, the brother of Benjamin, was the father of Loring. However, I agree with the logic of Harriet in that his father-in-law was the town clerk of Guilford and Loring as from Chesterfiled (the home of Benjamin) and in another place listed Benjamin and Sally as his parents. Finally one son has the middle name of Smith which would be the maiden name of his mother, Sally Smith Kingsbury.

She died on 15 Sep 1902 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas. She was buried in Boerne Cemetery about 16 Sep 1902 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas.

Elizabeth Kate Kingsbury and Dr. William Greely Kingsbury were married on 4 Oct 1857 in Cincinnati, Hamilton, Ohio. William and Elizabeth were first cousins and their common ancestors were Elijah and Lois (Leonard) Kingsbury. They eloped. Dr. William Greely Kingsbury[459] (son of Ebenezer Kingsbury) was born on 6 Nov 1823 in Boonville, Oneida, New York. He moved to Texas in Jan 1846. William Kingsbury was about the only dentist in the Texas area at the time and thus was very successful. His good friend, Captain Sam Walker, convinced Dr. Kingsbury to come with him for the Mexican War (1846 - 1848), but not to enlist in the army. Instead he came along as a friend and practiced his dentistry trade. He also was allowed to participate in several battles as a civilian and ended up with eighteen wounds for his efforts. One such wound was the result of a saber cut on his right cheek which became a distinguishing mark for the remainder of his life.

Some time after the war, Dr. Kingsbury ended up in San Antonio, Texas where he held a successful practice for twenty-five years. He was recognized by the naming of the town in his honor in 1876 in Kingsbury, Guadalupe, Texas. He died on 11 Sep 1896 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas. He was buried in Boerne Cemetery about 15 Sep 1896 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas. Dr. Kingsbury worked as a dentist and rancher who was one of the six original founders of Boerne, Texas. He purchased his ranch from Johann Menger in the 1850s, possibly before his marriage. The ranch was originally established in 1841 by John and Sarah Small. The 1,200 acre tract of land next to the present Hwy 87 was given to John Small as compensation for his gallant service in the Battle of Jan Jacinto. After his death his widow sold the ranch to Johann Menger who then sold it to William Kingsbury. Dr. Kingsbury named his ranch the Molar Ranch, appropriately enough since he was a dentist. During the Indian Wars in the area Dr. Kingsbury was attacked and scalped. He was left for dead on his ranch by the Indians, but he survived the ordeal.

William Kingsbury enlarged the rock ranch house and some additional buildings. The governor of Texas appointed Dr. Kingsbury as the Commissioner of Immigration and he made a concerted effort to bring others from England to settle in Texas. He wrote several pamphlets and books on the subject and for a period even maintained an office in London, England. As a result of his efforts the town of Kingsbury, Texas was named in his honor. While they were becoming settled in the new land Dr. Kingsbury taught them how to build walls and buildings using the natural materials of the area. Much of the rock walls and the stone tower on the ranch today are just a portion of this influence.

In 1908, the Shumard family purchased the ranch from the Kingsbury family. It remained in the Shumard family for almost a century before it was sold again. The local community has tried to preserve the old structures for historical preservation. Elizabeth Kate Kingsbury and Dr. William Greely Kingsbury had the following children:

+4580 i. William Jere Kingsbury (born on 15 Aug 1858).

+4581 ii. Ferdinand Herff Kingsbury (born on 26 Jan 1864).

4582 iii. Kate Kingsbury was born on 12 Dec 1866 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas. She died on 28 Mar 1868 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas.

4583 iv. Norman Kingsbury was born on 23 Jun 1869 in Boerne, Kendall, Texas. He died on 8 Mar 1903 in Mexico City, Mexico. Norman contracted typhoid fever and died as the result.

He moved to Volney, Oswego, New York about 1827. He died on 6 Nov 1887 in Lansing, Oswego, New York. He was buried in Hall Burial Grounds about 9 Nov 1887 in Lansing, Oswego, New York. Shortly after the death of his father, Amos set out on foot west through what was then little more than wilderness of New York, with the intention of settling in Genesse County, NY. However, in upper Oswego County he came upon an area which was exactly what he was searching for. It had beautiful rolling meadows, a brook with clear water, and strong woodland. Here he would eventually build the Kingsbury farm known as Meadowbrook Farm. He returned to Massachusetts to bring his mother, two brothers, Samuel and Edward, and his sister, Sarah. Amos apparently was a strong, imposing man for his day. He was 6' - 2" in height which was very tall for that period, had black wavy hair, and blue eyes. He continued to walk throughout most of his life and is known to have walked on a twelve mile journey at age 84.

Amos Kingsbury and Mary Ann Edwards were married on 19 Jul 1830. Mary Ann Edwards was born on 19 Feb 1808 in Jersey City, Hudson, New Jersey. She died on 13 Aug 1884 in Lansing, Oswego, New York. Amos Kingsbury and Mary Ann Edwards had the following children:

Cyrus Kingsbury D.D. (Cyrus-23, Moses-22, Stephen-21, Daniel-20, Nathaniel-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 22 Nov 1786 in Alstead, Cheshire, New Hampshire. He graduated from Brown University in 1812 in Providence, Providence, Rhode Island He graduated from Andover Theological Seminary in 1815 in Andover, Tolland, Connecticut He was ordained on 29 Sep 1815 in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts. Rev. Cyrus Kingsbury was ordained as a missionary to the Indian Nations. In Sept., 1816 he made his first visit to the Cherokee Indians and was well received.

He moved to Brainerd, Hamilton, Tennessee on 13 Jan 1817. Rev. Kingsbury purchased a plantation and began his mission to the Cherokee Nation in earnest. He was joined in his work by Rev. Hall and Rev. Williams.

He moved to Eliot, Oktibbeha, Mississippi in 1818. The American Board of Foreign Missions asked Rev. Kingsbury if he would carry his missionary work to the Choctaw Nation. He set out through the wilderness by wagon with Rev. and Mrs. Williams. They built their log cabin about 3 miles south of the Yellow-Busha River. In a little over a year there were 14 cabins, School House, lumber house, and a granary. They started the school with 10 students and by the following year there were 80.

With the school now a success, Rev. Kingsbury moved to the north east corner of Oktibbeha county and established another mission on the banks of the Tombigbee River. The community was called Mayhew, but the present day town of Mayhew is several miles to the east in the county of Lowndes. Here he was joined by Mr. Byington, Mr. Hooper, Mr. Cushman, Mr. Smith, Miss Frisselle, Miss Chase, Miss Thatcher, and Miss Varnum. By this time the title of Dr. Kingsbury had been given to him as an honorary degree. He knew Miss Varnum before and they were married soon after her arrival. Several more schools were built for the Choctaw Nation and Dr. Kingsbury served as supervisor of them all. About this time he became known as Nashoba Arnowa by the Indian Chiefs, meaning Walking Wolf. This was apparently a reference to the fact that he walked with a limp due to his club foot, a condition he was born with. To the Indians this was a sign of their respect for him. This became a period of infamy in American history. The U. S. government, and the white man in general, abused the Indians unmercifully. They murdered them and stole their lands, breaking one treaty after another for their own greed. The Choctaw Nation was a distinctly peaceful and Christian people, thanks in no small part to the efforts of Rev. Cyrus Kingsbury. There were about 15,000 in Mississippi at this time and they were driven westward, resettling in what was known as Indian Territory in southeastern Oklahoma. Many died making the journey that we now know as the "Trail of Tears". Rev. Kingsbury made the journey with them and continued his work in Indian Territory until his death. Rev. Cyrus Kingsbury built the church for the town of Boggy Depot in Atoka County in 1840. By 1859 Boggy Depot became the Capital of the Choctaw Nation. He died on 22 Jun 1870 in Pine Ridge, Choctaw, Oklahoma. He was buried in Boggy Depot Cemetery about 26 Jun 1870 in Boggy Depot, Atoka, Oklahoma. At the age of 16 weeks, Cyrus went to live with his maternal grandparents in Massachusetts. Cyrus was born with a crippled foot, but that did not seem to slow him down.

Jane Francesca Elgee and Sir William Wilde were married about 1850 in Ireland. Sir William Wilde was born about 1810. He died on 19 Apr 1876 in Dublin, Ireland. William Wilde was a noted ear and eye medical professional and wrote two books on the subject by the time he was age 28. He was appointed as medical consultant to the 1841 Irish Census and use his position to have information gathered that had never been included before. He continued as the Assistant Commissioner for the next two census reports and in 1864 he was knighted for this work. He also set up his practice in Dublin and wanted to serve the poor. In 1844 he founded Saint Marks Ophthalmic Hospital using his personal money.

3155. Joab Kingsbury[537] (Father of Joab-24, Grandfather of Joab-23, 1700-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1765 in Lanesboro, Washington, Vermont. The story is told that this branch of the Kingsbury family apparently favored the British during the Revolutionary War, although in a luke-warm fashion. After the Battle of Saratoga in 1777 when the Americans defeated General Burgoyne's British forces, they Americans marched through Lanesboro one day with several British prisoners. Among these prisoners was a Major Wainwright who assumed the responsibility of protecting the chest of gold of one of his slain officers, a Captain Clement. The gold was to be given to the widow and daughter of the dead officer still living in England. When the Troops came to the Kingsbury home, the American officer asked Joab's father if they could be quartered in his home since it was so large. Mr. Kingsbury agreed and allowed the troops to camp on the large green near the home. Later that evening Joab overheard the following conversation:

"So long as I am responsible for it I am anxious that nothing should happen to it, but I can not deny that it is somewhat of a burden" Major Wainwright was saying. "Were it not for the thought of poor Clement's wife and child I should long ago have given up the charge. He was killed at Saratoga. This is the only patrimony of his helpless child." As he spoke he glanced with a sigh at the little brass-studded hair-trunk on the chair beside him. Joab could see that it was heavily padlocked and bound in iron, and knew it must contain the gold.

"It will be safe here," said Mr. Kingsbury, waving his hand toward the brick oven, as in the Bank of England. I should feel as if the curse of God would rest upon me if aught of evil befell an orphan's patrimony in my house."

With that the chest was safely locked up in the brick oven of the Kingsbury home and naturally, during the night it was stolen. Someone removed the bricks from the rear of the oven and made off with the chest of gold.

No one ever knew for sure for years after the event who stole the gold, but it seemed that the Kingsbury family seemed to prosper and build some fine barns. However, the Kingsbury family also seemed to suffer more than their share from illness. The last uncle to die was Uncle Amri, and on his death-bed he confessed to Joab that he had stolen the gold and asked Joab to promise to pay the debt back to the widow and child. By now they were well off financially and it was within his power to do so and he made the promise to his dying uncle.

After the death of Amri Kingsbury, Joab made the trip to England and found the widow, Mrs. Kenton, and her daughter, Clementina, in Fenwick, England. Joab not only made the restitution for his uncle Amri, but he fell in love with Clementina and they were married before he returned to Vermont with his new bride. One day their child found an old gold coin in the woods near their home and Joab told her to give it to her mother because it belonged to her. Thus the Kingsbury curse was broken.

Joab Kingsbury and Clementina Kenton were married about 1795 in Fenwick, South Yorkshire, England. Clementina Kenton (daughter of Clement Kenton and Edith) was born about 1766 in Fenwick, South Yorkshire, England.

5397 i. Thomas H. Kingsbury was born about 1825 in Ohio. He was living in 1880 in Millersville, Sandusky, Ohio.

3167. Robert Kingsborough (George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1786 in Portadown, North Ireland. He emigrated in 1821 from Portneuf, Quebec, Canada. He moved to Chazy, Clinton, New York in 1835. Robert operated a saw mill on the banks of the Tracey Brook after settling in Chazy, New York and by 1847 Robert and his wife owned and operated a general store. The family homestead was built sometime before 1850 and remained until about 1930 when it was demolished to make room for the driveway to the railroad station. The Kingsborough (Kingsbury) family prospered and grew in this community for several years. He died in 1873 in Chazy, Clinton, New York. He was buried in Chazy Cemetery before 1874 in Chazy, Clinton, New York.[539]

Robert Kingsborough and Sarah Connor were married about 1820 in Ireland. Sarah Connor was born about 1798 in Ireland. Robert Kingsborough and Sarah Connor had the following children:

5398 i. Eliza Kingsbury was born in 1822 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada. She died Infant in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada.
5399 ii. Edward Connor Kingsbury was born on 2 Dec 1826 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada.
5400 iii. John Kingsbury was born on 13 Feb 1828 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada.
5401 iv. Eliza Kingsbury was born on 1 Sep 1829 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada.
5402 v. Margaret Kingsbury was born on 11 Apr 1832 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada.

3168. Isaac Kingsborough[540] (George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1798 in Portadown, North Ireland. He emigrated in 1821 from Montreal, Ile de Montreal, Quebec, Canada. The entire family of four brothers and two sisters made the long voyage from Ireland to Canada. The trip took six long weeks before they arrived in Quebec where they sailed on to Montréal before they disembarked. He moved to Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada about 1835.[541, 542] The oral family records give this account: "Isaac secured his deed of land in Montreal of 65 acres in the Clergy Reserve of the Township of Hemmingford. He left Montreal with some farmers from the vicinity of his purchase. He had a good sharpe axe, seven shillings and six pense in his pockets and two sea chests with the family clothing and bedding. He crossed the Saint Lawrence River from Montreal at LaPrairie; and, taking ox team and wood shod sleds came by Indian trails to Sherrington." The story goes on to say they stayed with other settlers until they could build their log cabin which became the family homestead for several years. The log house was replaced with a wood frame house in 1865 and this was enlarged in 1885. He died in 1878 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. He was buried in Roxham Cemetery before 1879 in Roxham, Quebec, Canada. Isaac Kingsbury is described as a big man, a full 6 feet tall and weighing about 225 pounds. He had a fair complexion, blue eyes, curly hair, and usually sported a short beard with no mustache. Isaac was a fine player of the German Flute and would often play at the church. When they settled in Canada the family became members of the local Methodist Church.

[539] Descendants of George & Elizabeth Kingsborough by William Andrew Kingsbury 1992 (an unpublished genealogy). In addition to Robert, his wife Sarah, and their son Edward, there are graves here for Robert A. Kingsbury b.1841 - d. 27 August 1900, Mary Kingsbury b.1842 - d.24 October 1906, Joseph W. Kingsbury b.1844 - d.12 May 1906, and Thomas B. Kingsbury b.1853 - d.26 August 1900. This source implies that these are children of Robert and Sarah, but they also could be grandchildren.

[542] Federal or State Census. The 1851 Agricultural Census for Hemmingford indicated that the Isaac Kingsborough family had 53 acres of land of which 44 acres were under cultivation and 9 acres was in woods. They raised wheat, oats, buck wheat, Indian corn, and potatoes. They also had 6 sheep, 1 pig, 3 cows, 2 calves and 3 horses. The 12 acre discrepancy in land between the 53 acres mentioned here and the 65 acres listed as the original could have either been swamp land or could have been sold off earlier.

One of the outstanding characteristics of Isaac Kingsbury was his great strength and athletic ability. He apparently loved to participate in feats of strength and could usually defeat other participants. When he built their first home he would carry the cedar logs out of the swamp on his back.

Isaac Kingsborough and Mary Ann Clayton Mc Connell were married about 1819 in Ireland. It is noted that they were married just a short time prior to sailing to Canada in 1821. Mary Ann Clayton Mc Connell was born about 1800 in Armagh, County Down, Ireland. Mary's father was a notary public and conveyancer in the town of Armaugh, Northern Ireland. Two of her brothers and at least one cousin emigrated to Canada as well, and may have made the same voyage as the Kingsborough family in 1821. Josiah and William Clayton, her brothers both settled in Ontario. Henry Clayton, her cousin settled in Troy, New York.

Mary Clayton Kingsbury is described as a short woman of 150 pounds, fair complexion, and could easily stand under her husband's arm. Her hair was long and auburn in color, and she could comb it out and then sit upon the ends of it. Isaac Kingsborough and Mary Ann Clayton Mc Connell had the following children:

5403 i. Sarah Kingsbury was born about 1821 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada. She died in 1901. She was buried in Old Hemmingford Burial Grounds before 1902 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. Sarah remained on the family farm with her brother Isaac all her life.
5405 iii. George Clayton Kingsbury was born about 1825 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada. He moved to Almena, Van Buren, Michigan before 1851.[543]
5406 iv. Thomas Clayton Kingsbury was born about 1826 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada. He died in 1880 in Troy, Rensselaer, New York. Death was caused by consumption. According to family sources, Thomas worked as a foreman on the railroad wrecking crew of the Troy and Hoosic Tunnell Railroad line.
+5407 v. Eliza Margaret Kingsbury (born about 1827).
5408 vi. Elvira Kingsbury was born about 1829 in Portneuf, Quebec, Canada.
+5409 vii. Isaac Clayton Kingsbury (born on 28 Apr 1835).
+5410 viii. Mary Ann Kingsbury (born about 1836).
+5411 ix. Josiah Clayton Kingsbury (born on 14 Mar 1837).
+5412 x. William Clayton Kingsbury (born on 28 Apr 1839).
+5413 xi. Albert Luther Kingsbury (born on 4 May 1850).

3169. John Kingsborough (George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1799 in Portadown, North Ireland. He emigrated in 1821 from Portneuf, Quebec, Canada. After arriving in Montreal, John settled in what was then known as Port Neuf (Newport). He is said to have been a farmer in the Cape Sante'area of Portneuf Parish, raised a large family and became rather wealthy in the area. There is a town along the Kingsbury and Orford Railway Line that is named after this branch of the family. There is a record of Elleen Kingsborough (Kingsbury) b. 1884 - d.26 November 1974 who married Archibald Bonnallie b.1872 - d.1955 and they could have had something to do with the railroad line from Lake Bonnallie which was part of the Kingsbury & Orford Mountain Railroad. He died on 25 Nov 1866 in Newport, Quebec, Canada.

John Kingsborough and May Mc Kewon were married about 1833 in Quebec, Canada. May Mc Kewon was born in 1806 in Ireland. She died on 12 Jan 1882 in Newport, Quebec, Canada. John Kingsborough and May Mc Kewon had the following children:

+5414 i. Margaret Kingsbury (born on 15 Jun 1835).
5415 ii. John Kingsbury was born on 2 Apr 1838 in Newport, Quebec, Canada.

5416 iii. Mary Ann Kingsbury was born on 22 Jul 1840 in Newport, Quebec, Canada.
+5417 iv. George Kingsbury (born on 19 Nov 1847).
5418 v. Isaac Kingsbury was born in 1847 in Newport, Quebec, Canada.

3171. Margaret Kingsborough (George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1806 in Portadown, North Ireland. She emigrated in 1821 from New York, New York, New York. Soon after arriving in Montreal, Margaret accepted a position with the Wilkes family of New York and spent her entire life in this position.

Margaret Kingsborough and George Davidson were married about 1824. George Davidson was born about 1805 in New York, New York, New York.

3172. George Kingsborough II (George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1811 in Portadown, North Ireland. He emigrated in 1821 from Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. After arriving in Montreal, George settled in Hemmingford about 4 1/2 miles from the home of Isaac Kingsbury and raised a family of 12 children. He worked as a farmer and was reasonably comfortable. He was also licensed as the local Methodist minister, was very well read, and wrote poetry. It should be noted that Hemmingford is on the border with New York and only about 8 miles north of Champlain, NY.

George Kingsborough II and Anna Dunlap were married.[544] Anna Dunlap was born about 1811 in Armagh, County Down, Ireland. George Kingsborough II and Anna Dunlap had the following children:

+5419 i. George Kingsbury (born on 3 Mar 1840).
+5420 ii. Samuel John Kingsbury (born on 26 Mar 1842).

He graduated from Brown University in 1826 in Providence, Providence, Rhode Island He died on 24 Dec 1874 in Providence, Providence, Rhode Island. Graduated from Brown University in 1826 and went on to become a highly respected and well known advocate of education. After graduation he became associated with Mr. G.A. Dewitt in the instruction and management of Providence, RI School. Two years later John started the "Young Ladies High School" at the solicitation of many. This became one of the finest private schools in existence and John maintained it for 30 years. He retired in 1858 and was appointed by the Governor to State Commissioner of Public Schools. He held this post for only 1 year and resigned listing health as the reason. He was immediately made President of the Washington Insurance Company, and he continued at that post until his death. Although a founder of a private school, John was a very active promoter of the public school program. He was one of the leaders in demanding legislation which created and organized the common schools of Rhode Island. He also assisted in the founding of the "American Institute of Instruction", a national association of teachers. He was president of that organization for 2 years and was one of its councilors and managers for 20 years. John was very active in several philanthropic and religious institutions in Providence, and an active member of the "Franklin Society" which promoted scientific endeavors. In 1844 John was chosen as a member of the Board of Trustees of Brown University and in 1853 he was elevated to the Board of Fellows. He was chosen as Secretary of the Corporation, a position he held until his death. In 1856 the University conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. It is to be noted that this is only a small summary of this man's very active life, condensed from the 25 Dec. 1874 article in PROVIDENCE JOURNAL written by Professor Gammell of Brown University.

He was living in 1850 in Hope Twp, Barry, Michigan.[608] According to Melissa (Chamberlain) Ashby, the Kingsbury family and the Chamberlain family were the first to settle in Hope Township, Michigan. At this time it was virtually a wilderness with little more than Indian trails to find one's way around the area. Game was plentiful and the major food source. The Indians were friendly and helped them hunt for the deer, bear, and fox that seemed to populate the area. Melissa talks about arriving in 1849 with an ox team and a long sled. Life was difficult for this pioneer family. They would hunt, tan the hides of the deer to make moccasins, and used the wool of their sheep to make yarn for their clothes. Melissa's father died of typhoid fever when she was only 4 years old which made life very difficult for her mother and the family. He was living in 1860 in Yankee Springs Twp, Barry, Michigan.[609] He served in the military about 1863 in Civil War. He was living in 1870 in Ostamo Twp, Kalamazoo, Michigan.[610] He was living in 1880 in Monroe Twp, Newaygo, Michigan.[611] Joseph's occupation was given as a Mill Watchman. He was living in 1892 in Lincoln twp, Osceola, Michigan.[612] The Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad built a line through Lincoln Township with a branch running northwest. At that junction of the railroad there was a depot and general store. This small hamlet was known at the time as Milton Junction and later came to be known as Orono. The Joseph Kingsbury family built a home near this community and the property remained in the Kingsbury family for several generations. By 1992 neither the railroad nor the hamlet remained. He died on 24 Jan 1900 in Lincoln twp, Osceola, Michigan. He was buried in Ashton Cemetery about 28 Jan 1900 in Ashton, Osceola, Michigan.[613]

Joseph B. Kingsbury and Sarah H. (Sally) Brewster were married on 15 Jul 1849 in Yankee Springs Twp, Barry, Michigan. Joseph and Sarah were married by Sarah's maternal grandfather, Levi Hardy, who was serving as the local Justice of the Peace at that time. Sarah H. (Sally) Brewster (daughter of Ellet Brewster and Henrietta Lucy Hardy) was born on 12 Jan 1832 in Steuben County, New York. She died on 12 Dec 1906 in Lincoln twp, Osceola, Michigan. 5932 i. Warren Kingsbury was born about 1862 in New York. Warren seems to have left home in the 1870s and his whereabouts are unknown.
5933 ii. Epharim Kingsbury was born about 1866 in Hope Twp, Barry, Michigan.[621]

Sarah B. Gardiner was born on 18 Mar 1849. Ezra P. Kingsbury and Sarah B. Gardiner had the following children:

+5934 i. J. Judd Kingsbury (born on 3 Apr 1871).
5935 ii. Asa Kingsbury was born about 1873. He was living in 1943 in Seattle, King, Washington.
5936 iii. Effie E. Kingsbury was born about 1875 in Harbor Springs, Emmet, Michigan.

3584. Ansel H. Kingsbury (Simeon-24, Joseph-23, Oliver-22, Samuel A.-21, James-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 23 Sep 1829 in Barre Center, Orleans, New York.[622] He moved to Cloverdale, Barry, Michigan in Jan 1854.[623,624] Ansel and his brother, Freeman Kingsbury, purchased 57 acres of land from Alexander Buell of Kalamazoo, Michigan in January of 1854. The land ran from the southern shores of Long Lake and what is now State Highway M43 down to what is now Cloverdale Road. Ansel quickly built a saw mill on the lake and a blacksmith shop. Many of the early homes were simple log cabins, but settlement would be very rapid. According to the Barry County Tax Records for 1872, Ansel Kingsbury now owned 70 acres of land and paid the "outrageous" fee of $31.34 for his property taxes.

Several substantial brick homes began to appear by 1880 including the Ansel Kingsbury home on what is now Cloverdale Road about 1/2 mile west of what is now Kingsbury Road. This early community was known as Kingsbury Mill. By 1887 the C. K. & S. railroad was coming through Barry County and would pass through this community. A local Post Office was established in March 1887 and the name was changed to Cloverdale at that time. By 1890 the Evangelical Church was built and in 1897 Ansel Kingsbury sold a portion of his property to the west to John Ludwick for the construction of the Mission Church.

The Kingsbury Saw Mill obviously was an important part of the development for this community with the rapid construction of homes and businesses. With the railroad there was also need for railroad ties. Once the railroad was complete through the area, many became involved with the business of cutting ice from the lakes during the winter and shipping it back to Kalamazoo on the railroad in blocks for the ice houses. This was also the time when the fruit business became a significant industry for the area and the railroad made distribution to the larger cities of Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids and easy process. He served in the military from 9 Jan 1864 to

He moved to McDonough, Henry, Georgia in 1827. He moved to Carrollton, Carroll, Georgia in 1830. He gave his slaves their freedom about 1865 in Carrollton, Carroll, Georgia. It should be noted that some of the freed slaves from the Oak Lawn Plantation assumed the surname of Kingsbery. One of these was George Kingsbery who married Emma Garrison about 1870. Apparently George had a son called George Kingsbery jr. who married Martha Billup on September 18, 1897 and a daughter named Mary Kingsbery who married Daniel Winship on June 7, 1896. He died on 28 Dec 1869 in Carrollton, Carroll, Georgia. Sanford Kingsbury was one of the first pioneer merchants of Carrollton, Georgia and built one of the first permanent homes in town on Rome Street. In addition to being a pioneer merchant in Carrollton, Sanford was a breeder of prize Black Hawk horses. About 1847 the plantation known as Oak Lawn just south of the town on the Little Tallapoosa River became available. There was a race to file for the 400 acre plantation in Springfield and Sanford rode one of his famous horses 50 miles per day for 3 days to become the first to file for the property. Soon after he assumed ownership he built a grist mill on the river to grind the corn and wheat and it was patronized by farmers for about 20 miles around. The plantation was well known for its crops and its prize horses and cattle. They also raised hogs later. It is noted that the family changed the spelling of their surname to Kingsbery when they moved to Georgia.

[644] Federal or State Census. Federal Census listed George as a mechanic.

[645] Kenneth J. Kingsbury, Notes - Editorial. After Sanford moved to Georgia, he generally changed the spelling of his surname to Kingsbery. It is this spelling the often distinguishes the Georgia branch of the family and their descendants.

For some reason the family decided to return to Vermont in 1849 and the set out in their covered wagon with their three sons. The journey took 48 days. After a very short time they returned to their Oak Lawn home in Carrollton.

The story is told that in the later period of the Civil War during the time of Sherman's Burnt Earth campaign, Sanford Kingsbery was sitting on his porch when he saw the union army coming over the hill to his plantation. He met the Union officer, a Captain Hugh Kilpatrick, and they had a conversation on his porch. In the midst of the conversation they discovered that they were both members of the same Masonic Order from Derby, Vermont. Out of respect for this kinship, the officer agreed to spare his property. The beautiful Oak Lawn Plantation was still standing in 2001. Sanford Kingsbury also became very active in the Carroll Masonic Lodge #69 and served as "Worshipful Master" for the years 1854, 1855, 1865, and 1868.

Even though Sanford maintained strong ties to his Vermont homeland, the family was very proud of their Southern roots in Carroll County and ended up having three of their sons that served with distinction in the Confederate Army.

+6335 ii. Helen Cornelia Streeter (born on 16 Jul 1834).
+6337 iv. Julia Augusta Streeter (born on 9 Aug 1842).
6338 v. John Mason Good Streeter was born on 8 Jan 1847 in Troy, Rensselaer, New York.

3763. Oliver Richmond Kingsbury (Oliver-24, Joseph-23, Ebenezer-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 15 Mar 1809 in Worcester, Worcester, Massachusetts. He died on 11 Dec 1889 in New York, New York, New York. Oliver Kingsbury was raised in Coventry, Connecticut in the home of his Grandfather. As a very young man, he moved to New York City, New York in 1827 and began working for the American Tract Society with his uncle, Harlan Page. He worked at the same place his entire life and distinguished himself in his service to the Tract Society and his church. He was a very active member of the Presbyterian Church, serving in the Sixth Street Church, the Fourteenth Street Church, and Central Presbyterian Church. He served as Elder and several times as Commissioner to the General Assembly.

Oliver finally asked to be relieved of his duties at the American Tract Society at age 78 having served them for 60 years. On May 9, 1887 a special meeting was called and the Executive Committee submitted the following resolution for adoption:

"Resolved, That the society, now assembled in annual meeting, cannot consent to part with Mr. Kingsbury as Treasurer without placing on record its estimate of his long and faithful services. A youth of 17, he entered the service of the society in 1827 in a subordinate capacity. In 1834 he was elected Assistant Secretary; in 1835 was added the duty of Assistant Treasurer. He preformed the duties of treasurer from that time until the present, having received the title of Treasurer in 1870. He has been annually elected in this capacity for 53 years with no dissenting voice. During this period there passed through the treasury about $17,000,000, and so far as known not one dollar was ever lost in connection with his department. During these 60 years he has been out of the office from illness but once for any length of time, and only for three months then. Nor has he taken during these threescore years, on an average, one week's vacation per annum. Not a little of the untarnished reputation of the Society is due to his calm judgment, clear view of financial questions, incorruptible integrity, and high Christian character. Taking into view the multiplicity of interests involved, the amount of money handled in unnumbered small sums, the total absence of loss or failure in payment of notes, and the length of unbroken service, it will be difficult to find parallels in the religious or financial institutions of the country."

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous standing vote and Oliver was also elected Treasurer Emeritus.

Oliver Richmond Kingsbury and Susan Patterson were married on 26 Sep 1838 in New York, New York, New York. Susan Patterson (daughter of Alexander Patterson and Jane Burras) was born on 17 Nov 1809 in New York, New York, New York. She died on 17 Jun 1849 in New York, New York, New York. Susan died only nine days after the birth of her son, George Kingsbury. She was buried in Marble Cemetery about 21 Jun 1849 in Manhattan, New York, New York. It is noted that she was later removed to Greenwood Cemetery. Oliver Richmond Kingsbury and Susan Patterson had the following children:

He died on 13 Oct 1864 in New York, New York, New York. He was buried in Oakwood Cemetery about 17 Oct 1864 in Troy, Rensselaer, New York. Daniel started out as superintendent and part owner of a factory in Coventry. After his marriage to Roxana the family lived in Lebanon, CT and later moved to Griswold, CT. Here the family became very active in the church and were among the organizers of the Second Ecclesiastical Society in Griswold.

After the death of Roxana, the family moved to Albia, NY (now part of Troy). He became the director of a large woolen factory in Troy. As a reflection of his character, it is noted that Daniel set aside a period at 9:00AM every day when all the employees would gather for prayers. On May 1, 1832 he moved into the city of Troy and lived there for 22 years. He continued in the wool business in partnership with his son, William. During this period he met and married Sophronia, the niece of his first wife.

While living in Troy, he served as school commissioner and one of the school trustees in 1841, and became an alderman in 1843. He moved to Sand Lake, Rensselner, NY in May, 1836. Here he divided his time between manufacturing, managing a grist mill, and a general store. When his home burned in 1862, he retired from business and moved back to Troy, NY. In 1863 he moved to Bloomfield, NJ with his wife and daughter. Sophronia Porter and Daniel Wight had the following children:

3827. Brevet Brigadier-General Charles Peeble Kingsbury (Horatio Gates-24, Eleazar-23, Eleazar-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 11 Mar 1816 in Clyde, Wayne, New York. He served in the military in 1840 in US Army. Charles Kingsbury. graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1840, second in his class which included William Tecumseh Sherman and George W. Thomas, all of whom later went on to the rank of General. In August, 1845 he was assigned to General Taylor's army stationed at Corpus Christi, Texas and distinguished himself in the Battle of Buena Vista, and serving in Mexico. He was promoted to rank of Captain in 1854.

Captain Kingsbury was stationed at Richmond, Virginia at the outbreak of the Civil War. When Virginia seceded from the Union, news came that Governor Letcher was about to attempt the capture of the munitions at Harper's Ferry Armory. The Secretary of War, at the suggestion of General Scott, sent Captain Kingsbury to prevent the plan. Captain Kingsbury knew that he did not have enough men to defend the Armory, therefore, when he received work that Letcher's Raiders were within three miles of Harper's Ferry, he torched the Armory to keep the munitions from falling into enemy hands. The Raiders were only able to take a few buildings, but all the weapons were successfully destroyed. Captain Kingsbury was almost captured by an angry mob, but a prominent local citizen helped him escape.

After Harper's Ferry, Captain Kingsbury served as Chief Ordnance Officer under General McClellan for the Army of the Potomac during the Peninsular Campaign. He was promoted to Major in 1863 and finally to Brevet Brigadier-General in 1865 in recognition of his gallant and meritorious service during the Civil War. After his involvement in the Battles of Yorktown and the Seven Days Battle of Richmond, General Kingsbury's health was such that he was forced to take a short break from active service. Later he was assigned to the Rock Island Arsenal and then the Watertown Arsenal near Boston. His health finally prevented him from active service and he retired to Brooklyn, New York.

It was said that General Kingsbury was a major influence on General Grant in convincing him to enter the active service for the Civil War, and while General Kingsbury was serving at the Watertown Arsenal, President Grant shook General Kingsbury's hand and said, "Well, Kingsbury, you see I followed your advice".

After his retirement it is noted that General Kingsbury was very active in his home church and always attended worship and Church School whenever he was in town. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Cuyler, mentioned several times how he would see General Kingsbury at worship and in Prayer meeting, often with other great military men who served with him. One Sunday morning General Kingsbury sat on the same pew with General Casey and General Patrick, both of whom fought with General Kingsbury in the Mexican Campaigns.

At his funeral, General Hancock, General Slocum, General Casey, General Newton, General Mitchell, and General McKeever were all honorary pall bearers. An honor guard of eight soldier from Governor's Island carried the coffin. He died on 25 Dec 1879 in Brooklyn, Cattaragus, New York.[652]

He died in 1911 in Wilmington, New Hanover, North Carolina. Dr. Theodore Kingsbury attended Oxford Academy, Bingham School, Lovejoy Military Academy in Raleigh, North Carolina before entering the University of North Carolina. After leaving the university he became a partner with his father in the mercantile business, but retired from this when his father died. His real love and talent was in the literary field. In 1858 he established a paper called the LEISURE HOUR in Oxford, and from there he went on to write and edit for several North Carolina newspapers and periodicals. He also became a very prominent speaker. In 1876 he became the editor for the MORNING STAR published in Wilmington, North Carolina and continued in this capacity until 1889 when he became editor for the MESSENGER.

In 1883 Theodore Kingsbury received the degree of LL.D. from the University of North Carolina.

During much of the period he was courted by the Democratic Party to enter various political offices, but he always declined. Apparently he felt that he could do more with the use of his pen than he could in office. It is also noted that he had a keen interest in history and theology. For several years Dr. Kingsbury served ad class leader for the Methodist Church .

He published Old Connecticut on 19 Feb 1877 while living in New Haven, New Haven, Connecticut This paper was to have been presented to the Mattatuck Historical Society, but in fact was first presented to the New Haven Colony Historical Society. It became a significant outline of the social, political, and physical changes that occurred to the area. It stirred a lot of interest in the history of the area and was read by Rev. Albert Cole some 50 years later on January 11, 1928 at which time it was officially published by the Mattatuck Historical Society. Frederick Kingsbury was president of the Mattatuck Historical Society from 1878 through 1910. He published The Genealogy of the Descendants of Henry Kingsbury of Ipswich and Haverhill, Mass. in 1905 while living Although Frederick Kingsbury is often listed as the author, he actually gathered a great deal of the information which was then used by Mary Kingsbury Talcott to edit and write the book. Kingsbury was educated in the schools of Waterbury, Connecticut and received special college preparation under the tutelage of his uncle, Rev. Abner J. Leavenworth in Virginia and later under Rev. Seth Fuller, Principal of the Waterbury Academy. He graduated from Yale College in 1846 and studied law under Judge W. L. Storrs and Isaac H. Townsend of Yale College, the Honorable Charles G. Loring of Boston, and the Honorable Thomas C. Perkins of Hartford, Connecticut. He passed the Bar in Boston in 1848, opening his law practice in Waterbury in 1849. By 1850, Frederick was elected State Representative for Waterbury and soon became interested in the Banking industry and laws. He helped establish the first Savings Bank of Waterbury and became its treasurer. In 1853 he helped establish the Citizens Bank of Waterbury and served as its president for several years. He was re-elected to the State Legislature in 1858 and 1865, and served as chairman on the State Committee on Banks. In 1858 he indicated his interest in manufacturing by becoming a director for the Scovill Manufacturing Company. He became Secretary and treasurer in 1862 and finally president of the company in 1868. He also served as secretary for the Detroit and Lake Superior Copper Company, a director for the New York & New England Railroad, and a director for the Naugatuck Railroad. Frederick demonstrated his concern for his community by serving as treasurer of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut, treasurer of the Bronson Library Fund, a member of the Board of Agents for the library, and a member of the Corporation of Yale College. On 10 October, 1893 he received the honorary degree of LL.D. from Williams College and the same degree from Yale College in 1899. He also had a keen interest in history and genealogy. Much of the material used in the book published by Mary Kingsbury Talcott was from the collections by Frederick Kingsbury. He was elected president of the American Social Science Association in 1893, 1894, and 1895. An excerpt of his November, 1895 presidential address, "The Tendency of Men to Live in Cities" has been published in the Encyclopedia Britannica's "The Annals of America", Vol. 12, 1976. Frederick also held memberships in the American Historical Association, the Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences, the New Haven County Historical Society, the Society of Colonial Wars, and several others. She died on 5 Jan 1874 in Kentucky.

Mary Jane Kingsbury and Major General Simon Bolivar Buckner were married on 2 May 1850 in Lyme Station, New London, Connecticut. Major General Simon Bolivar Buckner was born in 1823 in Kentucky. He was living in 1903 in Rio, Hart, Kentucky. Mr. Buckner graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1844 as Second Lieutenant and became Assistant Professor of Ethics at West Point in August, 1845. May 1846 he began his service in the War with Mexico and was promoted to First Lieutenant for his bravery at Contreras and Cherubusco, and after his involvement at Molino del Rey he received the field promotion to Captain. August 1848 he was appointed assistant professor of infantry tactics at West Point and resigned on 25 March, 1855.

The story is told that at his wedding to Mary Kingsbury, the neighbor's house caught on fire. Captain Buckner left the ceremony with several other guests to help put out the fire and in the process helped to save an elderly colored servant who was caught in the burning building.

He moved to Illinois and was superintendent for the construction of the Chicago Custom House in 1855 and served as Colonel of the Illinois Volunteers raised for the Utah expedition. However, Col. Buckner did not go to Utah, but went to his home state of Kentucky instead where he became Commander of the State Guard and . Adjutant-General of the State of Kentucky.

On 12 September, 1861 General Buckner gave an address at Russellville calling the people to arms against the desires of Abraham Lincoln. He then served as Brigadier-General at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, but later surrendered to General Grant after the escape of General Pillow.

Later General Buckner assumed command of the First Division of General Hardees Corps in Tennessee and was promoted to Major-General. He was involved in the Battle of Murfreesboro, the Battle of Chickamauga, and finally surrendered with Kirby Smith's Army at Baton Rouge on 26 May, 1865.

General Buckner returned to his home state of Kentucky and was elected Governor of the State from 1887 to 1891. He was the candidate for Vice President for the National Democrats in 1896. Mary Jane Kingsbury and Major General Simon Bolivar Buckner had the following children:

+6557 i. Lily Buckner (born on 7 Mar 1858).

6558 ii. Henry Buckner was born about 1861 in Kentucky. He died Child in Kentucky. Henry died at the age of eleven months during the Civil War.

3909. Colonel Henry Walter Kingsbury (Julius Jesse Bronson-24, John-23, Nathaniel-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 25 Dec 1836 in Connecticut. Most of his younger years, Henry moved about often as happens with a military family. As a young man he began to spend his vacations with his cousin, Frederick J. Kingsbury in Waterbury, Connecticut and eventually attended school there with Mr. Churchill. Henry was a very good student and was sponsored by Hon. S. J. T. Stranahan of Brooklyn, NY to West Point. He served in the military in 1861 in Civil War. Henry lived with his brother-in-law, General Simon Buckner for a portion of the year just before entering West Point, and always appreciated the influence General Buckner had on his life. Henry excelled at the Academy and became Adjutant of the Corps during his last year. Henry's class graduated early due to the outbreak of the Civil War. He reported for duty immediately and fought in a battery of artillery at the first Battle of Bull Run. Later he served under Major-General McDowell and in the Siege of Yorktown and the Battles around Richmond he was in command in Griffin's Battery. After this he was promoted to Colonel of the Eleventh Connecticut Infantry with Burnside in North Carolina. As an interesting side note, his predecessor was Colonel Thomas H. C. Kingsbury, a first cousin once removed who was at this time an elderly man and had to retire because of his health.

CONNECTICUT ELEVENTH REGIMENT C. V. INFANTRY written by Lieutenant Colonel Charles Warren:

The Eleventh Regiment was organized and mustered into the United States service at Hartford, October 24, 1861, for three years. It remained in camp until December 16th, when ordered to Annapolis, MD. When leaving Hartford it numbered nine hundred and twenty-seven officers and men, under Colonel T.H.C. Kingsbury. A handsome set of regimental colors were presented at New York, December 17th. The regiment encamped at Annapolis and was assigned to Burnside's Expedition. January 6th it broke camp, and one-half of the regiment was soon on board the gunboat "Sentinel", and one-half on the bark (a small sailing vessel) "Voltigeur". The next day after sailing from Fort Monroe, a great storm arose which lasted several days and gave rise to fears that the expedition had gone down, but enough was saved to make lively work on the North Carolina coast. In the storm the "Voltigeur" was carried by a tremendous wave upon the sand beach of Hatteras and left high and dry on shore, and afterwards went to pieces. After being on shipboard twenty-nine days it went into camp near Hatteras. Early in March the regiment moved to Roanoke Island and joined forces preparing to operate against Newbern. The regiment had an active part in the attack on Newbern, being near the center of the line, and in the final charge their colors were among the foremost on the enemy's works. After the battle the regiment encamped on the Trent until July, when it was ordered to join the Army of the Potomac at Fredericksburg, VA, and was placed on duty in the city. Colonel Kingsbury and Lieutenant-Colonel Mathewson had resigned, and H. W. Kingsbury had been appointed Colonel and G. A. Stedman Lieutenant-Colonel. The last of August the regiment evacuated the city, crossed the Rappahannock, and burning the bridges, moved north to Washington to join the army under McClelland for the Maryland campaign, and was assigned to Harland's Brigade, Ninth Corps. This brigade was in the advance towards Frederick, and on the 12th of September the skirmish line of the Eleventh entered the city on the heels of the rebel army. The advance was resumed on the 13thg, and the rebels forced back to Turner's Gap, South Mountain, where a desperate battle took place in the late afternoon of the next day. The Eleventh was under fire, but its loss was small. The advance was resumed on the 15th and 16th, when the enemy was found concentrated behind Antietam Creek. The battle of Antietam commenced early on the 17th, and in the afternoon the Eleventh was in the advance on the left for the capture of the stone bridge. Two companies were detached as skirmishers under Captain Griswold, and plunged into the creek. It was a literal "valley of Death". Captain Griswold was killed in mid-stream, Colonel Kingsbury was mortally wounded; but the regiment held its ground until supported, when a general charge across the bridge drove the rebels from the stone wall and the heights beyond. The Eleventh lost one hundred and eighty-one, including every field officer.

Antietam is often called the bloodiest battle in American military history. Col. Henry Kingsbury demonstrated great bravery in leading his regiment in the attack on the Stone Bridge and ended up giving his life to the cause.

GENERAL BURNSIDE'S GENERAL ORDER announcing Colonel Kingsbury's death:

Special Order No. 47--

Headquarters 9th Army Corps. Mouth of Antietam, MD, September 28, 1862

The Commanding General announces to the 11th Regiment Conn. Volunteers the death of their late commander, Col. H. W. Kingsbury. By this sad calamity the army mourns one of the most accomplished of those young officers who in a few months have become veterans in their country's service. After serving with distinction through the campaign in the Peninsula, Col. Kingsbury was promoted to his late command, and in that office, occupying positions of great responsibility , he invariably proved himself equal to the occasion, displaying always a gallantry and skill that gave high promise for his future. He received his death wound while bravely leading his men at the Battle of Antietam. As a near friend of Col. Kingsbury, the Commanding General wishes to add his testimony to his private worth, to the purity of his character, and to the possession of those high qualities of mind and heart that form the sterling man as well as the finished soldier. By command of Major-General Burnside.

He died on 18 Sep 1862 in Antietam, Washington, Maryland. He was buried in Oak Hill Cemetery about 23 Sep 1862 in Washington, DC.

Chamberlain[665] (daughter of William Chamberlain) was born in 1831 in Monroe County, New York. Alvin Kingsbury and Sarah Chamberlain had the following children:

6666 i. Clayton Kingsbury was born in 1858 in Hudson, Columbia, New York.
+6667 ii. Fremont Kingsbury (born in 1862).

3988. Edward B. Kingsbury[666] (Benjamin-24, Daniel-23, John-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 1 Nov 1829 in Cherry Valley, Otsego, New York. He served in the military on 2 Aug 1862 in Civil War. Edward served in the 23rd Wisconsin Volunteer Regiment, Company F. He originally signed up for 3 years, but received a medical discharge in April, 1863. He fought in several battles in north central Kentucky. On Nov. 19, 1862 his regiment embarked from Louisville, KY for Memphis, TN. On December 20, 1862 Edward was hospitalized in Memphis for dysentery and possible typhoid. Apparently conditions were bad and a large number in the company either died or were hospitalized. From here the company advanced down the river against Vicksburg, MS arriving at Milliken's Bend. He died on 28 Mar 1889 in Owatonna, Steele, Minnesota. Cause of death was listed as Paralysis (Seems strange that the doctor chose this rather than stroke). He was buried in Forest Hills Cemetery about 1 Apr 1889 in Owatonna, Steele, Minnesota. Edward was living in Wisconsin when the Civil War broke out and apparently was married there just before enlisting. After the war the family moved to Owatonna, MN where they were among the original settlers. After the war Edward owned 160 acres, but apparently did not farm his own land. He is variously listed as a gardener and a carpenter.

Edward B. Kingsbury and Sarah Isabella Hathaway were married on 6 Feb 1859 in Fairfield, Sauk, Wisconsin. They were divorced on 27 Aug 1862 in Baraboo, Sauk, Wisconsin. Sarah Isabella Hathaway[667] (daughter of Justus Hathaway and Mary Shive) was born about 1843 in Whitely County, Indiana. Edward B. Kingsbury and Sarah Isabella Hathaway had the following children:

Edward B. Kingsbury and Cynthia Crouch were married on 9 May 1863 in Baraboo, Sauk, Wisconsin. Cynthia Crouch[668] (daughter of Ludim Crouch and Phelina) was born on 1 Sep 1837 in West Springfield, Delaware, Pennsylvania. She died on 22 Jun 1906 in Owatonna, Steele, Minnesota.[669] Cynthia was hospitalized for about five weeks prior to her death and the newspaper obituary gives the cause of death as "complication of troubles arising from old age." The funeral service was held at her home on South Cedar Street and Professor L. Ingrahm from Pillsbury Academy officiated. It is noted that she had been a faithful member of First Baptist Church and very active in the community all her life. She was buried in Forest Hills Cemetery on 25 Jun 1906 in Owatonna, Steele, Minnesota. Cynthia Couch is listed as a "domestic" in the 1860 census and living in the home of A. A. Peck who was the local druggist. There is a theory that Cynthia may have cared for Emma Kingsbury after the death of her mother while Edward Kingsbury was in the hospital in Memphis. Edward and Cynthia obviously had some ties as they were married within one month after he was released from the hospital and mustered out of the service. Edward B. Kingsbury and Cynthia Crouch had the following children:

+6670 ii. Rose Mae Kingsbury (born on 6 Mar 1867).

4219. Brevet Brigadier General Henry Dennison Kingsbury[675] (Alvah-24, Jabez-23, Phineas-22, Nathaniel-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 29 Jul 1818 in Otis, Berkshire, Massachusetts. He moved to Brunswick, Medina, Ohio in 1820. The family moved to the area of Ohio known as the Western Reserve to work the farm owned by the grandfather of Henry, Jabez Kingsbury. The family made this move with a team of oxen and a covered wagon. He moved to Toledo, Lucas, Ohio on 25 Nov 1834. He served in the military on 23 Apr 1861 in Civil War. Henry Kingsbury was the sixth man to enlist at Toledo, Ohio and he began his career as Quartermaster of the Fourteenth Ohio Infantry. He then raised Company A which he commanded until he made the rank of Major in July 1862. By December of 1862 he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and in March 1864, in recognition of his valiant efforts with the 14th Ohio Infantry at Chicamauga and Mission Ridge, he was given the rank of Brevet Brigadier General. During the course of the war, Henry would serve with distinction in over forty major battles including Orchard Knob, Taylor's Ridge, Siege of Atlanta, Rocky Faced Ridge, Adairville, Battles about Dallas, Chattahootchie River, Peach Tree Creek, and many others. He died on 21 Jan 1904 in Toledo, Lucas, Ohio.[676] "General Kingsbury was a popular man in Toledo, and has been before the public for many years. Both politically and socially he had much to do with the growth of Toledo, and his benevolent and loving wife, who died just three years ago, was one of the most popular women in Toledo. Her home was the scene for many social gatherings, and its hospitality was known and appreciated by a large circle of friends. The General will be greatly missed by Toledo people, and his death, which came so suddenly but peacefully, will be a shock to his many warm friends." (TOLEDO BLADE: January 22, 1904) He was buried in Forest Cemetery about 26 Jan 1904 in Toledo, Lucas, Ohio. After the family moved to Brunswick, Henry and his siblings received their education at the "Select School" of Judge Abram Freese and taught by the daughter of the Judge, Miss Pamela Freese. The discipline of the school was very strict and administered quite frequently by the Judge himself.

By his early twenties Henry became employed on the Ohio Railroad which served as the link for the Western Reserve between Buffalo, New York and Monroe, Michigan. At the time Henry's uncle William Kingsbury was living in Maumee, Ohio and may have had some influence on his move to this part of the state. The Ohio Railroad eventually went bankrupt and left Henry out of work about 1840. He had spent a great deal of time in the Toledo area and by 1841 he called Toledo his home. Henry was married in 1841 and very quickly became involved in the local political scene. Eventually Henry served as Marshall of Toledo (1846-1848) and as Treasurer of the City of Toledo (1849). In 1851 and again in 1855 Henry ran on the Republican ticket for the position of Sheriff of Lucas County, Ohio and lost both times. He ran again in 1857 and won the election this time. Henry was serving his second term as sheriff when the Civil War broke out on April 12, 1861.

After the war General Kingsbury once again settled down in Toledo. He ran for his old position as sheriff of Lucas county and won with an overwhelming majority. He served two more terms in this office. By the late 1880s rheumatism had begun to take over his health and he was in real pain. By 1897 he was completely incapacitated and totally reliant on his wife for care. However, Harriet was also declining in health and had a difficult time taking care of her husband. Henry and Harriet moved to Maumee, Ohio to live with their daughter and her family. Two of the grandsons took over much of the personal care for the bed ridden General. Within a year of their move to Maumee, Henry fell and broke his hip which made matters that much worse. His wife died in January of 1901, only 10 months before they would have celebrated 60 years of marriage. With his wife now gone, Henry began to slip more and more both mentally and physically and eventually it became necessary to have him admitted to the Toledo State Hospital where he died three years after the death of his wife.

[692] Letter. Meredith Hudson Marcum 7/2004.

7060 i. Albert Alonzo Hawkins was born on 25 Aug 1856 in New York.
7061 ii. Loring Esek Hawkins was born on 28 Mar 1867 in New York.
7062 iii. Ida Hawkins was born in 1873 in New York.

4369. Jennie S. Kingsbury[693] (Loring-24, Benjamin-23, Abijah-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 20 Mar 1834 in Guilford, Windham, Vermont. She was adopted about 1849 in Guilford, Windham, Vermont. After the death of her mother in 1848, Jennie was adopted by her Uncle and Aunt, William G. and Martha Martin Cutting. She died in 1911.

Jennie S. Kingsbury and Luther Wells Badger were married on 30 Sep 1857 in New York. Luther Wells Badger was born on 22 Feb 1822 in Harpursville, Broome, New York. He died on 4 Oct 1899. Jennie S. Kingsbury and Luther Wells Badger had the following children:

7063 i. Martha Badger was born about 1864.
+7064 ii. Howard Kingsbury Badger (born on 27 Mar 1870).
7065 iii. George Kennedy Badger was born on 18 Oct 1876. He died in Dec 1962.

4382. Willard Belmont Kingsbury (Benjamin-24, Benjamin-23, Abijah-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1833 in New York. He was living in 1860 in Crawford County, Pennsylvania.[694] He served in the military about 1864 in Civil War. Apparently Willard Kingsbury served for a short time as a physician and lost one arm during the war. He was living in 1870 in San Pablo, Contra Costa, California.[695] He died about 1876 in San Pablo, Contra Costa, California.[696,697] The loss of his arm must have devastated Dr. Kingsbury because after the war he left his family and spent short periods in New York State and Southern Michigan before settling in California. Here he seems to have turned his attention to education.

Willard Belmont Kingsbury and Mary Etta Winger were married about 1857 in Crawford County, Pennsylvania. Mary Etta Winger was born in May 1836 in Crawford County, Pennsylvania. She died on 24 Jul 1868 in Crawford County, Pennsylvania. Mary died of consumption. Willard Belmont Kingsbury and Mary Etta Winger had the following children:

+7067 i. Byron (Bion) Kingsbury (born on 15 Oct 1861).
+7068 ii. Martha (Mattie) Kingsbury (born in 1864).

Willard Belmont Kingsbury and Helen Shuler Delamater were married about 1866 in New York. Helen Shuler Delamater was born about 1847 in New York. She was living about 1885 in San Francisco, San Francisco, California. About this time Helen Kingsbury moved with her children to San Francisco. Apparently Helen worked as a school teacher and became Dean of Women at The College of the Pacific in California. Helen was a very talented artist and has several of her paintings on display in California. Willard Belmont Kingsbury and Helen Shuler Delamater had the following children:

+7069 i. Willard DeLamater Kingsbury (born on 18 Dec 1868).

7070 ii. Susan Myra Kingsbury[698] was born on 18 Oct 1870 in San Pablo, Contra Costa, California. She graduated from College of the Pacific Phi Beta Kappa with B.A. Degree about 1894 in California She graduated from Leland Stanford College with M.A. Degree in 1899 She graduated from Columbia University with Ph.D. Degree in 1905 in New York, New York, New York She died on 28 Nov 1949 in Bryn Mawr, Allegheny, Pennsylvania. Susan Kingsbury completed her undergraduate work at The College of the Pacific where her mother served as Dean of Women. Susan then went on to do graduate work at Stanford University and Columbia University. After she completed some research in England, she became an instructor at Vassar College and taught at Simmons College. Dr. Kingsbury served on several boards, was involved in research projects in Soviet Russia, and was commissioned by the US Congress to compile the Records of the Virginia Company. She finally ended up as a professor at Bryn Mawr College.

4387. Mary Eliza Kingsbury (Chamberlain Joseph-24, Benjamin-23, Abijah-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 5 Dec 1840 in Vermont.[699] She was living in 1901 in Clarendon, Frontenac, Ontario, Canada. She died on 21 Jan 1914 in Inwood, Manitoba, Canada. Died from the flu while visiting some of her children. She was buried in Union Prairie Cemetery about 25 Jan 1914 in Inwood, Manitoba, Canada.

Mary Eliza Kingsbury and Timothy Pringle Hicks were married on 18 May 1864 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.[700] Family tradition quotes Timothy as saying that he often visited the Kingsbury home and would dandle Mary on his knee. He waited for her to grow up and then he married her. Timothy Pringle Hicks (son of Joseph Hicks and Mary) was born on 8 Oct 1831 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada. He died on 26 Feb 1902 in Clarendon, Frontenac, Ontario, Canada.[701] Apparently Timothy fell and hit his head on a mining bucket at their farm near Fernlie, Ontario. He was buried in Holy Trinity Anglican Church Cemetery about 2 Mar 1902 in Clarendon, Frontenac, Ontario, Canada. Mary Eliza Kingsbury and Timothy Pringle Hicks had the following children:

7071 i. Eldon Hicks was born about 1865 in Madoc, Hastings, Ontario, Canada. He died in 1954 in Rochester, Monroe, New York.
+7072 ii. Lois Adeline Hicks (born on 16 Jan 1867).
7073 iii. Sarah Annetta Hicks was born about 1870 in Madoc, Hastings, Ontario, Canada.
7074 iv. William George Hicks was born on 30 Sep 1872 in Madoc, Hastings, Ontario, Canada.
7075 v. Joseph Chamberlain Hicks was born on 16 Aug 1873 in Madoc, Hastings, Ontario, Canada.
+7076 vi. Elizabeth Victoria Hicks (born on 26 Aug 1876).
7077 vii. Ida Grace Hicks was born on 27 Sep 1878 in Madoc, Hastings, Ontario, Canada.
7078 viii. Philip Thomas Hicks was born on 17 Mar 1882 in Clarendon, Frontenac, Ontario, Canada.

4389. Jenny Lind (Jane) Kingsbury[702] (Chamberlain Joseph-24, Benjamin-23, Abijah-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1849 in Canada. She moved to Arrowhead, British Columbia, Canada about 1903.[703]

Jenny Lind (Jane) Kingsbury and Henry Kirk were married on 24 Sep 1874 in Madoc, Hastings, Ontario, Canada.[704] Henry Kirk (son of Henry Kirk and Jane) was born about 1854 in Scotland. Jenny Lind (Jane) Kingsbury and Henry Kirk had the following children:

7082 i. Charles Kirk was born about 1875 in Hillier, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7083 ii. George M. Kirk was born about 1877 in Hillier, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7084 iii. Bertha J. Kirk was born about 1879 in Hillier, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7085 iv. Mary A. Kirk was born on 2 Feb 1881 in Hillier, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7086 v. Eva Elme Kirk was born on 1 Sep 1883 in Hillier, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7087 vi. Frederick Kirk was born on 8 Nov 1888 in Trenton, Hastings, Ontario, Canada.

4390. Rosetta Kingsbury[705] (Chamberlain Joseph-24, Benjamin-23, Abijah-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1851 in Ameliasburg, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.

Rosetta Kingsbury and William H. Van Cleaf were married on 6 Jul 1868 in Hillier, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.[706,707] William H. Van Cleaf[708] (son of Joseph Van Cleaf and Sarah A.) was born about 1839 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada. He was living in 1891 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada. Rosetta Kingsbury and William H. Van Cleaf had the following children:

7088 i. Sarah Eliza Van Cleaf was born about Aug 1866 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada. She died on 14 Oct 1871 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7089 ii. Maud Lucinda Van Cleaf was born about 1872 in Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.
7090 iii. George William Van Cleaf was born about 1876 in Canada.
7091 iv. Lillie May Van Cleaf was born about 1879 in Canada.
7092 v. Clayton Wesley Van Cleaf was born about 1882 in Canada.
7093 vi. Archie Clinton Van Cleaf was born on 10 Dec 1855 in Chatham, Kent, Ontario, Canada.
7094 vii. Russell Morton Van Cleaf was born about 1890 in Canada.

4394. Stanford A. Kingsbury[709] (Aden-24, Benjamin-23, Abijah-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 31 Dec 1832 in Saint Lawrence County, New York.[710][711] He was living on 4 Sep 1850 in Cleveland, Cuyahoga, Ohio.[712] He was living on 7 Jul 1860 in Adrian, Lenawee, Michigan.[713],[714] He died on 28 Nov 1890 in Adrian, Lenawee, Michigan.[715] The cause of death for Stanford is given as consumption. There was no obituary in the paper for Stanford, but it is interesting to note that the lead story for Nov. 29, 1890 dealt with the "Indian Orgies"; there were reports of a battle with the Reds (Indians) in Montana, but this was discredited by the Army Headquarters. Buffalo Bill was to use his influence with Sitting Bull and the Sioux "Cutthroats" to prevent hostilities. Adrian Daily Times, 29 Nov. 1890 He was buried on 1 Dec 1890 in Adrian, Lenawee, Michigan.[716],[717] It must be noted as possibly significant that there was never any grave marker of any kind for Stanford and apparently his wife was not buried with him. This is especially significant since he and at least one son worked as stone cutters and carved grave stones among other things for a living. Based upon certain census records and the family tradition of members of the family living in Michigan in 2003, the assumption is made that Stanford is the son of Aden and Lydia (Olmstead) Kingsbury and was born somewhere in the state of New York. The problem is that we do not have any census records showing the family together in the same household. The lack of any reference to Stanford's parents in any records in Adrian, Michigan (including his death certificate) seems strange especially if it is true that his parents lived in Michigan as well. It would seem that the children of Stanford would know the name of their grandparents, but the fact that they did not enter the names for the death records makes one wonder.

Notes on Adrian, Michigan: The population for the entire state in 1830 was only 31.6 M and by 1840 it had increased by almost 7 times to 212M. The population doubled by 1850 and doubled again by 1860, and then settled into a steady increase. The population of Lenawee County in 1830 was only 1491 and Adrian (then known as part of Logan) with only 500 people. By 1894 the population of Adrian had grown to 9,511. "Lenawee County was created 10 Sept. 1822 from Monroe County, including a portion claimed by Ohio. On 31 DEC. 1826, the county was organized with its seat established at Tecumseh. When Michigan became a state in 1837, the boundary dispute was settled in favor of Ohio. In 1838 the seat was changed to Adrian (49221)." MICHIGAN GENEALOGY by Carol McGinnis, pg. 17.

[710] Cemetery Records. Cemetery Records give his age at death as 57 years, 10 months, and 28 days.

[711] Federal or State Census. 1830 Census records shows Aden Kingsbury living with his father in Saint Lawrence County, NY which is very near the Canadian border.

[712] Ibid., Per roll #672, page 317R, dwelling 2620, family 2844 Stanford and his 6 younger siblings were living in the household of Ira and Harmony Bristol. Stanford was age 17 and listed as a farmer. Aden and Lydia Kingsbury lived elsewhere in Cleveland.
Ira C. Bristol (b. 28 April, 1818) mrd Harmony B. Janes 15 August, 1842 (b. 1825 & d. 15 January, 1919).

[713] Ibid., Stanford is listed as single and gives his age as 23, which would make his year of birth 1837 (not 1832 as the death certificate indicates). He gives his occupation as that of a stone cutter and Ohio as his place of birth. This would indicated that he may have lived for a time in Ohio. His death certificate gives NY as his state of birth and this seems the more probable.
In 1882 Adrian City Directory Stanford is listed as a stone cutter living at 24 North McKenzie Street with Butler D. Kingsbury (a clerk) and William Kingsbury (granite polisher). Lovisa Kingsbury is not mentioned, but it seems the wife is often not included in the Adrian Directory.
In the 1890 Adrian City Directory Stanford is listed as a Granite Cutter working at Harrison & Sons, Adrian Steam Granite Works, 79-81 Maumee Street. A picture of the company shows a very impressive building for the period. Stanford is listed as living at both 115 Dennis Avenue and 44 East Beecher Street. Perhaps he was in the process.

[714] Ibid., Stanford was living in the home of Henry and Mary Clement. Henry Clement (age 33) was a carpenter from New York.

7157 ii. Charles H. Kingsbury was born on 3 Jan 1866 in Benton, Franklin, Illinois. He died on 10 Nov 1899 in Harris, Anderson, Kansas.[736] A direct quote:

> About October 1st, John Kingsbury stopped in Fredonia with his family, in destitute circumstances and ill.. Typhoid fever developed and in a few days his condition became very grave. A telegram was sent to his brother, Charles Kingsbury, a farmer near Garnett, who responded in person at once, arriving here Saturday morning, October 7th, 1899. During the four weeks that Charles Kingsbury remained in Fredonia the limited number of persons who formed his acquaintance found him a very plain and unassuming, but earnest and pleasant man. But in the poor home he came to visit he wrought a complete transformation. Furniture, bedding, clothing and groceries were provided, and many comforts for the ill brother and his wife and three small boys. And night after night and every day with unremitting care and tenderness the brotherly ministrations were continued until convalesce came. Then after clothing his two older nephews with new suits, Charles carried them home with him to put them in school in Anderson County. Two weeks later he died at his home of typhoid fever. Literally he died that his brother might live, for it is believed that no ordinary care could have saved his brother's life. Charles Kingsbury was a strong, hopeful, courageous, gentle man, and not only the brother whose life he was instrumental in prolonging but the whole world is debtor to such a man.

He moved to Benton County, Iowa about 1853. John moved to Benton County, Iowa with his mother and step-father. Here he received his early education in an old log school house. He served in the military on 9 Aug 1862 in Civil War. John served in Company D, 31st Regiment, Iowa Volunteer Army. He served for three years on the front lines. As an honored veteran of the Union Army, John Kingsbury was given some very liberal advantages in the purchase of land and became one of the very first settlers of Shelby County in Iowa. When the Kingsbury family moved to the area it was little more than open prairie. He moved to Defiance, Shelby, Iowa about 1884. John gave up farming when they moved to Defiance and he became the Marshall for the area and served as Justice of the Peace. John and Rebecca both joined the local Latter Day Saints Church (Mormon). He died on 27 Mar 1926 in Defiance, Shelby, Iowa. He was buried in Union Township Cemetery about 2 Apr 1926 in Defiance, Shelby, Iowa. For most of his life John Kingsbury worked as a farmer. There were a couple of periods when he attempted to work as a butcher and then as an agent in the "transfer business", but he always returned to the farming business. He prided himself as a Republican who voted for Ulysses S. Grant in 1868. John was active in the political development on the area serving at times as Township Assessor and as Justice of the Peace. They family was also very devout members of the Church of Latter Day Saints (Mormon). Over the years the family witnessed the rise of the community of Defiance around them.

John A. Kingsbury and Rebecca Almeta Hogshire were married on 24 Aug 1865 in Vinton, Benton, Iowa. Rebecca Almeta Hogshire[748] (daughter of Riley B. 4534. Lilburn Scotten Kingsbury (Horace-24, Jeremiah-23, Elijah Joseph-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 13 Dec 1838 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. He died on 11 May 1877 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. Lilburn Kingsbury set out with his brother, Adkinson W. "Ike" Kingsbury, for the west and the prospects of a richer life. They set out with Ox and wagon and in Omaha, Nebraska they were joined by about 70 other wagons all bound for various western states. The caravan was stopped at Laramie, Wyoming by the U. S. Army because of the danger from Indians on the warpath in the area. Once things quieted down a little the brothers once again set off and finally made it to Jefferson City, Montana in the Rocky Mountains between the present Butte and Helena. They wintered in Jefferson City and in the spring of 1865 Lilburn established a ranch at the fork of Prickly Pear River and Ten Mile Creek just southeast of the town. The brothers tried to establish a farm here, but the expenses were very high and the land very unforgiving. Their experience at farming from Missouri did not work well in the "Big Sky" land of Montana. Lilburn gave up and moved back to Missouri where he once again took up farming. This time he was more successful and remained a farmer in Missouri the rest of his life. He may have held some interest in his family history which was ultimately passed down to the next generation.

Lilburn Scotten Kingsbury and Minerva Ellen Smith were married on 20 Feb 1861 in Missouri. Minerva Ellen Smith was born on 23 Feb 1842. She died on 13 Mar 1919 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. Lilburn Scotten Kingsbury and Minerva Ellen Smith had the following children:

+7210 i. Ferdinand Davis Kingsbury (born on 3 Jan 1862).
+7211 ii. Alice Lillian Kingsbury (born on 22 Sep 1863).
7212 iii. Sarah Elizabeth Kingsbury was born on 9 Sep 1867 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. She died on 13 Dec 1940.
7213 iv. William Smith Kingsbury was born on 20 Sep 1869 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. He died on 10 May 1957 in Virgelle, Chouteau, Montana. It would appear that William Kingsbury worked with his uncle, A.W. Ike Kingsbury and also developed a ranch in the area of Fort Benton.
+7214 v. Ophelia Kingsbury (born on 28 Sep 1871).
7215 vi. Lilburn Kingsbury was born in 1873 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. He died on 6 Feb 1879 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. Lilburn died 4 days before the death of his sister, Roberta.
7216 vii. Roberta Kingsbury was born in Sep 1877 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. She died on 10 Feb 1879 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. Roberta was born after the death of her father and died 4 days after her brother, Lilburn.

4536. Adkinson Wallis (Ike) Kingsbury (Horace-24, Jeremiah-23, Elijah Joseph-22, Theodore-21, Josiah-20, Eleazar-19, Joseph-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 20 Oct 1842 in Estill, Howard, Missouri. He moved to Jefferson City, Jefferson, Montana on 9 May 1864. A.W. Kingsbury set out with his brother, Lilburn, for the west and the prospects of a richer life. They set out with Ox and wagon and in Omaha, Nebraska they were joined by about 70 other wagons all bound for various western states. They were stopped at Laramie, Wyoming by the U. S. Army because of the danger from Indians on the warpath in the area. Once things quieted down a little, the brothers once again set off and finally made it to Jefferson City, Montana in the Rocky Mountains between the present Butte and Helena. They wintered in Jefferson City and in the spring of 1865 Lilburn established a ranch at the fork of Prickly Pear River and Ten Mile Creek just southeast of the town. They tried to establish a farm here, but the expenses were very high and the land very unforgiving. Their experience at farming from Missouri did not work well in the "Big Sky" land of Montana. Lilburn gave up and moved back to Missouri, but Ike was not ready to leave Montana. By 1867 he also left his ranch and moved to Helena where he opened a livery stable.

The livery business was much more successful, but Ike had dreams of more. About 1871 he tried his hand at prospecting and placer mining in the Overland Gulch area, but with very little success. In 1872 Ike Kingsbury formed an alliance with Mr. Davenport and Mr. Ray that would alter his life, and Montana forever. William Harkness brought a herd of 1,800 sheep over the mountains from Oregon to Deer Lodge, Montana just west of Jefferson City. The three men purchased the sheep herd and moved them to the range on Boulder River in Jefferson County, Montana. That first year ranching was an extreme test of the mettle of the man and lesser men would have given up. Temperatures in the area sank to 50 degrees below zero and remained there for about three full weeks. Much of the flock was destroyed by the severe cold, but A. W. Kingsbury stuck with it. About 1875 they moved the herd to the range to the south and west of Fort Benton in Chouteau County near Shonkin and Highwood, Montana. The ranch soon became one of the largest ranches in the territory and beef cattle were soon introduced.

The Benton Record reported on February 6, 1876 the ranchers of Chouteau County were organized into 4 districts. District #4 was the Shonkin Stock Association and covered the area south and east of the Missouri River. Initially the motivation behind this organization was to pool their resources and join forces in the spring and in the fall for a roundup for the entire area. The Association built corrals for all the members of the group and the work and responsibilities were divided up among the various ranchers based upon the estimated number of livestock that they owned. With the era of the Gold Rush, the demand for cattle began to out weight the demand for sheep and large herds of cattle were brought into the range around Shonkin. Because of the rugged terrain and the harsh winters, many of the ranchers sought a more hearty bred of cattle. Joseph A. Baker brought in three Hereford bulls from Illinois while A. W. Kingsbury and John Lepley introduced the purebred Shorthorn cattle.

By the late 1870s it is noted in the records of the Association meetings that more and more of their attention was devoted to rustlers, Indians, and those who were starting range fires. Eventually they would hire "detectives" to seek out the outlaws and administer the punishment. It was a harsh land and demanded swift, harsh justice. Hangings were not uncommon.

The Benton Record notes that in 1880 there were a total of 50 registered "Brands" in Chouteau County and at least 14,000 head of cattle on the three major ranges of the area; Shonkin, Sun River, and Teton. Apparently during that one year an additional 20,000 head were brought in. Until now the Stockman's Association was rather loose knit, but with the size of the herds and the continuing problems the need for a strong organization became very clear. On August 27, 1881 the Shonkin District Stock Association became official. A. W. Kingsbury was an active part of the meeting in Fort Benton, but did not assume any office at this time. The first president was John Harris, John Lepley was elected Vice President, M. E. Milner of the Milner and Boardman Ranch was elected Secretary and continued as the driving force behind the Association, and the Treasurer was John H. Green. The Association decided to build small ranch building on Arrow Creek and Belt Creek and to support men at both locations to help protect all the cattle through the winter months.

The Kingsbury Ranch was on the Big Sag Range to the east and apparently they maintained the larger of the herds in the Association. According to the branding records about 27% of the calves born on the Shonkin Association Range in the year 1883 belonged to the Kingsbury Ranch. Until this time they would normally drive the cattle to docks on the Missouri River and load them on the steamboats. However, the railroad was beginning to change the way the cattle were shipped. The railroad allowed the ranches to ship to Chicago faster and with less strain on the cattle which in turn brought a much better price. And with the better price came the encouragement for the large Texas herds to come north and for the rustlers to increase their activities. By 1882 they had formed the Chouteau Livestock Company with A. W. Kingsbury as the general manager. Ike Kingsbury was a real leader now in the establishment of the most important industry of the west; Using the vast ranges of the west for ranching livestock. At his peak A. W. Kingsbury was running about 30,000 sheep and 5,000 head of cattle in the grazing land east of the Highland Mountains in 1908-1910.

The Kingsbury Ranch usually served as the starting point for the roundups and Ike became more and more influential in the Association. By 1883 he was elected Vice President with John Lepley as President. By 1886 he was elected as the President. Finally in 1892 A. W. Kingsbury helped form the Big Sag Land and Livestock Company and he served as the first president of the organization. The stock industry was now the backbone of Montana. But as always, times change. Around 1902 the land was being fenced up as the "Sod busters" moved in to claim their 320 acres for homesteading. Many of the ranchers began to move further north where the range was still open and some would even lease Reservation land from the Blackfeet Indians. The "wild west" of the cowboys and the cattle barons, which lasted about 30 years, was coming to an end. The last meeting of the Northern Montana Roundup Association was held in Fort Benton in April, 1913 with 2,400 in attendance. This was the last meeting of some great pioneers of Montana.

By 1890 A. W. Kingsbury had moved his ranch north of the Missouri River and about 1892 he called Great Falls, Montana his home. In Great Falls, Ike Kingsbury became a prominent leader making substantial contributions to the Grand Opera house, land for the Federal Building, and the Saint Ann Cathedral among others. He died on 10 Feb 1924 in Great Falls, Cascade, Montana.[749] He was buried in Great Falls Cemetery about 14 Oct 1925 in Great Falls, Cascade, Montana. He Inducted into the National Cowboy Hall of Fame on 25

She died on 16 Aug 1923 in Flint, Genesee, Michigan.[768] Jennie Hart was killed by her husband apparently in a jealous rage. Apparently Edward would often quarrel with his wife over her associations with others, even to the extent that he would become jealous when Jennie would socialize with other ladies during her lunch break at the Fisher Body Plant where they both were employed. It was during one such argument at the dinner table this evening when Edward pulled a gun and shot Jennie three times. Jennie apparently staggered to a balcony and fell over it to the porch below. She was dead upon impact. Edward then turned the gun on himself and died from a single gun shot.

There was some indication that Edward planned to kill his wife because of a note on his body asking that the company give all his money to his son. It was also learned that Edward used a fictitious name when he was employed at the Fisher Body Plant when he was employed and he intimated to others that this would make it easier to leave his wife and disappear.

Their 14 year old son, Eldon, was away from the house at the time of the shooting. He went to pick up the family car which had been stalled earlier on the road. When he arrived at the house the police were already there and they were removing the bodies. Royal Edwin Hart and Jane A. (Jennie) Wright had the following children:

He served in the military about 1862 in Civil War. Alonzo Kingsbury enlisted in Company C, 4th Iowa Cavalry at Fairbanks, Iowa. When he was discharged with his company in Atlanta, GA he came home on the horse that had served him so well. He moved to Edgerton, Pipestone, Minnesota in Apr 1877. When the family arrived in this area of Southwest Minnesota, it was still a wilderness. Major D. E. Runals, son of Mrs. Cassandra Kingsbury Runals, arrived about the same time along with a few other families. They immediately began to erect buildings. The petition for a Post Office was approved May 7, 1879 and the town site was surveyed in September 1879. Alonzo was appointed as the first Postmaster. The Southern Minnesota Railroad reached the town in December of the same year and the town was formally named Edgerton in honor of General Edgerton with whom Alonzo served during the Civil War. He moved to Vashon Island, King, Washington about 1883. In the early 1880s Alonzo made a trip to the Pacific Northwest territory and became excited about the opportunities around the Puget Sound area (Seattle, WA). He returned to Edgerton and moved his family to Vashon Island settling on an 80 acre tract of land. This came to be known as Kingsbury Landing. Kenneth was to have assumed control of a mine owned by the father of his friend, but it did not work out. Instead he found work at another mining company. He returned home to New Jersey late in the year upon word that his father was gravely ill.

Another friend helped Kenneth obtain as construction job with Southern Pipe Line Company, a division of Standard Oil. The pay was $60 per month. He was educated Columbia University; Education: Course in Mining Engineering in 1897 in New York, New York, New York. He moved to Chambersburg, Franklin, Pennsylvania on 27 Dec 1897. The construction job gave out after a little over a year and he was sent to Hancock, MD to work on the crew that had the very hard task of keeping 3 boilers up to steam pressure. He worked at this position all summer and then was transferred to Lancaster, PA as a gaugeron the construction crew. He worked at this position for 2 years and finally landed a position in the accounting department at Standard Oil Headquarters. However, the pay was only $50 per month. He moved to Hancock, Washington, Maryland in Jun 1899. Later in his life Kenneth confided that he was not very happy with all the hard menial work he had to do, but he recognized that many in the oil industry were against those with a college education. He was determined to succeed with Standard Oil if at all possible and later had the opportunity to enter the sales force in Reading, PA. Once again he had to prove himself and he really began to make a name for himself. He moved to California in 1911. When J.A. Moffett became president of the fledgling Standard Oil of California he immediately requested Ken Kingsbury as his assistant. Ken again proved his worth and soon became the youngest man elected as president. In 1919 he was in California. The growth of the company during his presidency was phenomenal. The net earning grew from $3.2 million to $42.8 million in 1923 and the number of employees tripled during the same period.

Elvera Annie Tricker and Thomas R. Holland were married. Thomas R. Holland was born on 21 Dec 1900. Elvera Annie Tricker and Thomas R. Holland had the following children:

+7825 i. Elvera Elizabeth Holland (born on 16 Feb 1934).
+7826 ii. David Selwood Holland.

5247. Oliver Walter Kingsbury Grimwood (Clarissa Mary Kingsbury-24, Walter Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born date unknown.

Oliver Walter Kingsbury Grimwood and Queenie were married. Queenie was born date unknown. Oliver Walter Kingsbury Grimwood and Queenie had the following children:

7827 i. Angela Grimwood was born in Dec 1950.
7828 ii. Peter Grimwood was born date unknown.

5248. Walter Roger Kingsbury (Walter Bloss-24, Walter Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 27 Oct 1920 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He died on 30 Mar 1997 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.

Walter Roger Kingsbury and Eileen Skym were married about 1945. Eileen Skym was born date unknown. Walter Roger Kingsbury and Eileen Skym had the following children:

5249. Alfred John (Jack) Kingsbury (Walter Bloss-24, Walter Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 10 Dec 1921 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. About 1955 Jack Kingsbury left the family business and with his wife, May Kingsbury, they purchased the Priory Farm which is about 3 miles north of Boxford. The property dates back to the 1500s and most likely was in fact a priory at one time. As mentioned earlier these monasteries were at the center of the Wool/textile industry that actually made Suffolk the strong economic center of the day. Jack told me of a ditch that he discovered surrounding the buildings and may have been a moat at one time.

There is a beautiful pond in front of the home and Jack told me that there are some nice fish in it. The house was built with the large beams typical of the area and the wood today is almost petrified. In America we have imitated this style in what we refer to as the Tudor Style of architecture. The primary difference is that in Suffolk the beams are the real thing and the homes were built to last for centuries. The walls were constructed with lath and plaster and Jack had opened a small area in one wall to see the construction. He said that this wood was still very supple even though it was centuries old. There were some obvious signs that the house has settled, but because of the unique construction methods employed back then the building is still very sound to this day. Jack and May have approximately 100 acres on their farm and allow a few campers to use one field to park their travel trailers. Over the years Jack has nurtured his hobby of collecting and reconditioning old clocks and has a very fine collection scattered throughout his home. They certainly add to the charm of the home. Today Jack and May open part of their farm up for campers and have a nice quiet area where about 6 trailers can camp. On this farm however, one will wake up in the morning to the call of the peacocks that populate the farm rather than the traditional crowing of the rooster. And although I did not see one on my visit, Jack told me that they have several deer around and that some of them love to use his barns for shelter quite often; especially an old stag that has made a name for himself.

Alfred John (Jack) Kingsbury and May Waller were married about 1947 in England. May Waller (daughter of Unknown) was born in 1921 in England. While I was in England (May, 2001) May's sister Mable was visiting them and we had a grand time together. The first thing one notices about these sisters is how open and friendly they are. Alfred John (Jack) Kingsbury and May Waller had the following children:

+7832 ii. Janet Kingsbury (born in Mar 1953).
+7833 iii. Diane Kingsbury (born in 1955).

5250. Phillip Bloss Kingsbury (Walter Bloss-24, Walter Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 3 Sep 1923 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He died in Sep 2003 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. Philip struggled and lost in his battle with cancer. The first records we have of the Kingsbury Building industry is the reference by the church warden of Saint Mary's Church in Boxford in 1540 that a Kingsbury completed some carpentry work on the church in that year. Records show that the Kingsbury family continued to be involved as great brick layers and builders in Boxford until the doors were finally closed in 1984, some 444 years. We are told that it is recorded in the history books of England that the Kingsbury Builders were the longest running business of it's kind in the history of England. It seems a shame that this great history should come to an end, but when the time came for Philip Kingsbury to retire in 1984 there apparently was no one in the family that was willing and able to take over, so the doors were closed. Jack Kingsbury, one of the brothers who apparently was involved in the family business at an early age, told me that the company at one time employed up to about 165 people (which was a substantial percentage of the employable men in the village) and it was assumed that if you were a young man seeking employment from Boxford your choices amounted to either working on a local farm or working for the Kingsbury family. So one can safely say that the Kingsbury name is well recognized in Boxford. There are obvious signs that the family always kept strong ties to Saint Mary's Church in Boxford in spite of any religious differences that sprang up during the 1630s when the puritan movement served as a major impetus for the voyage of our ancestors to America. There is a memorial plaque on the choir pew that speaks of "Walter Bloss Kingsbury" who "was a lifelong member of this church and in conjunction with the late Charles Kimball carried out its careful restoration in 1887". This would be the grandfather of Philip, Jack, and Robert Kingsbury that I was able to visit with in Boxford during my trip. This would also be the W. B. Kingsbury who founded the offices of W. B. Kingsbury and Sons in Boxford during the zenith of the Kingsbury Building firm.

Philip and Jean Kingsbury are presently retired and living just to the southeast of Boxford in a very nice home set in the beautiful Suffolk countryside. They have a very comfortable sun porch that Philip built on the back of their home which is nestled on a slight hilltop overlooking some lush farm land. While I was there we could watch the sheep grazing in a nearby pasture, squirrels scampering across the lawn, and several very colorful birds providing the soothing music from the symphony that God himself provides. We had a great visit with Jack and May Kingsbury joining us for dinner. And I must add that Jean provided a meal fit for any royalty. I can not say often enough how thankful I am for how open and friendly everyone was to me during my visit. It made it very hard for me to leave. While I was visiting in their home Philip pointed out a needlepoint that he had hanging on the wall. It was simply signed "Sarah Kingsbury - Lavenham, Suffolk - 1789". Interestingly I was able to locate a Sarah Kingsbury that came from Great Waldingfield and lived in Lavenham during this period and may have been the author. And, naturally, since Philip is a retired builder he had to have a very old "church Door" hung in his home, but we will not comment here about the choice of where he hung the door. Let us just say that the Kingsbury humor is still intact.

Phillip Bloss Kingsbury and Jean M. Bates were married about 1949 in England. Jean M. Bates was born about 1927. Phillip Bloss Kingsbury and Jean M. Bates had the following children:

+7834 i. Ann Vanessa Kingsbury (born on 17 Dec 1951).
+7835 ii. Duncan Philip Bloss Kingsbury (born on 15 May 1953).

5251. Dorothy Mabel Kingsbury (Walter Bloss-24, Walter Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 21 Sep 1925 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.

Dorothy Mabel Kingsbury and Peter Johnstone were married about 1949. Peter Johnstone was born in 1919. Dorothy Mabel Kingsbury and Peter Johnstone had the following children:

+7837 i. Sally Johnstone (born on 19 May 1952).
7838 ii. Robert Johnstone was born in 1955.
7839 iii. Duncan Johnstone was born in 1962.

5252. Robert Bloss Kingsbury (Walter Bloss-24, Walter Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born about 1927 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. He died about Jan 2003 in Boxford, Suffolk, England. Robert Kingsbury decided to work for a dairy operating in Boxford since the Kingsbury Building Company apparently was not able to support three families at the time. The owner of the dairy was soon in financial trouble and about to loose the business when one of the vendors asked Bob if he would be willing to take over the business if the vendor would back him financially. Bob finally agreed and was originally given five years to clear the debt. Ultimately this proved to be an impossible time frame and Bob re-negotiated for an additional two years. It was very hard work, long hours, and seven days per week, but he was successful and built the Kingsbury Dairy of Boxford into a profitable business.

The dairy came with a little land, some buildings used for the dairy business, and a house that Bob tells me was in a state of ruin when they first started. He did not know exactly how old the home was, but it was obviously centuries old as attested to by the Tudor style and the petrified nature of the old beams in the house. But when I visited in May, 2001 Bob and Joan had retired from their dairy business and had modernized the home into a very comfortable dwelling. The china figurine collection that Ida has accumulated gave the home that special "English Charm" look. And the large floral garden behind the house was one of the most spectacular that I have ever seen.

Robert Bloss Kingsbury and Joan were married about 1955 in England. Joan was born about 1932.

5253. Basil Crane (Florence Grace Kingsbury-24, Robert Bloss-23, Walter Robert-22, Robert Blois-21, Roger-20, Roger-19, Henry-18, John-17, Edwardstone Connection-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 10 Jun 1910 in Boxford, Suffolk, England.

7982 i. James Madison Kingsbury[836] was born in 1831 in Madison, Lake, Ohio. In 1848 James Kingsbury became a sailor aboard a whaling vessel and at some point they became stranded because of a storm off the coast of Mexico. James apparently had some trouble with the ship's mate and jumped overboard to avoid the problem. He was picked up by a young Mexican girl that sold fruit to the ship and she hid him in her boat. Once they reached the shore she brought James to her father's ranch where he accepted work.

When the gold fever hit California, James left the ranch with two of the sons of his employer and they apparently were quite successful in the gold fields. Eventually James returned to the ranch with enough money that he could make loans to the ranch owner. When the owner died, the children were not able to pay off the mortgage and James assumed ownership of the ranch. It was about this time that he changed his name to Don M. Jerez. During the Maximillian War in Mexico, James (or Don Jerez) raised a regiment and served as the Colonel during the war. After the war he returned to the ranch only to find it stripped. While in San Francisco to purchase new stock for the ranch, he overheard some men talking about Ohio and apparently learned the whereabouts of his family. He made a special trip to Milwaukee, Wisconsin and met two of his sisters. Lucy, who was a widow at this time, decided to return to Mexico with her brother.

7983 ii. Diantha Kingsbury was born in 1832 in Madison, Lake, Ohio.

Canada.[842] Edward cut his foot with an axe while he was clearing his land. Blood poison set in and he later died from it. He was buried in Killean Presbyterian Cemetery about 17 Jun 1855 in Puslinch, Wellington, Ontario, Canada.[843] Edward is often referred to as the ancestor of the English speaking Protestant Canadian line of the Kingsbury family.

Edward Kingsbury and Catherine Cochrane were married in 1838 in Saratoga Springs, Saratoga, New York. Edward and Catherine operated a store in Kingston, New York. Catherine had several brothers that settled in Galt, Canada and they finally encouraged Edward to move up there. Catherine Cochrane was born on 1 May 1822 in Kyntire, Argyleshire, Scotland. She emigrated in 1836 from Canada. She died on 11 Jan 1912 in Nassagaweya, Halton, Ontario, Canada. Edward Kingsbury and Catherine Cochrane had the following children:

Montgomery, Maryland.[854] He was buried in Saint Mary's Catholic Church Cemetery about 4 Feb 1885 in Barnesville, Montgomery, Maryland. In 1850 the couple were living in a residence next to the Smith Farm on Peachtree Road. According to all the census reports from 1850 through 1880, William Kingsbury was listed as a farmer. However, he apparently also worked on the railroad for a period and by 1880 was the Deputy Sheriff of Rockville and Warden of the Montgomery County Jail. And interesting story about his duties as Deputy Sheriff includes the responsibility of lighting the gas street lights of Rockville every evening.

Apparently he developed meningitis from an old ear infection.

Oscar quickly began to excel in the study of the classics and in painting and by 1871 was awarded the Royal School Scholarship to attend Trinity College in Dublin, Ireland. He continued to excel and by 1874 won the Berkley Gold Medal for Greek and was awarded a Demyship scholarship to Magdalen College of Oxford.

He began to publish his poetry and won acclaim for Ravenna. In December of 1881 he sailed to New York where he produced his play, Vera, went on a national lecture tour, and met some of the most notable poets of the day including Henry Longfellow, Oliver Wendell Holmes, and Walt Whitman. After his year of lecturing in America, he began another year of lectures in Britain and Ireland.

After his marriage and the birth of his children, he began work for The Women's World magazine (1887-1889) and during this period wrote some of his best works. He published The Happy Prince and Other Tales in 1888, The House of Pomegranates in 1892, and his first novel (The Picture of Dorian Gray) in 1890. He then began to write plays with Lady Windermere's Fan in 1892, A Woman of No Importance in 1893, An Ideal Husband in 1895, and The Importance of Being Earnest also in 1895.

In the summer of 1891 he met Lord Alfred Boise Douglas, the third son of the Marquis of Queensberry and they became lovers. He was arrested in 1895 and tried to sue Boise's father for libel because the Marquis accused him of homosexuality. He dropped the case, but was convicted of gross indecency and imprisoned for two years.

He was baptized in Church of England on 6 Feb 1840 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada He served in the military in 1864 in Fenian Raid in Canada. Josiah Kingsbury was also given a land grant in Ontario by Queen Victoria for his service during the Fenian Invasion (1864 - 1867). He served with a local Hemmingford Battalion of enlisted militia at Clifton, Niagara Falls in what was called the Trent Affair. This crisis was caused when a US Navy warship stopped a British vessel in international waters to capture two Confederate ambassadors sailing on her. The British were outraged at having one of their ships stopped and boarded by a foreign power in international waters. A war was nearly started between Great Britain and the United States, but was averted when the United States released the prisoners.

Josiah apparently moved west to Michigan at some point after the war and later settled in Kansas. He moved to Almena, Van Buren, Michigan about 1866. Josiah and Mary settled in Almena just 5 miles from Pawpaw. Mary's parents had already moved on to Kansas in 1858, but Mary still had several cousins living in this area of Michigan, many of them named Brewer. After the death of their first child, Josiah moved into Paw Paw, Michigan and operated a milk business. He moved to Parkerville, Morris, Kansas in 1885. He died on 19 Jan 1915 in Parkerville, Morris, Kansas. He was buried in Sunset Hill Cemetery about 23 Jan 1915 in Herington, Dickinson, Kansas.

Josiah Clayton Kingsbury and Mary Elizabeth Fall were married on 23 Apr 1865 in Clifton, Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada. They met while Mary was working for a family named Johnson in the area. Mary Elizabeth Fall was born about 1840 in Ann Arbor, Washtenaw, Michigan. She died on 13 Jun 1929 in Herington, Dickinson, Kansas. Mary was living with her son, Victor, at the time of her death. She was buried in Sunset Hill Cemetery about 17 Jun 1929 in Herington, Dickinson, Kansas. Josiah Clayton Kingsbury and Mary Elizabeth Fall had the following children:

8178 i. Victoria Maud Kingsbury was born in Jul 1869 in Almena, Van Buren, Michigan. She died in Mar 1871 in Almena, Van Buren, Michigan.
+8179 ii. Victor Kingsbury (born on 25 Nov 1872).

5412. William Clayton Kingsbury (Isaac-25, George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 28 Apr 1839 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. He was baptized in Church of England on 6 Feb 1840 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada He served in the military in 1864 in Fenian Raid in Canada.[873,874] William Kingsbury was granted a quarter section of land in the Porcupine River area near Timmons, Ontario, Canada (160 acres) for his service during the Fenian Invasion of Canada by American Irishmen (1866 - 1867).

The Insurrection in Ireland in 1848 was quickly and overwhelmingly suppressed be the British and many of the Irish leaders were scattered all over the world. Several ended up in America and they began to form their own groups for the purpose of eventually defeating the British. This is where the Fenian Brotherhood was formed. The name came from Keating's History of Ireland in which Fiona Mac Cumhail became the commander of the Fianna. This was supposedly a militia of noble men-at-arms that sprung up from the earth of Ireland to defend her in a time of peril. John O'Mahony, one of the Irish leaders exiled in America saw the group that her was forming as the Fenian Brotherhood.

In the pre Civil War America, this group was granted an unusually status in the country and recognized almost as a separate country. They created their own army and held their own political organizations. By early 1860 John O'Mahony met with James Stephens in Dublin to make some final plans to provide an army that could fight in Ireland, but the Civil War broke out before his return to New York. The war ended up serving as a training ground for the Irish army and by the end of the Civil War in 1865 there were several well trained and seasoned Irish regiments.

There was a split in the Brotherhood in America after the war between the followers of O'Mahony and William Randall Roberts. Roberts wanted to attack the British by an invasion of Canada (known at this time as British North America) and O'Mahony still wanted the fight to be in Ireland. Roberts gained his way and a force made their way up the Niagara River through Buffalo, New York into Canada. The idea was to gain a foothold on the Saint Lawrence River and then attack the British ships as they tried to navigate the river. The Battle of Ridgeway on June 1-3, 1866 was the beginning of Fenian Invasion and was initially a success for the Fenian Brotherhood. However, eventually the British forces were successful in pushing the Irish back out of Canada the following year.

In a letter written later by William he recounts how he and his brother, Josiah Kingsbury, both responded to the first call to arms in 1864 and spent 4-5 months at Clifton, Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada in the defense of their country. The brothers remained active in the local militia during 1865-1866 and then answered the call again when the Fenian Invasion became imminent in the Spring of 1866. However, the local commander wanted William to go to the Military School in Montreal to become an officer which he did, but then when it was discovered that the Fenians were about to cross the Saint Lawrence near Hemmingford he requested to be allowed to return to his home and fight. Upon his return he discovered that his brother, Isaac had taken his uniform and rifle to join the fight already so William had to obtain new gear. He moved to Leominster, Worcester, Massachusetts about 1867. Apparently there was some ongoing tension with his family in Hemmingford, so when William heard of a job as an overseer on an estate in Massachusetts he applied for the position and received the job. Apparently he met his future bride at some point during this period. He moved to Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada in Jan 1869. He died on 17 Mar 1918 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. He was buried in Old Roxam Cemetery about 21 Mar 1918 in Roxham, Quebec, Canada.

William Clayton Kingsbury and Elizabeth Annie Mc Connell were married on 9 Jul 1868 in Watertown, Jefferson, New York. Elizabeth Annie Mc Connell (daughter of John Mc Connell and Elizabeth Mary Robinson) was born on 19 Feb 1843 in Montreal, Ile de Montreal, Quebec, Canada. She moved to Watertown, Jefferson, New York in 1849. She died about 10 Jul 1870 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. She was buried in North Watertown Cemetery about 15 Jul 1870 in Watertown, Jefferson, New York. Elizabeth McConnell Kingsbury made it a point to care for her father after the death of her mother in 1858 until her marriage to William. Within two weeks of her marriage she traveled with her husband north through Champlain, then through Rouse's Point and down to Greenfield, Massachusetts on the B&M Railroad and finally on to East Leominster, Massachusetts. William Clayton Kingsbury and Elizabeth Annie Mc Connell had the following children:

+8180 i. Herbert Clayton William Kingsbury (born on 29 Mar 1870).

+8227 i. George Tonner.
+8228 ii. Gertrude Tonner.

5427. Albert Henry Kingsbury (George-25, George-24, Issac-23, Ancestor-22, 1670-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born in 1856 in Hemmingford, Beauharbois, Quebec, Canada. He died in 1916 in Auburn, Walsh, North Dakota. Albert "Henry" Kingsbury was killed when his winter coat got caught in some machinery. In the 1850s, William Wallace Kingsbury from Towanda, PA settled in the Minnesota-Dakota Territory and was very instrumental in getting the state of Minnesota accepted to the union on May 11, 1858. During this same period George Washington Kingsbury from Lee, New York was very active in the Dakota Territory. He served in the Dakota Militia during the Indian Wars, published two well read newspapers, and served with distinction in the Dakota State politics. Today a prominent county in South Dakota is named Kingsbury County in honor of G.W.

It was into this virgin territory that Albert Henry Kingsbury (better known as Henry) first settled on the timberland of Farmington Township. Henry then sold his original homestead to Edward Jaster (possibly related to Wilhelmina) and purchased 2 sections of land just west of Auburn, ND. (a section of land is one square mile or 640 acres). After he built their home he purchased another section of land from Hugh Ledwig (the brother of his two sisters-in-law) and then purchased two more sections for a combined total of 3,200 acres of land.

As soon as his sons were of age to operate the farm, Henry organized and operated the Farmers Grain Elevator in Auburn. He was working at the Farmers Elevator one day when his winter coat got caught in the machinery pulling him in and killing him.

Albert Henry Kingsbury and Wilhelmina Jaster were married in 1882 in Dakota Territory. Wilhelmina Jaster was born about 1863 in Germany. She died in 1941 in Grafton, Walsh, North Dakota. The Jaster family emigrated to America when Wilhemina was only 3 years old. They settled near Rochester, Minnesota, but one year they suffered a disaster when chinch bugs destroyed much of the vegetation. This force the family to move to the Dakota Territory. Albert Henry Kingsbury and Wilhelmina Jaster had the following children:

5493. John (Brazebridge) Bracebridge[881] (Samuel-25, John-24, John-23, Robert-22, Unknown-21, 1630-20, 1600-19, 1570-18, 1530-17, 1500-16, 1470-15, 1430-14, 1400-13, 1370-12, 1330-11, 1300-10, 1250-9, 1200-8, 1170-7, 1135-6, 1100-5, 1070-4, 1035-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 31 Mar 1816 in Emneth, Norfolk, England. He served in the military from 8 Oct 1836 to 28 Mar 1858 in Grenadier Guards.[882] John enlisted as a private in the Third Battalion of the Grenadier Guards in Kings Lynn on March 10, 1846 and would serve with distinction for 21 years. On March 11, 1846 he was promoted to the rank of Corporal and on June 11, 1850 he rose to the rank of Sergeant.

With the outbreak of the Crimean War in 1854, John Brazebridge is listed in the Muster Rolls of his group landing at Crimea with the "Army in the East". This war was unusually harsh on the British Foot Soldiers and John served for two years and six months in this campaign. By the end of the war in 1856 John had received the Crimean Medal with four clasps for the battles at Alma, Balaklava, Inkerman, and Sebastapol.

It is interesting to note that this was also the period when Florence Nightingale was doing her work with the troops and revolutionized medical science in her efforts. One of her dearest friends and supporters was Selina Bracebridge, the wife of Charles Holt Bracebridge of Atherstone. The Bracebridges were often with Ms Nightingale as she worked in the field and one can only wonder if they ever met John Brazebridge during one of these visits. We do not show any records of John receiving medical treatment, but the possibility still would exist.

John was promoted to the rank of Color Sergeant on October 10, 1855, but then on December 24, 1855 he was arrested for drunkenness and the resulting Court Martial reduced his rank back to that of a Private. However, he did continue to receive his pay for the four Good Conduct Marks that he received during the war. With the end of the war in 1856, John returned to England and joined the 5th Elthorne Militia until he requested his discharge on March 28, 1858. His discharge papers give his age as 41 with the required 21 years of service for a pensioner. He was 5 feet 10 inches tall with a "fresh complexion", light brown eyes, and a scar on his left leg. He served his country very well indeed. He died on 16 Jan 1886 in Hillingdon, Middlesex, England.[883] At some point after his discharge from the military in 1858, John purchased a pub in the nearby village of Ealing known as The Cricketer's Arms. He managed this pub until his death in 1886.

John (Brazebridge) Bracebridge and Mary Baker were married on 31 Mar 1845 in White Chapel, Middlesex, England.[884] Mary Baker (daughter of Richard Baker) was born about 1827 in England. John (Brazebridge)

Hill, Wayne, Pennsylvania. He served in the military about 1862 in Civil War. Pennsylvania Volunteers, Company A, 56th Regiment, 9th Corp Army of the Potomac. Moses kept a personal diary during his time in the war and the last entry that he made was on June 16th, 1864. Someone else entered his date of death on June 18th. Much of the earlier part of his diary has information about the weather, some of the drilling he had to do and when he was posted on sentry duty, plus a mention of the letters he received. But then by mid spring there was more about the fighting and the people who were killed. He describes each day where they marched and "Thursday, May 5, 1864 left Camp and went in to a fite in the Pine Woods and retreted and went in to another fite at night and laid in line of attak all night." "Sunday, May 8, 1864 went in to a fite about 10 o'clock and fought all day Lieut Miller of Co F wonder, lieut Michaels Misen".

From this point on he talks about fighting every day, sometimes very bloody. He mentions a night march to Spottsylvania Court House on May 14th and then they engaged the rebels the next day again. The army seems to have marched about the area and fought whenever the found the enemy. He also makes mention of Chancellorsville and finally the Wilderness which is where Moses was killed. He died on 18 Jun 1864 in The Wilderness, Virginia. Moses was killed during the Battle of the Wilderness. Apparently he was surprised while cooking a meal.

He graduated from Philadelphia College of Medicine about 1857 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania He died on 3 Oct 1891 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Charles Kingsbury was only eight years old when his mother married again and he lived on his step-father's farm in Guildhall, Vermont. He was a very studious man and at age sixteen he attended Wesleyan Academy in Wilbraham, Vermont and later Newbury Seminary, Vermont. During the winter of 1837-38 he taught school in East Windsor, Connecticut and later during the year 1838 he moved to Trenton, New Jersey intending to continue his teaching while attending college. Here he met Dr. Nathaniel Brown and began to study dentistry under him. The following year (1839) he gave up his teaching position and started a practice of dentistry. During this period Charles was credited as the first Dentist to use electric current to eliminate the pain of tooth ache. Early in 1841 he opened a practice in Bordentown, New Jersey and later that same year he moved his practice to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. By 1842 he had a thriving practice, but he apparently was not satisfied with his life.

Yielding to his strong religious convictions, he entered the Christian Ministry with the Methodist Church and was assigned a congregation in Haddonfield, New Jersey. However, he suffered from malaria and a lung disorder which forced him to leave the pulpit after three years and he moved to Mount Holly, New Jersey.

Charles resumed his dental practice in Mount Holly and began the study of medicine, graduating from the Philadelphia College of Medicine about 1857. Soon after his graduation he moved back to Philadelphia where he picked up his dental practice. By 1863 he was one of the founders of the Philadelphia Dental College and held the Chair of Dental Physiology and Operative Dentistry for several years. Dr. Kingsbury was also one of the founders of the American Dental Association. He was the president of the Dental graphic Society of Pennsylvania and an active member of the Pennsylvania Association of Surgeon Dentists.

In 1867 Dr. Kingsbury took a long vacation through Europe and was apparently sought after by several overseas to practice in their countries. He was the author of several essays and articles in various dental and medical periodicals. (Summary of an article in Stiles History of Ancient Windsor, II, 425-7).

6313. Henry Williams Kingsbery[978,979] (Charles-25, Charles-24, Sanford-23, Joseph-22, Joseph-21, Joseph-20, Henry-19, Henrie-18, James-17, James-16, John-15, John-14, -13, John de-12, William de-11, Unknown-10, William-9, John de-8, Ralph de-7, William de-6, Peter de-5, 1070-4, Ralf of-3, 1000-2, Ancient-1) was born on 24 Feb 1847 in Carrollton, Carroll, Georgia. He served in the military about 1861 in Civil War - CSA.[980] Henry enlisted in Beall's Rangers, Confederate Army, and their duties primarily involved the search for deserters, renegades, and other outlaws. Henry would later be transferred to the Cavalry under General Hood and was very near Savannah, Georgia during Sherman's march to the sea. They were prevented from engaging Sherman because most of the bridges were out. He died on 4 Jan 1929 in Santa Anna, Coleman, Texas. He was buried in Santa Anna Cemetery about 10 Jan 1929 in Santa Anna, Coleman, Texas. Biography written by his daughter, Merle Kingsbery Woodard:

After the war (Civil War) their slaves were freed and the plantation over-run and ruined, he clerked for a time in a store in La Grange, Georgia to help care for his mother and sisters and baby brother. At one time, he was in the feed and grain business at Leadville, Colorado for about a year. He wintered in Medina and Frio Counties in 1876-77, gathering cattle which he drove over the trail to Abilene, Kansas in 1877. After living in Bell County for a time, he moved to Coleman County (Texas) in 1882. He purchased the old Pfluger ranch and lived on it until he moved to Coleman where he was elected Sheriff and Tax Collector in 1892, which office he held for two years and was not a candidate for re-election. He moved to Santa Anna and was employed there until he bought a stock farm six miles south of that town to which he moved late in the summer of 1895. He was a devout member of the Methodist Church, a member of the Masonic Lodge, one of the organizers of the First National Bank of Santa Anna of which he was a director until his death. Mr. Kingsbery was one of the truly great men of Coleman County and was eminently successful in his business career. He thought more of others than of self and wherever his name was mentioned it was with the profoundest respect and admiration. He was not only religious, he was charitable and found happiness in helping to make others happy. His will, in his own handwriting, dated July 14, 1926 closed with: "To my children - if you love me, keep my commandments. First: Be kind, courteous and love your mother. See that she never needs anything. Second: Live in a life that is a credit to your selves, name and country. Third: Be charitable, ever remindful of the unfortunate and needy. Lovingly your father, H. W. Kingsbery."

H. W. Kingsberry, pioneer rancher and banker of Santa Anna and Coleman County, has been associated with the development of this section for upward of two score years, and the history of his life and Coleman County is closely interwoven. Mr. Kingsberry came to Texas in 1876, as the result of chance rather than definite planning. Early in that year, he had started to the World's Fair, then being held in Philadelphia, but a bad wreck interrupted his journey and he went to Kansas City instead. Here he met a group of cattlemen, and after listening to their talk about Texas and the opportunities the cattle business offered here, returned to Texas in their company, going to Dallas, where he attended the Dallas Fair. These men were Mr. Holmesty of Comanche County, and Messrs. Matthews and Johnson of Uvalde County. While in Dallas he met an old friend, W. B. Denson of Georgia, and the two decided to join forces and go in the cattle business. They bought a Studebaker Wagon and a team of horses and started for the frontier, going through San Antonio to Uvalde. Here they bought a herd of cattle, and in the Spring of 1877 started up the Old Trail with this herd, it being the third herd ever to go up the Nueces Canyon boner the trail to the North. They had bought supplies for the journey at San Antonio to last to Fort Mason, and on their arrival there the bought supplies to Fort Griffin, and from that point to Fort Dodge, Kansas, this being their destination. The drive up the trail required three months and ten days, and on the trip they encountered many Indians and buffalo. One herd of buffalo, which they found in the Panhandle, numbered about twenty-five thousand head, and was the last big herd ever to be seen in Texas. Mr. Kingsberry shot a few buffalo on the trip. At this time they ran into a camp of two thousand seven hundred Cheyenne and Sioux Indians being brought to the Indian Reservation after going on the War Path. The only guard they had were fourteen United States soldiers and fourteen Indian Police.

The herd of cattle taken up the trail at this time numbered about eighteen hundred head, and carried Mr. Kingsberry's old trail brand of "76 connected". In the several years just following, he made six other trips up the trail, this making seven in all, buying his cattle in Texas and selling them in the North. Upon his return from each trip, he would take a vacation in Colorado, and on one of these vacations met Buffalo Bill, this meeting taking place in Leadville. Later, Mr. Kingsberry was with Buffalo Bill in Colorado and Kansas, and counted him as one of his best friends. He was also a personal friend of Frank James, of Missouri, having met him in Kansas, he being a brother to Jesse James. During the early days Mr. Kingsberry spent three years at Leadville, Colorado, in the cattle business, and spent some time with the Indians. At that time U Ray was the chief of the tribe and Colorou was the head of the Indian War Council.

In 1883, shortly after his return from his seventh trip up the trail, Mr. Kingsberry settled in Coleman County, buying a herd of registered cattle in Bell County, which he drove to Coleman County to stock his ranch. He bought what had been the McCord and Lindsay place on Home Creek in 1885 about six miles south of Santa Anna in Coleman County. The original ranch was 452 acres, but eventually the ranch grew to upward of two thousand acres, in addition to the open range then available. In addition to the cattle, Mr. Kingsbery began breeding horses for the U. S. Army. He adopted as his ranch brand "300" on the left side, using this for many years. About 1893, the ranchmen began fencing, and in the next several years, Mr. Kingsberry was involved in several fence wars, which this step brought on. Two years later, in 1895, he bought his present ranch, the Kingsberry Ranch, a holding consisting of eighteen hundred acres of land, six hundred acres of which is now in cultivation. This ranch was for many years rated as one of the finest cattle ranches in Coleman County, but since Mr. Kingsberry retired from the cattle business in 1926, has been operated as a farm and is given over to the growing of cotton and feed. The property is now managed by Mr. Kingsberry's son, Howard Kingsberry. In recent years several oil wells have been drilled on the place, the first one, and also the first in the county, being drilled in 1914 to a depth of eleven hundred feet. Other wells have been drilled to fourteen hundred feet. Mr. Kingsberry also is a one-sixth owner of a large mountain of silica sand in Santa Anna, the tract comprising one hundred and thirty-two acres of land, producing a very fine grade of glass sand to a depth of thirty feet. He also is a director in the First National Bank of Santa Anna and holds other interests there.

H. W. Kingsberry was born near Atlanta, Georgia in Carroll County, in February, 1847, a son of Charles Kingsberry and Sarah (Williams) Kingsberry. Charles K. Kingsberry, a native of Derby, Vermont, came to Georgia in 1830, and was a merchant and Indian trader in gold and land for many years. His death occurred in Texas in 1867. Mrs. Kingsberry was a native of Tennessee, and also went to Georgia in 1830, that state being her home thereafter until her death. . . . . Upon his return from the war (Civil War), he began clerking in a mercantile store at La Grange, Georgia, where he remained for ten years. His father's death in 1867 had left him the support of his mother, five sisters and a young brother. In 1876 he left his home in Georgia, coming to Texas, as has been outlined in the early part of this sketch.

Mr. Kingsberry has been married twice, first in Georgetown, Texas on the twenty-second of November, 1892, to Miss Kallie Lane, a native of Georgetown, and a daughter of J. M. (J. S.) Lane, one of the founders of Georgetown University, and Audise Sophia Lane (Sophronia Audas Lane). Mr. and Mrs. Kingsberry had three children, Howard, Merle, and Carroll, all of whom are now married. After the death of his first wife, Mr. Kingsberry was married at Granbury, Texas, in 1901, to Miss Cora Berry, a daughter of H.A.P. Berry and Mary (Renfro) Berry, of Granbury, Texas.

Although Mr. Kingsberry has taken a leading part in the development of Coleman County, he has never been aggressive in civic work, his activities being of a practical nature. In the year 1892, he served as Sheriff and Tax Collector, under Judge J. O. Woodward. His support of law and order, both at that time, and as a private citizen has been far-reaching in effect and during the early years in particular, his advocacy of such measures did much to promote the development of the section. Mr. Kingsberry counts his friends by the hundreds, and few men are more highly esteemed, or more deserving of such esteem than this pioneer who has done so much for the advancement of his community. He belongs to the Blue Lodge at Santa Anna, having been a Mason for over thirty years.

Henry Williams Kingsbery and Kallie Tucker Lane were married on 22 Nov 1892 in Georgetown, Williamson, Texas. Kallie Tucker Lane (daughter of Rev. James Sterling Lane and Sophronia Jacob Audas) was born on 11 Feb 1870 in Tehuacana, Limestone, Texas. She died on 9 Sep 1899 in Cedartown, Polk, Georgia.
